West Virginia Situation Involved

Barron Files $400,000 Slander Suit Against Neely

By The Associated Press

West Virginia's political situation gets more and more involved as election day draws within sight.

Take Monday for example:

Harold E. Neely, Republican gubernatorial nominee, played for newsmen a tape recording which State Treasurer Orel Skeen had said in an affidavit contained a $65,000 offer by W. W. Barron to stay out of last May's Democratic primary for governor.

Barron, who defeated Skeen and Hulett C. Smith for the nomination, filed a $400,000 slander suit against Neely — $100,000 more than the suit he filed against Skeen as a result of the initial allegation.

It was the out-of-court settlement of the Barron - Skeen suit, with the terms not announced, which provided Neely with much of his campaign ammunition as of late.

Then, in an appearance together on television last night at Huntington (WHTN-TV), Neely said he would stop campaigning immediately if that would expedite settlement of the slander suit.

"I'll stop campaigning tomorrow if he (Barron) will agree if we can get this lawsuit settled in the public interest to see who is libeled — or who was lying," Neely said.

"I'd like to have it settled before Nov. 8," he added.

On the same subject, Barron told Neely:

"You said last week in Bluefield if I would answer a question, you'd be satisfied. I answered it fully. But you came back again. . .You plan to carry out a smear campaign."

Barron's reference was to a TV debate at Bluefield last Thursday at which he said "Skeen was lying" and that Skeen's charge was "a hoax."

Barron's suit against Neely, filed late in the afternoon in Kanawha Circuit Court, followed by a few hours Neely's release of the contents of the tape recording.

Barron said at a hastily-called news conference, "In the primary campaign, certain false and malicious charges were made against me. I was forced to go to court to clear my name. This led to my vindication.

". . .Today I am faced with the same situation. So I have instructed my attorney to file a $400,000 slander suit against Harold Neely, who today circulated the same malicious falsehoods through a rigged tape recording."

Neely had said at his news conference earlier in the day he felt he owed the people the responsibility for airing the tape recording.

Barron and Neely will face each other on television again Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. over WCHS-TV, Charleston.

Meanwhile, Gov. Underwood and his Democratic opponent for U.S. Senator, incumbent Jennings Randolph, are scheduled to appear tomorrow night at 10 o'clock on WJPB-TV, Weston.

Randolph and Underwood both are to speak tonight at a Charleston Chamber of Commerce dinner.

Underwood was to make helicopter stops today at Ronceverte, Lewisburg, Frankford, Renick, Hillsboro, Marlinton, Green Bank, Durbin, Franklin, Mouth - of - Seneca, Petersburg, Moorefield, Wardensville and Martinsburg.

Randolph, in a prepared talk at Elkins, called for vastly accelerated reforestation and recreational development in the existing national forest counties of eastern and north - central West Virginia.

He said one of his first steps, "after a new Democratic administration is elected, will be to call for a survey by the U.S. Forest Service to determine the feasibility of extending the Monongahela National Forest, or the creation of a new section across the south-central and southern counties."

Randolph said, "It would be useless to ask for such a survey under the present Republican national administration," which, he charged, "hasn't added a single acre to national forests."

Nixon Willing To Debate; Kennedy Steps Up Drive

Will Cross Continent In Final Week

Says Rival Reversed GOP's Policy On Social Security Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy spanned the continent today, opening an intensified drive that will carry him to 17 states in the final week of the presidential campaign.

Opening two days of campaigning here and in San Francisco Kennedy charged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon two days ago reversed the Republican policy of 25 years by advocating improvements in the Social Security system.

In remarks prepared for a clothing workers' rally here, the Democratic presidential candidate said, "Mr. Nixon has taken every program which he and his party have voted and fought against, and placed them in his position paper. But election week promises and November nostrums will not meet the urgent problems of our older citizens. They need leadership from the White House."

Kennedy made a point by point criticism of Nixon's recently issued "position paper" on Social Security.

He said "most amazing of all" in the Nixon paper was the statement, "We must make it possible for our senior citizens to receive adequate medical services."

Kennedy said, "This is the same Mr. Nixon who, only last spring, led the fight to defeat Democratic efforts to pass a sound program of medical aid financed through the Social Security system."

"I disagree with Mr. Nixon," Kennedy added. "For the problems of our older citizens will not be solved through position papers —through promises which the record shows are unmatched by the desire to act."

At a vociferous student rally at Temple University in Philadelphia Monday, Kennedy issued a scornful, taunting challenge to Nixon to bring President Eisenhower along to help him on a fifth television debate.

Monday night at a $100-a-plate party dinner at Philadelphia's cavernous Convention Hall which drew upwards of 10,000 highly enthusiastic partisans, Kennedy delivered a nationally televised affirmation of the kind of future he believes he can lead the nation into if he is elected.

Raps Foe's Comment As 'Juvenile'

'Glad To Meet Him And Whole Family,' Republican Says

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) —Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he is willing to take on the whole family of Sen. John F. Kennedy, his Democratic opponent, in a national television debate.

In a foray into New Jersey on a rain-sodden Halloween night Nixon told an open air crowd of 15,000 persons at Ridgewood Monday night his rival was making a "juvenile schoolboy comment" in saying he would be glad to have Nixon bring President Eisenhower along with him if a fifth television debate could be arranged.

"I'll be glad to debate him and his whole family anytime," Nixon said, "but what I think the country really needs is a debate between Jack and Lyndon — let's see where they stand."

This allusion to the Democratic vice presidential nominee, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, was made as Nixon's own running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, sat beside him on the platform.

Presumably Nixon's challenge would include the Democratic nominee's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, wealthy former ambassador who has tried to keep out of the campaign, as well as Kennedy's brothers who are active in it.

Nixon aimed increasingly sharper shafts at his opponent as he swung into the final week of campaigning with scheduled appearances today at Lancaster and Erie in Pennsylvania and Syracuse and Rochester in New York.

The vice president said Kennedy shows such an "ignorance of simple economics that he disqualifies himself to be president."

Nixon issued a statement in which he said Kennedy in proposing $15 billion in additional yearly expenditures is promising to balance the budget and opposes higher taxes. He said his rival has "made so many promises to so many people they are colliding with each other."

"One thing is certain," Nixon said, "Sen. Kennedy has set a new all-time record for promises, promises all logic shows he could not keep."

Nixon issued a statement in Philadelphia, where he spent the night, calling for a doubling of the present authorization for admission of 154,000 immigrants yearly.

He proposed that largely unused quotas such as that for Great Britain be distributed to other countries and called for special treatment of relatives of Americans.

In his campaign swing, Nixon aimed at tying Kennedy to the administration of former President Harry S. Truman.

There were cries of "pour it on" from a crowd which failed to fill the 6,000-seat armory in Newark, N.J., when Nixon said Kennedy offers nothing new beyond Truman's proposals.

"There has never in the history of this country been an administration whose foreign policies were more disastrous to the cause of freedom than Harry Truman's administration," Nixon said.

Nixon said it was inconsistent for Kennedy to talk about new frontiers if he is "willing to surrender to the frontiers of freedom that already exist around the world," as he said his rival seemed to propose in the matter of Quemoy and Matsu.

Salem Driver Killed When Car Hits Truck

Auto Careens, Skids Into Vehicle's Path In Route 14 Mishap

County's 1960 Traffic Toll

21 Killed

This date in 1959—25 Killed!

'DON'T DRIVE LIKE 60'

A 19-year-old Salem area youth was killed when his careening car skidded into the path of a truck on Route 14 about a mile east of Washingtonville Tuesday afternoon, injuring the truck driver.

Donald Lee Lippiatt of Salem R. D. 5 died of fractures of the chest, legs, back and multiple internal injuries when his 1960 coach was slammed in the side by the truck driven by Albert E. Blosser, 31, of Columbiana R. D. 2.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mr. Lippiatt, headed west, passed another vehicle then lost control and struggled to return to the west lane.

The auto went off onto the north berm, then sliced diagonally across the roadway into the path of the approaching truck which struck the car sideways.

Blosser, who suffered possible chest injuries, was treated at Salem City Hospital and released.

This was the 21st traffic fatality in Columbiana County in 1960, compared to 25 this time last year. Dr. William Koloszi of Salem, coroner, ruled the death accidental.

The mishap occurred about 1.4 miles east of Washingtonville at 3:50, the patrol said. The left sides of the truck and car were heavily damaged, officers added.

Mr. Lippiatt, a 1959 graduate of Greenford High School, was an assembler at the National Rubber Machinery Co. at Columbiana.

He was born at Salem July 10, 1941, a son of Roy and Eleanor Headland Lippiatt.

Besides his parents, he leaves two brothers, Roger Lippiatt and Larry Lippiat at home, and his grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Clepper of Salem R. D. 5.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home at Salem. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery at Salem.

Friends may call Wednesday night at the funeral home.

Chester Man Hurt When Hit By Auto

A 52-year-old Chester potter is in "poor" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car on Carolina Ave., Chester, Monday night at 6:40.

John Snider of Little, W. Va., employed at the Harker Pottery Co., received a deep laceration of the scalp and injuries of the right hip and leg when hit by an auto driven by William Kozel Jr., 23, of Lisbon St., Ext. East Liverpool, authorities said.

Midland Goes Over Top For Welfare Fund

The Midland Area United Fund campaign is the first in Beaver County to go over its goal and has $39,164 in donations and pledges, Charles Schmitt, campaign chairman, announced today.

Schmitt made a report on the campaign at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Midland Area Combined Charities Monday evening in Midland Lincoln High School.

He said that $40,000 is anticipated by the final report meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. in the high school. The area's goal is $37,973 and funds will benefit some 23 Beaver County and 2 local area welfare agencies.

Though the goal has been exceeded the campaign is not completed, he said.

At the meeting Thursday for all workers and chairmen, outstanding workers and mill departments and other organizations which have given 100 per cent will be honored and presented "oscars" or United Fund trophies. There will be refreshments.

Guests expected to attend include George M. Burrier, manager of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., who is also general campaign chairman of the county United Fund campaign, and members of the Midland Area Charities Board and that of the Crucible Combined Charities Board.

Absentee Vote To Set Record

Total Rises To 1,463 After Rush Monday

Civilian absentee voting for next Tuesday's general election apparently is headed for a new record in Columbiana County, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, commented today after 100 voted the "early ballots" in a growing rush Monday.

The total of ballots issued to date stands at 1,463, including 1,045 civilian absentees; 388 issued to service personnel and civilians residing temporarily outside the U. S. and 13 given new Ohio residents qualified to vote only for President and vice president.

O'Hanlon pointed out the board issued greater numbers of absentee ballots during World War II days, but most of them went to service personnel. The demand reached its peak for the Presidential election in 1944.

The so-called soldiers' ballots have been available since Jan. 1. Issuance of civilian absentee ballots began on Oct. 10.

Civilian absentee ballots are issued to persons who will be outside Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from their home precinct on election day. Disabled voters' ballots are issued to persons unable to get to the polls because of illness or infirmity.

The deadline for issuance of the civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots is Thursday at 4 p. m. To be counted at the polls Tuesday, they must be back in the board's hands by noon Friday.

Over-Loaded Boat Cited In River Deaths

5 Drowned, 2 Saved In Tragedy Near Rowlesburg, W. Va.

ROWLESBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Too many men in the boat and heavy clothing were given today as contributing factors in the swamping of a 14-foot outboard motorboat yesterday, claiming five lives. Two men survived.

State Trooper A. J. Wade said all seven of the lumbermen were wearing overalls on top of their clothes and leather boots. One man was carrying heavy tools, the officer learned.

The seven, employes of the Interstate Lumber Co. at nearby Hannahsville, had quit work early —at mid-afternoon—because rain had hindered their timber-cutting operations at the sawmill.

Two of them started out in the aluminum boat across swift Cheat River to the opposite side, where they had parked their cars on W. Va. 72. Five men at the sawmill yelled, asking that they be taken across, too.

The seven — two seated at the front and back, with three on the middle seat — started out. About halfway, the front of the boat hit a wave and dipped under the water. Although it took in water, the boat did not sink.

Danny Richard Uphold, 22, of Friendsville, Md., jumped into the river and swam to shore. Martin Gump, 29, of Rowlesburg, gripped the side of the boat and waited until someone from shore tossed him a rope.

The five who drowned were:

Clarence Arthur Uphold, 60, of Friendsville, an uncle of Danny, Floyd Ray Frazee, 26, of Crellin, Md.; Vernon Groover, 39, of Rt. 1, Rowlesburg; Kenneth Cassidy of Redhouse, Md., and Cassidy's brother, Gerald, also of Redhouse.

The two survivors were treated at a hospital and released.

City Youth Shot In Leg In Hunting Accident

A city youth is in "fair" condition today in City Hospital with a wound of the right leg received when a companion's shotgun discharged accidentally while they were hunting Monday morning.

The volley from a .12-gauge gun struck William Way, 17, of 506 E. 5th St. in the rear of the right leg.

The gun was carried by William Plumm, 17, of Henry Ave., and discharged as the youths were walking through heavy brush, Hancock County authorities said.

They were hunting squirrels in woods behind Newell when the accident occurred about 11:30. Sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Spooks Go For Treats After Showers End

The weatherman finally relented and allowed Halloween celebrants to take off their raincoats and put on bedsheets for the traditional shenanigans Monday night.

Harry Springer, lockmaster at Dam 8 at Newell, said the rain ended about 7:30 after almost continuous showers from shortly after noon. The precipitation totaled 0.48 inch.

Soviet News Agency Says U.S. Spy Held

Announcement Made 5 Days After Red Spy At U.N. Nabbed

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said today an "American spy" named Mikhail Platovsky has been arrested in the Soviet Union.

The Tass account, which also was carried by Moscow radio, said Platovsky — alias Andrei Kreps and Pyotr Sosnovsky — was smuggled into the Soviet Union with another alleged spy named V. M. Slovnov.

No mention was made of Platovsky's nationality and, beyond saying he was trained in West Germany, Tass gave no further identifying data.

The announcement came five days after the arrest in New York of Igor Y. Melekh, 47, chief of the Soviet section of U. N. document translations, on a charge of espionage. Arrested with Melekh by the FBI was Willie Hirsch, 52, a German medical illustrator.

"Platovsky was instructed by the American intelligence service to take up residence in Minsk and start collecting secret information," the Tass announcement said.

Ike May Talk In Pittsburgh And Cleveland

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower probably will speak in Cleveland and Pittsburgh Friday or Saturday as part of his final drive to help Vice President Richard M. Nixon win the election.

The drive also includes a television discussion of fiscal policy tonight, a joint appearance with Nixon at a big New York rally Wednesday night, and a radio-television talk to the nation next Monday night—election eve.

The possibility of speeches in Cleveland and Pittsburgh were reported by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, after Nixon and other Republican strategists talked with Eisenhower Monday.

In his television appearance tonight, Eisenhower will discuss the fiscal situation with Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson. The taped half-hour show will be carried by the CBS network at 8 p.m., EST and again at 8 p.m. PST for Pacific Coast viewers.

Victor In Ohio Likely To Win As President

Once This Century, In 1944, State Has 'Missed The Boat'

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP) —History indicates the presidential candidate who sells himself to Ohio probably will be the next occupant of the White House.

Only once in this century — in 1944—has Ohio missed the boat on the presidency.

With that one exception in the last 15 presidential elections, Ohio voters have cut through the welter of state and local candidates and issues and cast the Buckeye State's substantial electoral vote for the national winner.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican standard-bearer, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, have campaigned often and hard in Ohio.

Both have been received enthusiastically by record crowds.

Both Republicans and Democratic leaders show calm confidence, at least on the surface, that Ohio's 25 electoral votes will wind up on their side. Those 25 votes represent nearly 10 per cent of the 269 total needed to win.

This year's presidential race in Ohio is different from any in the memory of anyone now living. It will provide a classic test of national candidates and issues alone because it is uncluttered by state contests.

Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman is claiming the state for Kennedy by about 250,000 votes "if the election were being held today, and barring a national emergency."

Runaway Car Strikes Home

Parked Auto Drifts, Then Rams Porch

The porch of a Minerva St. home received extensive damage late Monday morning when a runaway car smashed into it and also damaged the hedge at an adjoining home, police reported.

Police said the porch, steps and hedge at the home of Elmer King, 720 Minerva St., and the hedge and yard of his neighbor, John L. Keenan, 716 Minerva St., were damaged when the car of Paul H. Allison, 1015 Huston Ave., drifted from its parking place.

Allison told police he parked his car in front of the home of Richard W. Allison, 742 Minerva St., when it broke loose and crossed Riverview St. before striking the porch at the King home.

Officers said the left front and rear fenders, front bumper and undercarriage of Allison's 1955 sedan were damaged.

Robert J. Davis, 22, of Dresden Ave. Ext. was cited on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way after another collision Monday afternoon. He is due for a Municipal Court hearing Dec. 1.

Police said Davis' eastbound car and a 1954 sedan operated by James R. Reed, 23, of 133 Indiana Ave., Chester, collided at the intersection of Monroe St. and W. Drury Ln. yesterday afternoon.

Weirton Man's Arm Shattered In Gun Blast

WEIRTON — A 53-year-old Weirton man's left arm was shattered with a shotgun blast Monday by a woman in a community near Washington, Pa.

Pennsylvania State Police said Myrtle North, 33, of Hendersonville fired a single blast from a 12-gauge shotgun which severed the arm of Heyward Lyles.

Lyles is reported in "satisfactory" condition at the Canonsburg Hospital. Officers said the forearm was shattered so badly it may have to be amputated above the elbow.

State police said that the woman had warned Lyles not to bother her. She said he broke into her home and that she warned him, "Don't you come any closer," before she shot.

The woman is being held in the Washington County jail pending the outcome of Lyles' injury.

Donald Lee Lippiatt of Salem R. D. 5 died of fractures of the chest, legs, back and multiple internal injuries when his 1960 coach was slammed in the side by the truck driven by Albert E. Blosser, 31, of Columbiana R. D. 2.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mr. Lippiatt, headed west, passed another vehicle then lost control and struggled to return to the west lane.

The auto went off onto the north berm, then sliced diagonally across the roadway into the path of the approaching truck which struck the car sideways.

Blosser, who suffered possible chest injuries, was treated at Salem City Hospital and released.

This was the 21st traffic fatality in Columbiana County in 1960, compared to 25 this time last year. Dr. William Koloszi of Salem, coroner, ruled the death accidental.

The mishap occurred about 1.4 miles east of Washingtonville at 3:50, the patrol said. The left sides of the truck and car were heavily damaged, officers added.

Mr. Lippiatt, a 1959 graduate of Greenford High School, was an assembler at the National Rubber Machinery Co. at Columbiana.

He was born at Salem July 10, 1941, a son of Roy and Eleanor Headland Lippiatt.

Besides his parents, he leaves two brothers, Roger Lippiatt and Larry Lippiat at home, and his grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Clepper of Salem R. D. 5.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home at Salem. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery at Salem.

Friends may call Wednesday night at the funeral home.

Chester Man Hurt When Hit By Auto

A 52-year-old Chester potter is in "poor" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car on Carolina Ave., Chester, Monday night at 6:40.

John Snider of Little, W. Va., employed at the Harker Pottery Co., received a deep laceration of the scalp and injuries of the right hip and leg when hit by an auto driven by William Kozel Jr., 23, of Lisbon St., Ext. East Liverpool, authorities said.

Kozel told Police Chief Harold

Midland Goes Over Top For Welfare Fund

The Midland Area United Fund campaign is the first in Beaver County to go over its goal and has $39,164 in donations and pledges, Charles Schmitt, campaign chairman, announced today.

Schmitt made a report on the campaign at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Midland Area Combined Charities Monday evening in Midland Lincoln High School.

He said that $40,000 is anticipated by the final report meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. in the high school. The area's goal is $37,973 and funds will benefit some 23 Beaver County and 2 local area welfare agencies.

Though the goal has been exceeded the campaign is not completed, he said.

At the meeting Thursday for all workers and chairmen, outstanding workers and mill departments and other organizations which have given 100 per cent will be honored and presented "oscars" or United Fund trophies. There will be refreshments.

Guests expected to attend include George M. Burrier, manager of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., who is also general campaign chairman of the county United Fund campaign, and members of the Midland Area Charities Board and that of the Crucible Combined Charities Board.

Absentee Vote To Set Record

Total Rises To 1,463 After Rush Monday

Civilian absentee voting for next Tuesday's general election apparently is headed for a new record in Columbiana County, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, commented today after 100 voted the "early ballots" in a growing rush Monday.

The total of ballots issued to date stands at 1,463, including 1,045 civilian absentees; 388 issued to service personnel and civilians residing temporarily outside the U. S. and 13 given new Ohio residents qualified to vote only for President and vice president.

O'Hanlon pointed out the board issued greater numbers of absentee ballots during World War II days, but most of them went to service personnel. The demand reached its peak for the Presidential election in 1944.

The so-called soldiers' ballots have been available since Jan. 1. Issuance of civilian absentee ballots began on Oct. 10.

Civilian absentee ballots are issued to persons who will be outside Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from their home precinct on election day. Disabled voters' ballots are issued to persons unable to get to the polls because of illness or infirmity.

The deadline for issuance of the civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots is Thursday at 4 p. m. To be counted at the polls Tuesday, they must be back in the board's hands by noon Friday.

Over-Loaded Boat Cited In River Deaths

5 Drowned, 2 Saved In Tragedy Near Rowlesburg, W. Va.

ROWLESBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Too many men in the boat and heavy clothing were given today as contributing factors in the swamping of a 14-foot outboard motorboat yesterday, claiming five lives. Two men survived.

State Trooper A. J. Wade said all seven of the lumbermen were wearing overalls on top of their clothes and leather boots. One man was carrying heavy tools, the officer learned.

The seven, employes of the Interstate Lumber Co. at nearby Hannahsville, had quit work early —at mid-afternoon—because rain had hindered their timber-cutting operations at the sawmill.

Two of them started out in the aluminum boat across swift Cheat River to the opposite side, where they had parked their cars on W. Va. 72. Five men at the sawmill yelled, asking that they be taken across, too.

The seven — two seated at the front and back, with three on the middle seat — started out. About halfway, the front of the boat hit a wave and dipped under the water. Although it took in water, the boat did not sink.

Danny Richard Uphold, 22, of Friendsville, Md., jumped into the river and swam to shore. Martin Gump, 29, of Rowlesburg, gripped the side of the boat and waited until someone from shore tossed him a rope.

The five who drowned were:

Clarence Arthur Uphold, 60, of Friendsville, an uncle of Danny, Floyd Ray Frazee, 26, of Crellin, Md.; Vernon Groover, 39, of Rt. 1, Rowlesburg; Kenneth Cassidy of Redhouse, Md., and Cassidy's brother, Gerald, also of Redhouse.

The two survivors were treated at a hospital and released.

City Youth Shot In Leg In Hunting Accident

A city youth is in "fair" condition today in City Hospital with a wound of the right leg received when a companion's shotgun discharged accidentally while they were hunting Monday morning.

The volley from a .12-gauge gun struck William Way, 17, of 506 E. 5th St. in the rear of the right leg.

The gun was carried by William Plumm, 17, of Henry Ave., and discharged as the youths were walking through heavy brush, Hancock County authorities said.

They were hunting squirrels in woods behind Newell when the accident occurred about 11:30. Sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Spooks Go For Treats After Showers End

The weatherman finally relented and allowed Halloween celebrants to take off their raincoats and put on bedsheets for the traditional shenanigans Monday night.

Harry Springer, lockmaster at Dam 8 at Newell, said the rain ended about 7:30 after almost continuous showers from shortly after noon. The precipitation totaled 0.48 inch.

Soviet News Agency Says U.S. Spy Held

Announcement Made 5 Days After Red Spy At U.N. Nabbed

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said today an "American spy" named Mikhail Platovsky has been arrested in the Soviet Union.

The Tass account, which also was carried by Moscow radio, said Platovsky — alias Andrei Kreps and Pyotr Sosnovsky — was smuggled into the Soviet Union with another alleged spy named V. M. Slovnov.

No mention was made of Platovsky's nationality and, beyond saying he was trained in West Germany, Tass gave no further identifying data.

The announcement came five days after the arrest in New York of Igor Y. Melekh, 47, chief of the Soviet section of U. N. document translations, on a charge of espionage. Arrested with Melekh by the FBI was Willie Hirsch, 52, a German medical illustrator.

"Platovsky was instructed by the American intelligence service to take up residence in Minsk and start collecting secret information," the Tass announcement said.

Ike May Talk In Pittsburgh And Cleveland

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower probably will speak in Cleveland and Pittsburgh Friday or Saturday as part of his final drive to help Vice President Richard M. Nixon win the election.

The drive also includes a television discussion of fiscal policy tonight, a joint appearance with Nixon at a big New York rally Wednesday night, and a radio-television talk to the nation next Monday night—election eve.

The possibility of speeches in Cleveland and Pittsburgh were reported by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, after Nixon and other Republican strategists talked with Eisenhower Monday.

In his television appearance tonight, Eisenhower will discuss the fiscal situation with Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson. The taped half-hour show will be carried by the CBS network at 8 p.m., EST and again at 8 p.m. PST for Pacific Coast viewers.

Runaway Car Strikes Home

Parked Auto Drifts, Then Rams Porch

The porch of a Minerva St. home received extensive damage late Monday morning when a runaway car smashed into it and also damaged the hedge at an adjoining home, police reported.

Police said the porch, steps and hedge at the home of Elmer King, 720 Minerva St., and the hedge and yard of his neighbor, John L. Keenan, 716 Minerva St., were damaged when the car of Paul H. Allison, 1015 Huston Ave., drifted from its parking place.

Allison told police he parked his car in front of the home of Richard W. Allison, 742 Minerva St., when it broke loose and crossed Riverview St. before striking the porch at the King home.

Officers said the left front and rear fenders, front bumper and undercarriage of Allison's 1955 sedan were damaged.

Robert J. Davis, 22, of Dresden Ave. Ext. was cited on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way after another collision Monday afternoon. He is due for a Municipal Court hearing Dec. 1.

Police said Davis' eastbound car and a 1954 sedan operated by James R. Reed, 23, of 133 Indiana Ave., Chester, collided at the intersection of Monroe St. and W. Drury Ln. yesterday afternoon.

Victor In Ohio Likely To Win As President

Once This Century, In 1944, State Has 'Missed The Boat'

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP) —History indicates the presidential candidate who sells himself to Ohio probably will be the next occupant of the White House.

Only once in this century — in 1944—has Ohio missed the boat on the presidency.

With that one exception in the last 15 presidential elections, Ohio voters have cut through the welter of state and local candidates and issues and cast the Buckeye State's substantial electoral vote for the national winner.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican standard-bearer, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, have campaigned often and hard in Ohio.

Both have been received enthusiastically by record crowds.

Both Republicans and Democratic leaders show calm confidence, at least on the surface, that Ohio's 25 electoral votes will wind up on their side. Those 25 votes represent nearly 10 per cent of the 269 total needed to win.

This year's presidential race in Ohio is different from any in the memory of anyone now living. It will provide a classic test of national candidates and issues alone because it is uncluttered by state contests.

Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman is claiming the state for Kennedy by about 250,000 votes "if the election were being held today, and barring a national emergency."

Weirton Man's Arm Shattered In Gun Blast

Pennsylvania State Police said Myrtle North, 33, of Hendersonville fired a single blast from a 12-gauge shotgun which severed the arm of Heyward Lyles.

Lyles is reported in "satisfactory" condition at the Canonsburg Hospital. Officers said the forearm was shattered so badly it may have to be amputated above the elbow.

State police said that the woman had warned Lyles not to bother her. She said he broke into her home and that she warned him, "Don't you come any closer," before she shot.

The woman is being held in the Washington County jail pending the outcome of Lyles' injury.

Hemorrhage Fatal At 86

Ex-Montgomery Ward Co. Head, S. L. Avery, Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Sewell Lee Avery, 86, a strong-willed big businessman who ultimately took on the U.S. Army, died Monday.

Avery, who was Montgomery Ward & Co. chairman from 1931 to 1955, died in his apartment on fashionable Lake Shore Drive of a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been ill for a year.

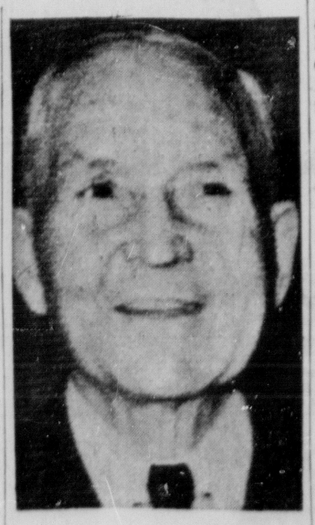

In financial circles, Avery was a legend.

Brilliant and tough, he was almost phenomenally successful from the day in 1894 when he graduated from University of Michigan Law School.

As Montgomery Ward's chief executive he fought spectacular battles against the federal government in 1944 and financier Louis E. Wolfson in 1955.

In 1944, Avery defied the War Labor Board's intervention in a

Yule Dance Discussed For Chester Students

Plans for a formal Christmas dance were discussed by the Chester High School Student Council at a meeting Monday at the school.

The dance, with the theme "Frosty Frolic," will be held during the third week of December. Ed Jordan, president, reported the council had been commended for the homecoming celebration and dance.

Lodge Says U.S. Should Increase Fund Aid To U.N.

SUFFERN, N.Y. (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge said today the United States should immediately increase its financial aid to United Nations technical assistance programs "as a means of leading the nations of the world into a more effective partnership."

The Republican candidate for vice president said in a foreign policy statement that such multilateral programs of assistance to under-developed nations were "a means of getting greater value from our mutual security dollars."

Lodge, a former ambassador to the United Nations, said that every two dollars contributed by the United States to multilateral funds induced other donor nations to contribute three dollars for use in underdeveloped lands.

"Two-thirds of the world has an inadequate standard of life," Lodge said. "The needs of education, for medical progress and for capital development are enormous."

Lodge advocated that the United States contribute $25 million in addition to the $30 million already contributed in 1960.

The Republican vice-presidential nominee plans to spend the day touring Rockland and Westchester counties in pivotal New York State.

AMA President Says U.S. 'Land Of Hypochondriacs'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association says the people of this country "have become obsessed with health" to the point where "we have become a land of hypochondriacs" — imagining ailments that don't exist.

"You will not find good health in a salesman's bag of pills," adds Dr. E. Vincent Askey of Los Angeles.

"You won't find it in food supplements.

"You won't find it in unnecessary vitamins . . .

"You won't bask in the sunshine of radiant health by dutifully swallowing yogurt-and-alfalfa diets.

"Nor will wheat germs or cod liver oil relieve your arthritis, rheumatism or ingrown toenails.

"Good health is really quite cheap," Dr. Askey told the Columbus Rotary Club Monday. "It is not found in bottles, boxes, organic fields, health food shops or health clubs.

"It can be had through a well-balanced diet, sufficient exercise and moderate living."

Yet, he added, "Americans spend billions of dollars each year for self-medication—most of which is unnecessary, costly and sometimes dangerous to their health."

He believes that "the so-called high cost of medical care would be considerably less impressive if Americans would stop squandering their money" on non-prescription or over-the-counter drug products — "virtually all of which bring little or no health benefit." And "despite the excellent health we enjoy as a nation," Dr. Askey went on, "America is now afflicted with a new ailment—'vitamania.'

"Ingenious advertising, misleading claims and general fraudulence have helped cram Americans full of vitamins."

Not that there's anything wrong with vitamins, he said. "In fact, we couldn't live without them. What we object to is the manner in which they are sold and the false claims made for them."

He pointed out that the family doctor is the only person capable of diagnosing a serious ailment for which vitamins might be proscribed.

"The average American who enjoys reasonably good health . . . gets all the vitamins and minerals he needs from a well - balanced diet," Dr. Askey said.

City Resident Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Hattie O. Sallaz, 79, was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital at 6:45 p. m. Monday after being stricken suddenly at the home of her niece, Miss Helen Capehart, 221 W. 4th St., with whom she resided.

Mrs. Sallaz was born Feb. 9, 1881, in New Haven, W. Va., the daughter of the late James and Orilla Zerkle Capehart. She was a member of the United Brethren Church of New Haven and Pride of the Valley Council of the Daughters of America here.

The last in a family of nine children, her only survivors are nieces and nephews. Her husband, Benjamin H. Sallaz, died March 28, 1954.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by Dr. D. Finley Wood, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday night at the funeral home.

Floyd E. Walker

Floyd E. Walker, 358 Carolina Ave., Chester, a retired potter, died at 10 a. m. today at the Osteopathic Hospital following a brief illness. He was 80.

Mr. Walker had resided in Chester since June 7, 1932. He was a member of the Chester United Presbyterian Church. He retired four years ago as a mechanic at the Homer Laughlin China Co. His wife, Mrs. Ella J. Walker, died July 6, 1959.

Surviving are a son, Emery E. Walker of Chester and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. William L. Claghorn. Burial will be in the Ft. Steuben Burial Estates at Steubenville.

Friends may call any time Wednesday at the funeral home.

Mrs. Ethel Thornton

Funeral arrangements are incomplete for Mrs. Ethel Thornton, 307 Penn Ave., Midland, who died Monday at 6:30 a. m. at Rochester General Hospital.

A resident of Midland several years, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Calvin Morman of Midland, and other relatives in Morgantown, W. Va.

A Morgantown funeral home is arranging services.

Driver Obeys Signal, But Winds Up In Court

A Pittsburgh steel salesman who faced Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today on a charge of passing over a yellow line explained that he was arrested after obeying a hand signal from the driver of a slow-moving truck which he was following.

Glenn A. Hewitt told the court he was following a truck upgrade about 3 miles an hour on Route 30 last Friday when the trucker gave a hand signal for him to pass. When Hewitt pulled around the truck, he was cited by the State Highway Patrol, he told the court. The judge fined Hewitt $10 and costs, but suspended the fine on payment of the $6 costs.

Hancock PTA Gets Data On Available Scholarships

A report on scholarships available for Hancock County students interested in attending college was presented by Robert Lindsey of Chester, assistant superintendent of county schools, when the County Parent-Teacher Council met Monday night in Dunbar School in Weirton.

It was announced that the Weir High PTA will sponsor a "College Night" Nov. 17 at 7 in the school when county high school students and their parents may attend to confer with representatives of most West Virginia colleges and universities on phases of college training.

Lindsey emphasized that colleges are seeking high school graduates who are listed in the upper 10 per cent of their class, scholastically. There are four major types of college scholarships available—athletic, leadership, competitive and departmental—he said.

The council said additional information on scholarships is available at the Broadview School in the office of William Deel, county guidance director.

Supt. Robert H. Hall discussed the proposed building and hot lunch program for the county system. He pointed out taxpayers may initiate a hot lunch program in the schools if they choose, but added it is his personal opinion that a stronger education program is more vital at present. Lack of adequate classroom space is one of the first problems to be considered, he said.

Reports were given by Mrs. John Stankiewicz, pre-school chairman, and Mrs. Charles French, membership chairman. Only the Fort Jefferson Unit has a 100 per cent membership, he said.

Harold Proudfoot, legislation chairman, said prepared question-and-answer forms had been received from candidates for county assessor.

A film, "Human Growth," was screened by Mrs. Charlotte Logston, county school health nurse. The movie will be screened in local schools.

All of the 14 PTA units in the county were represented at the meeting. The next is Nov. 29 at 7:30 in the Liberty School. Mrs. Anthony Dibart of Weirton, president, presided.

Court To Hear Shooting Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertofff today set a preliminary hearing Nov. 15 at 10 a. m. in the case of a local man charged with assault with a deadly weapon that dates back to May 8.

The defendant is Robert Salsberry, 34, of 208 W. 7th St., who was charged as the result of a struggle over a gun in which both he and a Travelers Hotel clerk were wounded. Also shot was Albert Barnes, 65, of 506 Sugar St., the hotel employe.

The case has been set for hearing on at least 3 previous occasions, including June 6, June 27 and July 29, but was postponed on the grounds Barnes had not recovered sufficiently from his injuries to testify. Salsberry has been free on a $3,000 property bond.

At the time of the shooting, the clerk told police he produced a gun in an effort to cow Salsberry after the defendant had been asked to leave the hotel because of a disturbance. Then there was a struggle over the revolver in which Salsberry was shot in the groin and Barnes suffered a bullet wound of the left hand and other injuries.

Police Lt. Mike Winters Jr. filed the charges against Salsberry. Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville represents the defendant. A notice of the hearing date was mailed to him this morning.

Lisbon GOP To Meet

LISBON — The Mid-County Republican Club will meet Wednesday beginning at 8 in the Republican Headquarters. Candidates will be introduced and the nominating committee will list its slate of prospective officers for next year. Mrs. Joan Dixon is president.

'Spooks' Loot Several Cars

LISBON — A rash of lootings of cars parked at the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. on the Columbiana-Leetonia Rd. were reported Monday evening, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan. The thieves apparently capitalized on Halloween.

Mike Roman of Berlin Center, reported that tools, a gray blanket, a three-quarter length car coat and a gallon of anti-freeze, valued in all at $126.30, were taken from his car parked at the plant.

Robert McCleary of Rogers reported that a flashlight, key for the glove compartment, two boxes of .38 shells and pair of handcuffs were taken from his 1956 Buick. He listed the value at $23.90.

Robert Hahn of Lisbon said a flashlight and a 12-inch statue was taken from his car. He said the loss was $12.

Robert Keister of the LaCroft Rd. in Glenmoor said four hub caps were taken from his car and Bob Grimm of North Lima reported his initialed bowling ball and bag was taken from his car, listing the value at $40.

Deputies are investigating.

Parkers Get Warning On Blocking Of Alleys

Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver today issued a warning to drivers whose vehicles block traffic in alleys, particularly those in the business district.

The director said he has received complaints that both cars and trucks have been parked in restricted zones, blocking alley traffic. A majority of the complaints have come from Diamond Alley and Summit Ln., which run east and west off the Diamond, parallel with E. and W. 5th and 6th Sts.

Meters Due At Wellsville

Wellsville's new parking meters are scheduled for delivery Monday, according to Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson.

He said they were to have been delivered a week ago by Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Co. of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Robinson said it will take about a day to install the meter heads as the standards already are in.

The established meter zones are both sides of Main St. from 3rd to 7th Sts.; the north side of Main from 12th to 14th Sts.; the east side of 3rd St. from Broadway to Riverside Ave.; the west side of 3rd from Broadway to Main; both sides of 4th St. from Maple Alley to Riverside; both sides of 5th from Maple Alley to River Side; both sides of 6th from Maple Alley to Riverside; both sides of 13th St. from Center St. to Main.

Metered parking hours are 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Saturday.

Zones also have been created for commercial vehicles to load or unload. They are in effect from 8 a. m. to noon daily, except Sundays and holidays.

4-H News

A Halloween party was held Friday night by the Calcutta Golden Girls 4-H Club at the home of Mrs. Millan Jacob on Route 170.

Games were the diversion and refreshments were served.

Plans were discussed for a skating party this month but the date has not been selected.

Council Meeting Reset

NEW CUMBERLAND—A meeting of Town Council scheduled tonight has been postponed until Nov. 8 because three councilmen are working afternoon shifts. Mayor Albert Fuccy will preside.

County Gets Final Amount In Home Sale

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioner Monday received the last of four payments of $12,500 for the sale of the county's interest in the Fairmont Children's Home near Alliance.

The county's interest was sold to Stark County for $50,000, to be paid in four annual installments.

Deeds for the county's interest were signed and returned to Stark County after checking with Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

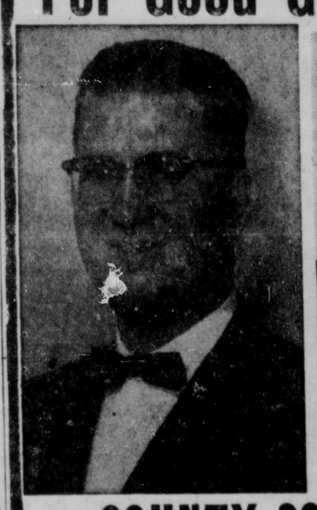

The money is kept in a separate fund but part of it was used for remodeling the L. M. Kyes Memorial Receiving Home in East Palestine. At present, $10,965.89 has been used from this fund.

Nixon vs. The Juggernaut

In the closing days of Richard Nixon's run for the presidency, his friends are facing up to a discouraging fact the candidate faced up to from the moment he was nominated last summer.

The political cards are stacked against a Republican candidate.

Republican registration is less than Democratic registration—less so than ever.

There is no bloc on the Republican side to offset the voting strength and money-muscle of AFL-CIO backing for the candidacy of Sen. Kennedy and nearly all other Democratic candidates.

The Republican party cannot count on carrying any of the country's large cities, due to the Democratic party's hold on the minority groups that dominate big-city politics. A Republican presidential candidate must pull enough votes in unbossed areas to balance his rival's lopsided majorities in all the bossed areas.

Under ordinary circumstances, no Republican presidential candidate can hope "to win big." Only a Dwight Eisenhower, running as a war hero at the head of the Republican party, can shake off the handicap of an underdog role.

VICE PRESIDENT NIXON knew and talked about these things last summer, but no one was listening, except other political realists, who knew what he was talking about.

He said it would be a nip-and-tuck campaign whose Election Day outcome would be determined by unforeseen events in the closing days.

He never talked as if he had the kind of a shoo-in assignment that his rival was sure he had, once he had nailed down the rebellious South with Sen. John's acceptance of the nomination for vice president.

Vice President Nixon always has known and said he was running for his political life in 1960.

He was up against long odds. He would have to take responsibility for every slur the Democratic campaigners would make against the Eisenhower administration, yet could not expect wholesale transfer of Dwight Eisenhower's popularity. He would have to run on his own—as a professional politician.

HE KNEW the trend would be against him as the representative of a party that had been in power two terms. But he thought he could buck the trend with his own hard work, extraordinary effort on the part of Republican workers and a little campaign luck in the closing days.

These are the closing days.

This is the last time around for the campaigners.

Whatever is going to happen that will prove decisive is going to happen before the polls open Nov. 8.

There is no secret about it among Richard Nixon's friends that he is not running in front. He's not outdistanced, but he is running second, where he figured he'd be running at this moment.

He has only one chance to win—the chance that gave Harry Truman a come-from-behind victory in 1948.

THE KENNEDY juggernaut can be swamped if all voters opposed to it show up at the polls. That is the only way they can rebuke the weirdly assorted supporters of the Kennedy candidacy — from capitalist-eating Reutherites in Michigan to Georgia Negro-haters who sentenced Rev. Martin Luther King to the chain gang for a traffic violation.

It's the only chance Richard Nixon has of winning.

The Democratic machine is rolling in high gear, just as he knew it would be when he drew the assignment of stopping it.

Cabot Lodge vs. The College

One of our readers who likes John Kennedy for president but is not strong for Lyndon Johnson as vice president called in the other day to make a suggestion.

She thought John Kennedy for president and Henry Cabot Lodge for vice president would be a sound idea. She wanted to know why this couldn't be done, and we muttered something about the electoral college.

Actually, we didn't know why it couldn't be done. Aside from the probability it won't be tried, we still don't know — and we've been reading and re-reading what the Constitution says about the electoral college.

Not everybody knows about the electoral college. Some Americans think they are voting for president and vice president when they mark their ballots. They aren't. They are voting for presidential electors — two per state plus the number of U.S. representatives, as assigned to the various states.

THE CONSTITUTION says electors shall meet in their respective states and ballot for president and vice president, sending the result in a sealed envelope to Washington, where all the ballots must be counted in the presence of the Senate and the House.

It says the person having the greatest number of votes of all the electors shall be president, then says the candidate for vice president having the greatest number of votes of all electors shall be vice president.

It gives no reason that there couldn't be a Kennedy-Lodge, or a Nixon-Johnson administration. Moreover — and this is one of the more curious things about this most curious way of choosing an administration — it gives no reason that there couldn't be a Joe Doakes-Joe Citizen administration. The only thing that binds electors to vote for party candidates is the honor system. The Constitution does not specify this at all.

The Founding Fathers never dreamed of mass voting, a two-party system, or a presidential ticket for president and vice president. They had in mind a nonpartisan government headed by a citizen chosen by presidential electors and backed up by whoever received the second largest number of votes as vice president.

Members of the electoral college were to be chosen in any manner the state legislatures thought would be proper.

For 28 years after George Washington was unwilling to run again in 1796, presidential candidates were chosen by congressional party caucuses. Everything about the way it is done today is custom, or unwritten law. The party system and party conventions have no legal basis.

THE LEGAL METHOD — the electoral college — is so fuddy-duddy it is a ritual without meaning. From the very beginning it was under criticism, and one of the delightful ironies of the 1960 campaign is the presence of Henry Cabot Lodge on the Republican ticket. He is one of its most penetrating critics.

When Ambassador Lodge was a member of the Senate, he was co-author of a sweeping reform for presidential elections — the "Lodge-Gossett amendment," which was discussed seriously and at length in 1949.

It would have eliminated electors, also the possibility of an election by Congress in event of a tie in the electoral college. States would have the same number of electoral votes that they have now, but these would be creditied to presidential and vice presidential candidates in proportion to the division of popular votes inside each state.

In case of a tie of electoral votes, the outcome then would be settled by popular votes.

The Lodge-Gossett amendment didn't get anywhere.

The presidential election is a game politicians play with electoral votes while voters are preoccupied with issues. Only the old hands in politics can master the electoral game; they will never vote to put themselves on the sidelines.

Under the Lodge-Gossett system, Republican votes in the Solid South would count for something that would be cataclysmic.

In a pivotal state like Ohio, whose 25 electoral votes may go to a candidate who has squeaked through with only a few thousand votes to spare, the losing candidate's votes would entitle him to a fair share of the state's electoral total. That is as revolutionary an idea as it would be to elect presidents and vice presidents by popular votes, or to decide presidential and vice presidential races in each congressional district, instead of by states. Both have been proposed.

WE ARE sure there will not be a Kennedy-Lodge or a Nixon-Johnson administration.

But due to the legal murk that hangs over the electoral college we can't be sure why we're sure.

It just isn't done that way, that's all.

Letter from a member of most any unit of the U.N. force in Congo:

Dear Mom: Well I am over here in the United Nations force to bring peace to the Congo but under orders not to disturb anybody. This is the most peaceful army ever dispatched under orders not to make any trouble in dealing with troublemakers.

Just a few weeks ago I didn't know where the Congo was. I asked Arthur Murray for instructions on account of I thought it was a dance line. If anybody mentioned Leopoldville, I would of thought it was in the Catskills.

It is a mess. The leaders on both sides take turns arresting each other and the general who gives orders Monday is out by Tuesday rehearsing to return on Wednesday.

It looks to me like this U.N. force is lost more than Dr. Livingstone ever was and I need at least a hundred Stanleys to find me and get me out of Africa.

I just read where there was a celebration here to mark the birthday of U.N., but a lot of the leaders and generals would not even bother to show up.

Life is one riot after another with nobody keeping score. My sarge tells me just to relax, keep neutral and concentrate on wishing I knew where I am and what for.

It says in the paper that at the U.N. birthday in New York they played Beethoven symphonies and Dag Hammarskjold expressed the hope his Ninth Symphony would serve as a U.N. creed. I still don't think Beethoven can get me out of this.

As far as music goes what I need is "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea," "What'll I do?" "Don't Fence Me In," "Look For The Silver Lining," "Oh Didn't He Ramble," "The Trouble I've Seen" and "Where Do We Go From Here?"

All my love. Joe.

THERE'S A NEW NOVEL called "Fiddle Hill." If the movies get it, Jack Benny will star.

Those campaign debates are being conducted to help public decide which candidate is farthest wrong.

Nelson Rockefeller and Henry Lodge have been eating bagels, lox and knishes during the campaign. Evidently they think the delicatessen vote is pretty important.

Whistle Stop Merry-Go-Round

Candidates For Top Labor Post

By Victor Riesel

An acid squirting syringe propelled a young naval reserve officer deep into the Kennedy inner circle not too long ago — and probably into the highest national political echelons of the onrushing '60s. He is 42-year-old former rocket craft commander Frank Thompson, congressman from New Jersey, one of the operational chiefs of Jack Kennedy's basic coast-to-coast organization—and frequently mentioned in the sanctum as the next secretary of labor of the United States. That is, if the Democrats win.

Victor Riesel

It was on the morning of Aug. 18 last year that Rep. Thompson, Jr., veteran of the Iwo Jima and Okinawa invasions, was driving to his House Office Building headquarters.

He stopped for a light, musing a bit over the writing of an anti-rackets law. A small panel truck came to a short stop alongside.

THE DRIVER pumped sulphuric acid from a syringe at Thompson's auto. The liquid missed him. It disintegrated the paint right off the side of the car.

FBI agents were notified. Thompson, a member of the House Labor Committee, talked frequently with Bob and Jack Kennedy. Eventually the law was written.

Thompson flicked the hood's attack out of his memory as coolly as he'd flip ashes off a cigarette.

Months later, when the Kennedys wanted an executive officer to pull together their national registration drive, they asked the Jersey congressman. He took the chairmanship and coordinated it while Roy Reuther handled the labor movement's part of the campaign. They worked well together.

However, the word is that Thompson won't get the first bid for the Cabinet post. If Jack Kennedy is elected, he'll consult with Mr. Labor, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO. This was pledged months ago.

Kennedy would have done so automatically. There is tradition for it. Dwight D. Eisenhower did exactly that in 1952. Labor wanted Martin Durkin, then president of the plumbers. Labor got him.

THOSE INSIDE labor expect Meany to suggest one of the hardest working Democrats in the land —Joseph D. Keenan, secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Laconic Joe Keenan has been in the government before — oddly enough working not only for Democratic presidents almost on Cabinet level but for wartime Gen. Eisenhower, too.

That was as chief of the Manpower Division, Allied Control Commission for Germany. There were other high wartime posts for Keenan who comes out of Chicago.

If he wants the secretary of labor spot, he'll get it. A victorious Jack Kennedy would then be expected to push Frank Thompson for the governorship of New Jersey and later the Senate.

If Vice President Nixon wins, he'll not retain Labor Secretary Jim Mitchell. These are those high in Nixon's camp who believe Mitchell wrongly advised the Republican leader.

THIS RIFT between the candidate and the labor secretary spring from the fact that the Cabinet official gave labor what it wanted for seven years. Then labor's leaders gave Nixon the worst clobbering since Grover Cleveland's private life became the juiciest campaign indelicacies in history.

Nixon has been jabbed even by steel workers leader David McDonald, who said in the summer of '59 he'd support the vice president. And early last summer the nation's labor leaders threw Jim Mitchell a banquet. The President came and heard Mitchell called "the best labor secretary" they've had.

So Nixon is looking for a neutral. The leading candidate for the spot is Under Secretary of Labor James T. O'Connell. Nixon has told intimates that he has tried to prove he doesn't "have horns, but what's the use."

Whoever gets the Cabinet post, I believe, gets one of the government's most powerful offices. The new labor law has made it second only to the attorney general on the domestic front.

The Dollars And The Men

By Raymond Moley

Many thoughtful observers of free institutions, such as we have, have wondered whether in a search for more and more democracy we have not put an unbearable burden on the citizen.

That illustrious philosopher, George Santayana, commented that the "common citizen must be something of a saint and something of a hero."

Never have we seen such a culmination of that citizen's burden as in this campaign.

To understand and cast a vote intelligently, he must not only be a "saint" and a "hero," but a seer, a psychologist, a soldier, an accountant, an economoist, a historian, and a lawyer.

Where does that average citizen stand at this stage in the campaign?

He stands like a traveler buried in the snow, buffeted on all sides by statements, statistics, quotes. He must be benumbed, confused, lost.

Consider the complexity and number of the issues: Farm income, labor laws, aid to education, urban renewal, housing, medical for the elderly, public works spending, Gallup polls of prestige foreign aid to Laos, Cuba, Japan, a dozen African nations and where their students go, and who said what and where and when.

The voter's task can be simplified by considering two issues which are of paramount importance affecting all others. One is the soundness and integrity of the American dollar.

If that dollar is discounted, debased, all other domestic and to a degree foreign issues are without meaning. If the keystone of the arch is rotten, all the payments, promises and plans fall in a heap.

If the blood in an economy is infected or thinned, all organs suffer and die.

That is something everyone can understand. Inflation is the great killer of any society, whatever the form of government may be.

Kennedy pays lip service to a balanced budget but his program would not and cannot be enacted under a balanced budget and without inflation.

He has evaded the issue of what he proposes to have the government spend. Johnson says he "hasn't calculated" what his program would cost. That is utter, reckless, blind irresponsibility.

The issue with which this is entwined is whether we shall follow the example set by Dulles, who, even in his dying months, gave no ground, offered no odds, to communism.

The line must be held by responsible, experienced men at the head of this government.

The talk of "prestige" is nonsense. In the critical days when American statesmen stood for something, they were not taking polls about prestige.

When George Washington took command of his little army to fight the great power of Britain, there was no taking of Gallup polls of unnamed countries about prestige. Nor when Washington and his five successors pushed back three imperial powers and made a big nation from a small one.

The job was done by men experienced in foreign affairs, most of them tested in many European countries.

Prestige is, after all, what somebody thinks he thinks about us. Honor and respect are what a nation or an individual earns.

The bewildered citizen should keep in mind these two issues: a currency respected over the world, and the courage to stand against Communism everywhere.

And in making a decision about which team can best assure these objectives, we should look to their integrity, strength of character, and experience.

All else, as a famous Hoosier used to say, "are chores."

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Harold Campbell, principal of Chester Junior High School, qualified as president of the Purple and Gold Alumni Club.

One hundred fifty joined the Midland Fellowship Club which was organized to aid the needy.

Salem High defeated Wellsville, 13-7.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — An estimated 2,000 attended the benefit dance held by the Wellsville Fraternal Order of Police Lodge. Proceeds were turned over to the police department's equipment fund.

Mrs. Zalma Walton was installed as president of Alfred Wedgewood Auxiliary of the American Legion Post 374.

The Rev. D. Park Chapman of the First Church of Christ reported that for the first time in many years, and possibly in its history, the church was debt free.

TEN YEARS AGO — According to the Ohio State Employment Service office, employment in the East Liverpool area reached a 10-month peak in October.

Forty thousand of Columbiana County's 50,000 voters were expected to go to the polls on Nov. 7.

Facilities to the 30,000 inhabitants of the Pentagon Building, in Washington, D.C., are staggering —parking space for 8,300 cars—3,000 clocks — 65,000 light fixtures —685 drinking fountains — 84,000 feet of fire hose — 280 restrooms. A staff of 625 persons prepares and serves 50,000 pounds of food daily in three kitchens, stocking six cafeterias, two restaurants, nine beverage bars, and an outdoor snackbar.

British View Of U.S.

By David Lawrence

A Different Observation On 'Prestige'

Who is better qualified to appraise impartially the issue of American "prestige" or standing in the world than the editor of a leading newspaper in Europe? When, therefore, the London Daily Telegraph devotes its principal editorial to an analysis of our "prestige" abroad, it becomes news of prime importance. Here is the full text of it:

David Lawrence

"One of the key questions in the current American election campaign is whether United States prestige stands high or low in the rest of the world. Strangely enough, Vice President Nixon claims that it is high and Sen. Kennedy maintains that it is at an all-time low. Normally, it is obviously undesirable for foreigners to intervene in other people's elections but, since on this occasion it appears that one of the determining factors is foreign opinion, it might be helpful if a few British views were placed on record.

"FIRST, it can be stated fairly categorically that, where there is criticism and complaints about America in this country, it is more over sins of omission than of commission. Where there used to be hostility to Washington's throwing its weight around, now there is anxiety that Washington has not enough weight to throw or enough will to throw it.

"In a sense, this kind of criticism might be taken as high praise.

"What other great power has been besought to take the center of the stage by the very power which previously had enjoyed that position herself?

"Anti-Americanism, in short, has been stood on its head. People now complain that America does not provide them with enough to complain about. Whether this is an argument in favor of Kennedy or Nixon is difficult to say.

"One point, however, should be made clear: No American voter should be naive enough to suppose that more-dynamic American leadership will necessarily make the United States more popular abroad.

"Mr. Dulles had plenty of dynamism and was full of a sense of America's national purpose. But however much he may have influenced people, he won few friends.

"Bullying tactics, such as those Mr. Dulles sometimes practiced, might increase American prestige but they would also increase anti-Americanism.

"To suggest, as Mr. Kennedy seems to do, that it is possible for American to be at once very much more positive and very much more loved is to offer a false perspective.

"PRESIDENT Eisenhower has successfully created an image of America as a blundering but a basically well-meaning giant, as against Mr. Khrushchev's successful promotion of Russia as a basically ill-meaning and non-blundering giant.

"Which is the most prestigious image?

"It may well be that in modern conditions it is better for a great power to be trusted than feared, to do too little than too much.

"None of this has done much to help the American voter. The truth is, of course, that prestige abroad is an absurd issue on which to right an election at home. It is tantamount to giving foreigners the right to choose the next American president.

"That both candidates seem prepared to do precisely this is admittedly an astonishing indication of how outward-looking American politics have become.

"While this is flattering to us, it cannot be said to reflect very well on the political maturity or good sense of the candidates who have found this new way of making the electors' task even more confusing than it was already."

WITH RESPECT to one point in the foregoing editorial, John Foster Dulles used to say that he didn't care if America was "loved" abroad just so long as it was "respected."

The amazing thing is that the Democrats have made such a pressing issue out of such an intangible thing as a country's "prestige."

If their candidate is elected, they will be embarrassed to find their opponents continually demanding surveys and polls so as to discover how the new president is doing.

One wonders if the Democrats, should they obtain power, will be eager to make public every confidential survey or poll that may be taken by representatives of our governmental agencies abroad.

If victorious, the Democrats may regret the day they made such a fuss about American "prestige" aboard.

As the London Daily Telegraph says, "foreigners" should not be "given the right to choose the next American president."

Letters To The Editor

This is a word to a U.P. minister in Calcutta whose letter in Thursday's copy of The Review brought out the "truth". By just mentioning the word "Catholic" he mentioned "truth".

Would this minister go "way back" in the beginning of the "Universal" church, read carefully and then write a letter to the editor? I do not believe that theology advocates political activity by any of its students. What Rev. Bowman is trying to say is "Don't vote for Kennedy," they will try to convert you.

Dwight Eisenhower is a non-Catholic and for nearly eight years he has been President of these United States. He had direct dealings with Roman Catholics, who worked with him for a cause. (He is still a non-Catholic).

I believe Rev. Bowman is a little bit worried about the growth of the Catholic population in the United States.

When a machine is in perfect mechanical order it will operate indefinitely and to do so it must have the right kind of fuel, attention and most of all the origin. If it is no good originally, it has no future. The Catholic Church has been and will be forever. From 1950 to 1959 the population of the Catholic Church has grown 38 per cent in the United States while the population of the United States has grown by 16 per cent.

There has been no campaigning or mud slinging to bring about this increase. People in the world want something to cling to.

GEORGE CONNELLY
139 W. 3rd St.

In the Thursday, Oct. 27 issue of The Review a letter was written by a minister of the Calcutta U. P. church condemming the Catholic Church in stating that three (3) Catholic bishops instructed their parishoners not to vote for Gov. Marin's popular Democratic party.

Let us check back into our own Protestant churches and find out about some letters that are being sent out condemming, or telling the people not to vote for Kennedy as he is a Catholic.

If my understanding is wrong, please correct me, but when a minister takes charge of a congregation, parish, or what ever it may be called, is it not a full time to preach the word of God to its people, or does the minister have time to dabble in Politics instead of tending to the duties of a minister.

Let us take inventory of ourselves, and find the faults, and the good that we may have in us, and not condemn another for what he is, or may be.

I, personally, wonder how many people Rev. Bowman Jr. has visited in his congregation since this religious issue has blasted wide open?

We as American Citizens have fought for these freedoms that we have, but let us stay within reason of facts and issues.

LOUIS KRAWIEC
1518 Smithfield, St.

In reply to Mr. Cheuvront's letter: You said, "...you preach from your pulpits that your people should not vote for a Catholic."

I ask you, were you in the congregation when Rev. Bowman told his people how to vote? No, I'm afraid you were not, Mr. Cheuvront, because not once has he told any member of his congregation how to vote and I'm sure he will not tell me, but on the other hand neither will the Pope.

I suggest you confine yourself to the truth and speak not of the truths of your religious body as prejudice. You may interpret these truths of the Roman Catholic church as you see fit, while Rev. Bowman seeks only to let the truths of the Roman Catholic church dogma be at our disposal so that we may never witness a similar situation such as that of Puerto Rico's Gov. Luis Munoz Marin.

So, Mr. Cheuvront, I request that if in your opinion, Rev. Bowman is prejudiced, please place me on your list of prejudiced people; because I believe his letter to the editor was one of truths, not because he said so but because the facts said so.

In regards to Rudolph Miller, he has again succeeded in marching down the middle.

Nixon vs. The Juggernaut

In the closing days of Richard Nixon's run for the presidency, his friends are facing up to a discouraging fact the candidate faced up to from the moment he was nominated last summer.

The political cards are stacked against a Republican candidate.

Republican registration is less than Democratic registration—less so than ever.

There is no bloc on the Republican side to offset the voting strength and money-muscle of AFL-CIO backing for the candidacy of Sen. Kennedy and nearly all other Democratic candidates.

The Republican party cannot count on carrying any of the country's large cities, due to the Democratic party's hold on the minority groups that dominate big-city politics. A Republican presidential candidate must pull enough votes in unbossed areas to balance his rival's lopsided majorities in all the bossed areas.

Under ordinary circumstances, no Republican presidential candidate can hope "to win big." Only a Dwight Eisenhower, running as a war hero at the head of the Republican party, can shake off the handicap of an underdog role.

Life is one riot after another with nobody keeping score. My sarge tells me just to relax, keep neutral and concentrate on wishing I knew where I am and what for.

It says in the paper that at the U.N. birthday in New York they played Beethoven symphonies and Dag Hammarskjold expressed the hope his Ninth Symphony would serve as a U.N. creed. I still don't think Beethoven can get me out of this.

As far as music goes what I need is "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea," "What'll I do?" "Don't Fence Me In," "Look For The Silver Lining," "Oh Didn't He Ramble," "The Trouble I've Seen" and "Where Do We Go From Here?"

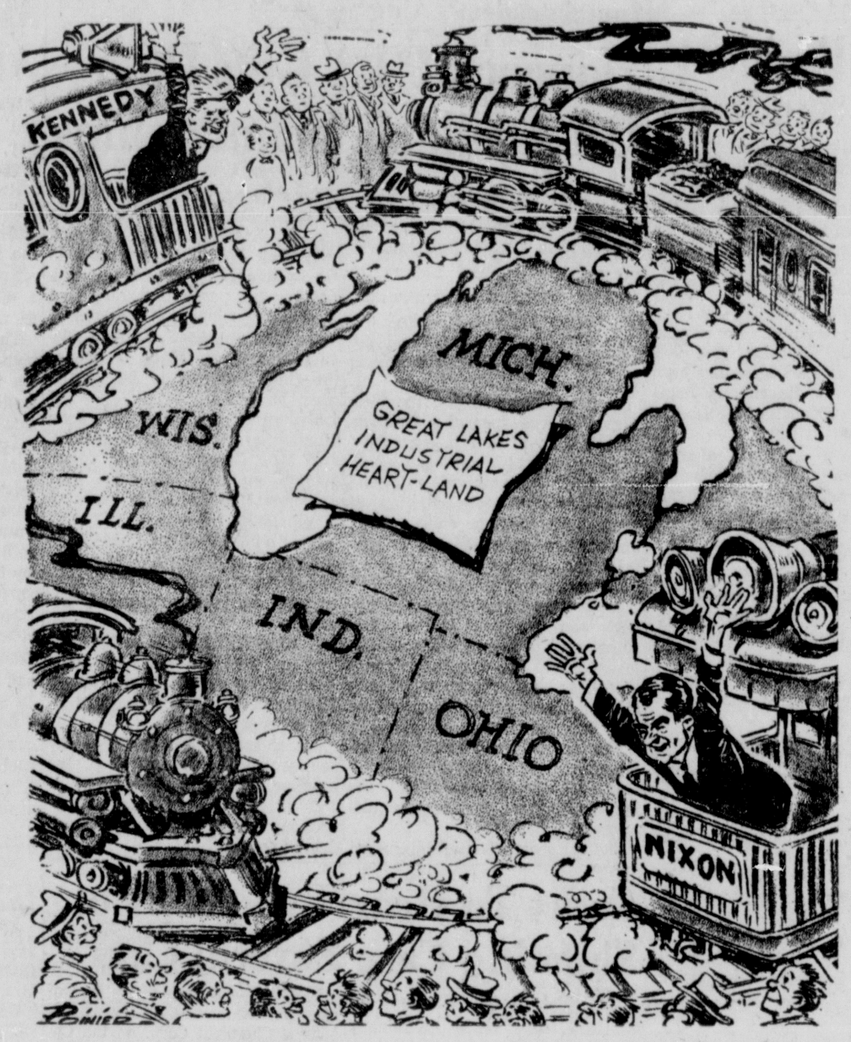

All my love. Joe.

THERE'S A NEW NOVEL called "Fiddle Hill." If the movies get it, Jack Benny will star.

Those campaign debates are being conducted to help public decide which candidate is farthest wrong.

Nelson Rockefeller and Henry Lodge have been eating bagels, lox and knishes during the campaign. Evidently they think the delicatessen vote is pretty important.

Whistle Stop Merry-Go-Round

Candidates For Top Labor Post

By Victor Riesel

An acid squirting syringe propelled a young naval reserve officer deep into the Kennedy inner circle not too long ago — and probably into the highest national political echelons of the onrushing '60s. He is 42-year-old former rocket craft commander Frank Thompson, congressman from New Jersey, one of the operational chiefs of Jack Kennedy's basic coast-to-coast organization—and frequently mentioned in the sanctum as the next secretary of labor of the United States. That is, if the Democrats win.

Victor Riesel

It was on the morning of Aug. 18 last year that Rep. Thompson, Jr., veteran of the Iwo Jima and Okinawa invasions, was driving to his House Office Building headquarters.

He stopped for a light, musing a bit over the writing of an anti-rackets law. A small panel truck came to a short stop alongside.

THE DRIVER pumped sulphuric acid from a syringe at Thompson's auto. The liquid missed him. It disintegrated the paint right off the side of the car.

FBI agents were notified. Thompson, a member of the House Labor Committee, talked frequently with Bob and Jack Kennedy. Eventually the law was written.

Thompson flicked the hood's attack out of his memory as coolly as he'd flip ashes off a cigarette.

Months later, when the Kennedys wanted an executive officer to pull together their national registration drive, they asked the Jersey congressman. He took the chairmanship and coordinated it while Roy Reuther handled the labor movement's part of the campaign. They worked well together.

However, the word is that Thompson won't get the first bid for the Cabinet post. If Jack Kennedy is elected, he'll consult with Mr. Labor, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO. This was pledged months ago.

Kennedy would have done so automatically. There is tradition for it. Dwight D. Eisenhower did exactly that in 1952. Labor wanted Martin Durkin, then president of the plumbers. Labor got him.

THOSE INSIDE labor expect Meany to suggest one of the hardest working Democrats in the land —Joseph D. Keenan, secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Laconic Joe Keenan has been in the government before — oddly enough working not only for Democratic presidents almost on Cabinet level but for wartime Gen. Eisenhower, too.

That was as chief of the Manpower Division, Allied Control Commission for Germany. There were other high wartime posts for Keenan who comes out of Chicago.

If he wants the secretary of labor spot, he'll get it. A victorious Jack Kennedy would then be expected to push Frank Thompson for the governorship of New Jersey and later the Senate.

If Vice President Nixon wins, he'll not retain Labor Secretary Jim Mitchell. These are those high in Nixon's camp who believe Mitchell wrongly advised the Republican leader.

THIS RIFT between the candidate and the labor secretary spring from the fact that the Cabinet official gave labor what it wanted for seven years. Then labor's leaders gave Nixon the worst clobbering since Grover Cleveland's private life became the juiciest campaign indelicacies in history.

Nixon has been jabbed even by steel workers leader David McDonald, who said in the summer of '59 he'd support the vice president. And early last summer the nation's labor leaders threw Jim Mitchell a banquet. The President came and heard Mitchell called "the best labor secretary" they've had.

So Nixon is looking for a neutral. The leading candidate for the spot is Under Secretary of Labor James T. O'Connell. Nixon has told intimates that he has tried to prove he doesn't "have horns, but what's the use."

Whoever gets the Cabinet post, I believe, gets one of the government's most powerful offices. The new labor law has made it second only to the attorney general on the domestic front.

The Dollars And The Men

By Raymond Moley

Many thoughtful observers of free institutions, such as we have, have wondered whether in a search for more and more democracy we have not put an unbearable burden on the citizen.

That illustrious philosopher, George Santayana, commented that the "common citizen must be something of a saint and something of a hero."

Never have we seen such a culmination of that citizen's burden as in this campaign.

To understand and cast a vote intelligently, he must not only be a "saint" and a "hero," but a seer, a psychologist, a soldier, an accountant, an economoist, a historian, and a lawyer.

Where does that average citizen stand at this stage in the campaign?

He stands like a traveler buried in the snow, buffeted on all sides by statements, statistics, quotes. He must be benumbed, confused, lost.

Consider the complexity and number of the issues: Farm income, labor laws, aid to education, urban renewal, housing, medical for the elderly, public works spending, Gallup polls of prestige foreign aid to Laos, Cuba, Japan, a dozen African nations and where their students go, and who said what and where and when.

The voter's task can be simplified by considering two issues which are of paramount importance affecting all others. One is the soundness and integrity of the American dollar.

If that dollar is discounted, debased, all other domestic and to a degree foreign issues are without meaning. If the keystone of the arch is rotten, all the payments, promises and plans fall in a heap.

If the blood in an economy is infected or thinned, all organs suffer and die.

That is something everyone can understand. Inflation is the great killer of any society, whatever the form of government may be.

Kennedy pays lip service to a balanced budget but his program would not and cannot be enacted under a balanced budget and without inflation.

He has evaded the issue of what he proposes to have the government spend. Johnson says he "hasn't calculated" what his program would cost. That is utter, reckless, blind irresponsibility.

The issue with which this is entwined is whether we shall follow the example set by Dulles, who, even in his dying months, gave no ground, offered no odds, to communism.

The line must be held by responsible, experienced men at the head of this government.

The talk of "prestige" is nonsense. In the critical days when American statesmen stood for something, they were not taking polls about prestige.

When George Washington took command of his little army to fight the great power of Britain, there was no taking of Gallup polls of unnamed countries about prestige. Nor when Washington and his five successors pushed back three imperial powers and made a big nation from a small one.

The job was done by men experienced in foreign affairs, most of them tested in many European countries.

Prestige is, after all, what somebody thinks he thinks about us. Honor and respect are what a nation or an individual earns.

The bewildered citizen should keep in mind these two issues: a currency respected over the world, and the courage to stand against Communism everywhere.

And in making a decision about which team can best assure these objectives, we should look to their integrity, strength of character, and experience.

All else, as a famous Hoosier used to say, "are chores."

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Harold Campbell, principal of Chester Junior High School, qualified as president of the Purple and Gold Alumni Club.

One hundred fifty joined the Midland Fellowship Club which was organized to aid the needy.

Salem High defeated Wellsville, 13-7.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — An estimated 2,000 attended the benefit dance held by the Wellsville Fraternal Order of Police Lodge. Proceeds were turned over to the police department's equipment fund.

Mrs. Zelma Walton was installed as president of Alfred Wedgewood Auxiliary of the American Legion Post 374.

The Rev. D. Park Chapman of the First Church of Christ reported that for the first time in many years, and possibly in its history, the church was debt free.

TEN YEARS AGO — According to the Ohio State Employment Service office, employment in the East Liverpool area reached a 10-month peak in October.

Forty thousand of Columbiana County's 50,000 voters were expected to go to the polls on Nov. 7.

Facilities to the 30,000 inhabitants of the Pentagon Building, in Washington, D.C., are staggering —parking space for 8,300 cars—3,000 clocks — 65,000 light fixtures —685 drinking fountains — 84,000 feet of fire hose — 280 restrooms. A staff of 625 persons prepares and serves 50,000 pounds of food daily in three kitchens, stocking six cafeterias, two restaurants, nine beverage bars, and an outdoor snackbar.

British View Of U.S.

By David Lawrence

A Different Observation On 'Prestige'

Who is better qualified to appraise impartially the issue of American "prestige" or standing in the world than the editor of a leading newspaper in Europe? When, therefore, the London Daily Telegraph devotes its principal editorial to an analysis of our "prestige" abroad, it becomes news of prime importance. Here is the full text of it:

David Lawrence

"One of the key questions in the current American election campaign is whether United States prestige stands high or low in the rest of the world. Strangely enough, Vice President Nixon claims that it is high and Sen. Kennedy maintains that it is at an all-time low. Normally, it is obviously undesirable for foreigners to intervene in other people's elections but, since on this occasion it appears that one of the determining factors is foreign opinion, it might be helpful if a few British views were placed on record.

"FIRST, it can be stated fairly categorically that, where there is criticism and complaints about America in this country, it is more over sins of omission than of commission. Where there used to be hostility to Washington's throwing its weight around, now there is anxiety that Washington has not enough weight to throw or enough will to throw it.

"In a sense, this kind of criticism might be taken as high praise.

"What other great power has been besought to take the center of the stage by the very power which previously had enjoyed that position herself?

"Anti-Americanism, in short, has been stood on its head. People now complain that America does not provide them with enough to complain about. Whether this is an argument in favor of Kennedy or Nixon is difficult to say.

"One point, however, should be made clear: No American voter should be naive enough to suppose that more-dynamic American leadership will necessarily make the United States more popular abroad.

"Mr. Dulles had plenty of dynamism and was full of a sense of America's national purpose. But however much he may have influenced people, he won few friends.

"Bullying tactics, such as those Mr. Dulles sometimes practiced, might increase American prestige but they would also increase anti-Americanism.

"To suggest, as Mr. Kennedy seems to do, that it is possible for American to be at once very much more positive and very much more loved is to offer a false perspective.

"PRESIDENT Eisenhower has successfully created an image of America as a blundering but a basically well-meaning giant, as against Mr. Khrushchev's successful promotion of Russia as a basically ill-meaning and non-blundering giant.

"Which is the most prestigious image?

"It may well be that in modern conditions it is better for a great power to be trusted than feared, to do too little than too much.

"None of this has done much to help the American voter. The truth is, of course, that prestige abroad is an absurd issue on which to right an election at home. It is tantamount to giving foreigners the right to choose the next American president.

"That both candidates seem prepared to do precisely this is admittedly an astonishing indication of how outward-looking American politics have become.

"While this is flattering to us, it cannot be said to reflect very well on the political maturity or good sense of the candidates who have found this new way of making the electors' task even more confusing than it was already."

WITH RESPECT to one point in the foregoing editorial, John Foster Dulles used to say that he didn't care if America was "loved" abroad just so long as it was "respected."

The amazing thing is that the Democrats have made such a pressing issue out of such an intangible thing as a country's "prestige."

If their candidate is elected, they will be embarrassed to find their opponents continually demanding surveys and polls so as to discover how the new president is doing.

One wonders if the Democrats, should they obtain power, will be eager to make public every confidential survey or poll that may be taken by representatives of our governmental agencies abroad.

If victorious, the Democrats may regret the day they made such a fuss about American "prestige" aboard.

As the London Daily Telegraph says, "foreigners" should not be "given the right to choose the next American president."

Letters To The Editor

This is a word to a U.P. minister in Calcutta whose letter in Thursday's copy of The Review brought out the "truth". By just mentioning the word "Catholic" he mentioned "truth".

Would this minister go "way back" in the beginning of the "Universal" church, read carefully and then write a letter to the editor? I do not believe that theology advocates political activity by any of its students. What Rev. Bowman is trying to say is "Don't vote for Kennedy," they will try to convert you.

Dwight Eisenhower is a non-Catholic and for nearly eight years he has been President of these United States. He had direct dealings with Roman Catholics, who worked with him for a cause. (He is still a non-Catholic).

I believe Rev. Bowman is a little bit worried about the growth of the Catholic population in the United States.

When a machine is in perfect mechanical order it will operate indefinitely and to do so it must have the right kind of fuel, attention and most of all the origin. If it is no good originally, it has no future. The Catholic Church has been and will be forever. From 1950 to 1959 the population of the Catholic Church has grown 38 per cent in the United States while the population of the United States has grown by 16 per cent.

There has been no campaigning or mud slinging to bring about this increase. People in the world want something to cling to.

GEORGE CONNELLY
139 W. 3rd St.

In the Thursday, Oct. 27 issue of The Review a letter was written by a minister of the Calcutta U. P. church condemming the Catholic Church in stating that three (3) Catholic bishops instructed their parishoners not to vote for Gov. Marin's popular Democratic party.

Let us check back into our own Protestant churches and find out about some letters that are being sent out condemming, or telling the people not to vote for Kennedy as he is a Catholic.

If my understanding is wrong, please correct me, but when a minister takes charge of a congregation, parish, or what ever it may be called, is it not a full time to preach the word of God to its people, or does the minister have time to dabble in Politics instead of tending to the duties of a minister.

Let us take inventory of ourselves, and find the faults, and the good that we may have in us, and not condemn another for what he is, or may be.

I, personally, wonder how many people Rev. Bowman Jr. has visited in his congregation since this religious issue has blasted wide open?

We as American Citizens have fought for these freedoms that we have, but let us stay within reason of facts and issues.

LOUIS KRAWIEC
1518 Smithfield, St.

In reply to Mr. Cheuvront's letter: You said, "...you preach from your pulpits that your people should not vote for a Catholic."

I ask you, were you in the congregation when Rev. Bowman told his people how to vote? No, I'm afraid you were not, Mr. Cheuvront, because not once has he told any member of his congregation how to vote and I'm sure he will not tell me, but on the other hand neither will the Pope.

I suggest you confine yourself to the truth and speak not of the truths of your religious body as prejudice. You may interpret these truths of the Roman Catholic church as you see fit, while Rev. Bowman seeks only to let the truths of the Roman Catholic church dogma be at our disposal so that we may never witness a similar situation such as that of Puerto Rico's Gov. Luis Munoz Marin.

So, Mr. Cheuvront, I request that if in your opinion, Rev. Bowman is prejudiced, please place me on your list of prejudiced people; because I believe his letter to the editor was one of truths, not because he said so but because the facts said so.

In regards to Rudolph Miller, he has again succeeded in marching down the middle.

Council Names Caretaker For Village Dump

SALINEVILLE — Council Monday night authorized Herman Dixon of Maple Hill to serve as supervisor of the dump jointly operated by Washington Township and the village.

Dixon will succeed Fred Polen, whose contract expires Jan. 1.

Dixon told Council he would level off the dump and construct a shelterhouse if provided materials, and would supervise the tract, off Route 39 at the east end of town, at any hours designated.

The township has agreed to provide materials for a shelter, Dixon said he was told by Trustee Don Hirst.

Mayor Kenneth Leishman reported he had worked out an agreement with the county commissioners and the highway department on the use of an air compressor.

The compressor, to be used by the Woodland Cemetery and the village water department, is a standby machine, and would be returned if the county's regular equipment breaks down. Pneumatic tools are to be purchased by the two village departments.

Councilman John Beadnell reported refuse is being dumped from the school cafeteria into the nearby creek, and Mayor Leishman said he would notify school authorities.

The mayor also reported he had conferred with the County Welfare Department, and some persons receiving welfare aid may work on the village streets.

Discussion was held on trimming gas fuel bills for the Village Hall heating system. Councilman Orval Tolson said a survey of the gas conversion steam heat system showed installation of a pump would not improve it. Council also discussed use of a stoker.

Arthur Wilson of Foundry Hill asked Council about his previous request for a street light near his home, and was told by Mayor Leishman to wait until after election when a new 2-mill street lighting levy is to be decided by voters.

Police Chief Cleo Mellott reported the police department had patroled 1,951 miles in the period Sept. 25-Oct. 30, made 31 arrests, issued 21 warnings, investigated 6 accidents and made 135 miscellaneous investigations.

The next meeting is Nov. 14.

Cancer Society Citation Given To East End Legion

A citation from the Columbiana County Chapter of the American Cancer Society was presented to American Legion Post 374 at a meeting Monday night at the East End home.

Galen Greenisen of near Salem, representative of the chapter, presented the citation to the post for its aid in the 1960 campaign.

A contribution of $10 was authorized for the Four Chaplains Chapel at Philadelphia.

About 30 attended the meeting at which James Kreiger, commander, was in charge. James Wright, first vice commander, reported the current membership now stands at 173. Paul Little was enrolled as a new member.

Plans were announced for a dance Saturday night from 9:30 to 12:30 with Vince Mundy's orchestra. A group from the Sweet Adelines will also sing.

A film on highlights of the 1959 sports season was screened by Wayne Craig, second vice commander. The next meeting will be Monday night when refreshments will be served.

34 At Salineville Make Honor Roll

SALINEVILLE — A total of 34 students are on the honor roll for the Salineville High School first six-week grading period, Thomas Leek, principal, reported. They are:

Juniors — Bill Burns and Gloria Dunlap.

Sophomores — James Carter, Jean Mattox, Karen McPherson and Cynthia Smith.

Inquiry Is Continuing In Fake Coin Racket

FOLLANSBEE — Police are continuing an investigation today into a fake coin racket in which area self-service laundries have been "cleaned."

Two young men from Muncie, Ind., and another from Weirton are being held for questioning after police found in the auto of one a total of 114 copper slugs the size of quarters and $4.50 in nickels.

The laundries have been plagued by the fake coin racket in which a slug the same size and weight as a quarter is placed in a change-making machine for a return of five good nickels.

Authorities are holding Richard W. Rodell, 21, and Charles E. Harris, 29, while they check Muncie police for background. Also held for questioning is Howard P. Lenker, 21, of Weirton.

2 Rogers Men Go To Canada

Two Rogers men are deer hunting in Canada. Wilbur Butler and Lewis Butler left Friday for Ontario, where they expect to spend a month.

Miss Zoe Thomas of Cleveland was a weekend guest of her mother, Mrs. Essie Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hampson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright of Boardman.

Mrs. Will Adams of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baker of Washingtonville visited friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith of Canton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rudibaugh of East Liverpool visited Sunday evening with Mrs. Frankie Bell.

Mrs. Emma Harter was honored on her birthday anniversary with a dinner Sunday at the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Harter of Youngstown.

Mrs. Lucille Meek and Mrs. Ada Huston of Youngstown visited Sunday with Mrs. Cora Cope.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Morris and daughter, Garnet, of Columbiana were among Sunday evening guests of Mrs. Ruth Cope.

Tom Crowl is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital at Youngstown.

Mrs. Clyde Harroff has returned from a visit with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Davis are visiting relatives in Clay and Charleston, W. Va.

Seaman Charles Holsinger is spending a leave at home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rudibaugh of Niles visited relatives here Saturday.

Party To Propose 'Teen-Age Center'

The East Liverpool Democratic organization is preparing to propose plans for a citywide "teen-age center" in which chaperoned record hops could be held regularly, James V. Flasco, chairman, said today.

Flasco said he will seek a meeting soon with Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and members of Council to ask the city's co-operation in the project.

The need for a teen center was demonstrated last week when the Democratic Club held two record hops in its campaign headquarters on Dresden Ave., Flasco said. Crowds which attended the two dances indicated a need for such record hops on a regular basis, he added.

Horsemen Enter 17 Teams For Pull

A horse-pull contest will be held at Wellsville Central Park at 13th St. Saturday afternoon, according to Dale Rudibaugh, owner of Wellsville Feed & Supply, who is sponsoring the event.

Rudibaugh said 17 teams have been entered to date and more are expected. He said that if weather permits, two teams of oxen also will be entered.

The teams will be weighed at 1 p. m. at the feed store and then parade through town at 1:30. The public is invited and there is no charge, Rudibaugh said.

The teams will be divided into heavy and light weight classes. Prizes of $20, $15 and $12, for first, second and third place, respectively, in each class are being offered. Each team that makes four successful pulls will be presented $10.

Rudibaugh said he believes this is the first such contest to be held in Wellsville. One team was entered by a Bristolville (Ohio) horseman.

Rare Flowering Tree Souvenir Hunters' Goal

STERLING, Colo. (AP)—Chief Custodian Willis Benz is worried about the Xanthoceras sorbifolia Bunge on the courthouse square.

In event you don't know, Xanthoceras sorbifolia Bunge is a rare flowering tree.

City Church Women Will Hold Community Day Event Friday

"Christian Action for Freedom" will be the theme for the annual observance of World Community Day Friday at 2 p.m. at the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church.

Sponsored by the Council of United Church Women, Mrs. Samuel Wolfe is chairman for the program.

The Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, will be speaker.

Mrs. Agnes Kittridge will conduct the worship service, Miss Betsy Eunson will be soloist and Peter Mullen, organist.

The offering will help train women in nutrition and welfare to assist their own people in attaining higher standards of health. Study and travel grants will help selected women in Ethiopia, Nigeria, Chile and Burma get professional training in nutrition, child welfare and social work in their own or other countries.

Projects include the collecting of children's clothing and yard goods to be sent to refugee camps in North Africa, North India and Hong Kong. Home medical kits are also being assembled for distribution in overseas developing areas which lack medical service. These projects help broaden activities in churches where there are no public health services, sponsors said.

Mrs. Frank Mitcheson, president, will give remarks.

Patrol To Check Crash Of Plane

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said today it is investigating the report that a Minnesota pilot made a forced landing near Hammondsville over the weekend and then left for Chicago after purchasing a used car in Wellsville.

The patrol said it plans to store the PT-23 Fairchild trainer, which crash landed on the farm of Clyde Workman near Hammondsville Saturday morning, while an investigation is made.

The pilot, Verne Goudy, said he was forced down by dense fog while en route to Delaware.

The two-seater, a World War II model, bore identification number N69625. The patrol reported it may remove the wings from the craft and tow it to a storage site while the probe continues.

Goudy said he was going to Chicago after purchasing a used car in Wellsville. The propellor of the craft was shattered and a wing punctured when Goudy sheared off a small tree in landing.

Investigations of airplane and train accidents are part of the patrol's regular assignments, along with highway traffic and other duties.

Joint UNICEF Drive Reports $353 Proceeds

LISBON — A total of $353.53 was collected for the UNICEF fund by the 6 Lisbon churches and Elkton Methodist and St. Jacob's Church last week, according to Mrs. Homer Ferguson, chairman of the drive for the Council of United Church Women.

The drive was held on United Nations Day Oct. 24 and other contributions were received in the churches Sunday.

Lisbon churches participating were the Methodist, Nazarene, First Presbyterian, Trinity United Presbyterian, First Christian and Trinity Episcopal.

Scouts Fund Drive Pushed

The current Boy Scout fund drive in Wellsville, Salineville, West Point and Summitville is nearing completion, Robert Gray, executive of the Cherokee Boy Scout District, reported today.

The campaign is held in areas not served by Community Chest drives, but where the scout program is being developed, Gray explained.

Contributions help provide for upkeep of the Columbiana Council's two camps, insurance, new equipment and improvements for the camps, maintenance of a Lisbon office, training supplies, publications, executive salaries and other needs.

Wellsville has six scout units, and two more are being organized, and West Point has just started a new troop. Summitville has a Cub Scout Pack and a scout troop, while Salineville has three units.

Information can be obtained from Gray, who resides in Chester.

The compressor, to be used by the Woodland Cemetery and the village water department, is a standby machine, and would be returned if the county's regular equipment breaks down. Pneumatic tools are to be purchased by the two village departments.

Councilman John Beadnell reported refuse is being dumped from the school cafeteria into the nearby creek, and Mayor Leishman said he would notify school authorities.

The mayor also reported he had conferred with the County Welfare Department, and some persons receiving welfare aid may work on the village streets.

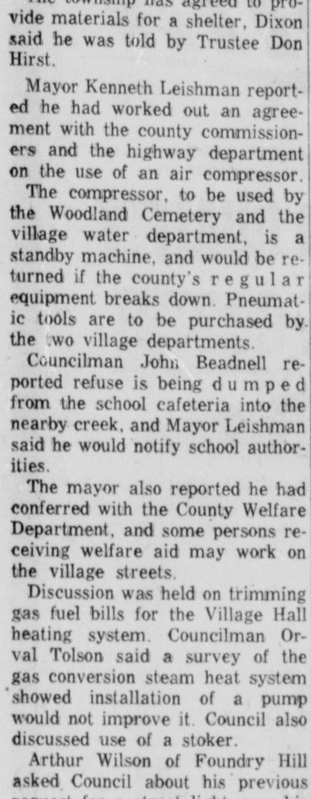

Discussion was held on trimming gas fuel bills for the Village Hall heating system. Councilman Orval Tolson said a survey of the gas conversion steam heat system showed installation of a pump would not improve it. Council also discussed use of a stoker.

Arthur Wilson of Foundry Hill asked Council about his previous request for a street light near his home, and was told by Mayor Leishman to wait until after election when a new 2-mill street lighting levy is to be decided by voters.

Police Chief Cleo Mellott reported the police department had patroled 1,951 miles in the period Sept. 25-Oct. 30, made 31 arrests, issued 21 warnings, investigated 6 accidents and made 135 miscellaneous investigations.

The next meeting is Nov. 14.

Cancer Society Citation Given To East End Legion

A citation from the Columbiana County Chapter of the American Cancer Society was presented to American Legion Post 374 at a meeting Monday night at the East End home.

Galen Greenisen of near Salem, representative of the chapter, presented the citation to the post for its aid in the 1960 campaign.

A contribution of $10 was authorized for the Four Chaplains Chapel at Philadelphia.

About 30 attended the meeting at which James Kreiger, commander, was in charge. James Wright, first vice commander, reported the current membership now stands at 173. Paul Little was enrolled as a new member.

Plans were announced for a dance Saturday night from 9:30 to 12:30 with Vince Mundy's orchestra. A group from the Sweet Adelines will also sing.

A film on highlights of the 1959 sports season was screened by Wayne Craig, second vice commander. The next meeting will be Monday night when refreshments will be served.

Inquiry Is Continuing In Fake Coin Racket

FOLLANSBEE — Police are continuing an investigation today into a fake coin racket in which area self-service laundries have been "cleaned."

Two young men from Muncie, Ind., and another from Weirton are being held for questioning after police found in the auto of one a total of 114 copper slugs the size of quarters and $4.50 in nickels.

The laundries have been plagued by the fake coin racket in which a slug the same size and weight as a quarter is placed in a change-making machine for a return of five good nickels.

Authorities are holding Richard W. Rodell, 21, and Charles E. Harris, 29, while they check Muncie police for background. Also held for questioning is Howard P. Lenker, 21, of Weirton.

Party To Propose 'Teen-Age Center'

The East Liverpool Democratic organization is preparing to propose plans for a citywide "teen-age center" in which chaperoned record hops could be held regularly, James V. Flasco, chairman, said today.

Flasco said he will seek a meeting soon with Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and members of Council to ask the city's co-operation in the project.

The need for a teen center was demonstrated last week when the Democratic Club held two record hops in its campaign headquarters on Dresden Ave., Flasco said. Crowds which attended the two dances indicated a need for such record hops on a regular basis, he added.

Horsemen Enter 17 Teams For Pull

A horse-pull contest will be held at Wellsville Central Park at 13th St. Saturday afternoon, according to Dale Rudibaugh, owner of Wellsville Feed & Supply, who is sponsoring the event.

Rudibaugh said 17 teams have been entered to date and more are expected. He said that if weather permits, two teams of oxen also will be entered.

The teams will be weighed at 1 p. m. at the feed store and then parade through town at 1:30. The public is invited and there is no charge, Rudibaugh said.

The teams will be divided into heavy and light weight classes. Prizes of $20, $15 and $12, for first, second and third place, respectively, in each class are being offered. Each team that makes four successful pulls will be presented $10.

Rudibaugh said he believes this is the first such contest to be held in Wellsville. One team was entered by a Bristolville (Ohio) horseman.

City Church Women Will Hold Community Day Event Friday

"Christian Action for Freedom" will be the theme for the annual observance of World Community Day Friday at 2 p.m. at the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church.

Sponsored by the Council of United Church Women, Mrs. Samuel Wolfe is chairman for the program.

The Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, will be speaker.

Mrs. Agnes Kittridge will conduct the worship service, Miss Betsy Eunson will be soloist and Peter Mullen, organist.

The offering will help train women in nutrition and welfare to assist their own people in attaining higher standards of health. Study and travel grants will help selected women in Ethiopia, Nigeria, Chile and Burma get professional training in nutrition, child welfare and social work in their own or other countries.

Projects include the collecting of children's clothing and yard goods to be sent to refugee camps in North Africa, North India and Hong Kong. Home medical kits are also being assembled for distribution in overseas developing areas which lack medical service. These projects help broaden activities in churches where there are no public health services, sponsors said.

Mrs. Frank Mitcheson, president, will give remarks.

Patrol To Check Crash Of Plane

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said today it is investigating the report that a Minnesota pilot made a forced landing near Hammondsville over the weekend and then left for Chicago after purchasing a used car in Wellsville.

The patrol said it plans to store the PT-23 Fairchild trainer, which crash landed on the farm of Clyde Workman near Hammondsville Saturday morning, while an investigation is made.

The pilot, Verne Goudy, said he was forced down by dense fog while en route to Delaware.

The two-seater, a World War II model, bore identification number N69625. The patrol reported it may remove the wings from the craft and tow it to a storage site while the probe continues.

Goudy said he was going to Chicago after purchasing a used car in Wellsville. The propellor of the craft was shattered and a wing punctured when Goudy sheared off a small tree in landing.

Investigations of airplane and train accidents are part of the patrol's regular assignments, along with highway traffic and other duties.

Scouts Fund Drive Pushed

The current Boy Scout fund drive in Wellsville, Salineville, West Point and Summitville is nearing completion, Robert Gray, executive of the Cherokee Boy Scout District, reported today.

The campaign is held in areas not served by Community Chest drives, but where the scout program is being developed, Gray explained.

Contributions help provide for upkeep of the Columbiana Council's two camps, insurance, new equipment and improvements for the camps, maintenance of a Lisbon office, training supplies, publications, executive salaries and other needs.

Wellsville has six scout units, and two more are being organized, and West Point has just started a new troop. Summitville has a Cub Scout Pack and a scout troop, while Salineville has three units.

Information can be obtained from Gray, who resides in Chester.

Wellsville Set For Vote On 4 Issues Nov. 8

Three tax levies — two of them renewals — and a special proposal on the police work week will be considered by Wellsville voters at the Nov. 8 general election.

Residents will cast ballots on a new ½-mill playground levy, the renewal of a 6.6-mill school levy, the renewal of a 1.8-mill street lighting levy and an initiative ordinance on a 40-hour work week for members of the police department.

A majority vote is required for passage of all four issues.

The playground levy will be used for the acquisition of sites and purchase of equipment and to pay the salaries of supervisors.

The program was initiated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Council adopted a resolution at the Aug. 16 meeting to have the issue placed on the ballot. It is for 3 years.

Under present valuations, a one mill in the city returns approximately $9,000 on full collection.

The city's playgrounds presently are operated under the direction of the Recreations Council and money is received through donations.

The 6.6-mill school levy is for operating expenses, according to Earl Bake, Board of Education president. He pointed out the levy is needed to qualify for state aid. Bake and other members of the board have been appearing before PTA groups explaining the purposes for which the money is used. Most groups have endorsed the renewal.

A mill in the school district returns about $10,000. The school district is larger than the city proper, the reason for the larger return. The levy is for three years.

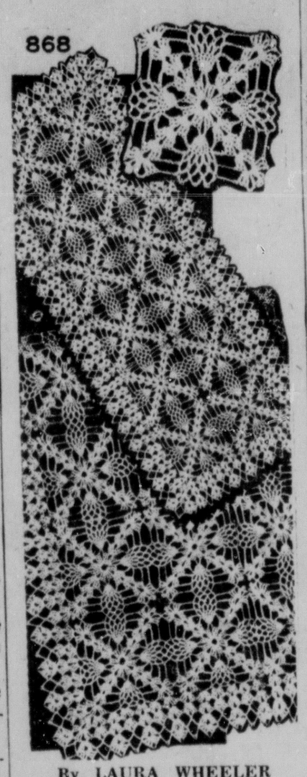

Bake said an eight-tenths-mill levy for 5 years has two more years to run. It is used primarily for building repairs.

The city street light levy is for 5 years. The money is used to pay for the power for operating the street lights.

The police 40-hour work week initiative ordinance was promoted by the Fraternal Order of Police and Fraternal Order of Police Associates Lodges. Officers presently work 48 hours weekly — six 8 hour days.

At present, there are 7 men on the force. The majority of surrounding departments work a 40-hour week. Another officer would have to be hired should the issue pass to maintain the same number of man hours.

$155 Million Released To Build B70 Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has released $155 million for development of the B70 supersonic strategic bomber.

The Defense Department released the funds to the Air Force Monday, leaving unused only $29 million of the money Congress had voted for the program over administration objections.

The move was interpreted to mean that the Defense Department has virtually accepted the decision of Congress to push production of the big bomber. The $155 million may pay for 12 B70 prototypes.

Scientists Develop Chickens Resistant To Form Of Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department scientists have developed chickens which are resistant to an infectious leukemia-like cancer of the bone marrow and blood.

The significant research development in the view of the scientists is that it indicates that animals can be bred for resistance to at least one form of cancer.

Nelson F. Waters of the Agricultural Research Service has found both male and female white leghorns capable of transmitting complete resistance to the disease —erythroblastosis — to their progeny.

The results suggest that one pair of dominant genes may control resistance to erythroblastosis, according to workers at the regional poultry research laboratory at East Lansing, Mich.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department booklet on how to avoid farm accidents gives a few practical hints in regard to livestock. Most livestock accidents occur with children under 14 and with persons between 50 and 80.

Some of the suggestions:

"Handle stock quietly, gently and firmly and with suitable handling equipment.

"Speak to an animal before entering its stall; then stroke its neck and back, if it is not too nervous. A nervous animal behaves best when handled by someone in whom it has confidence.

"Ring the nose of a bull. Always lead him with a safety staff. Keep him in a safekeeper pen."

And it concludes this section with the advice: "Never trust any bull."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department scientists have developed an automatic insecticide sprayer designed to destroy crop and livestock pests that may be carried in planes arriving in this country from abroad.

The system consists essentially of small, aerosol sprayers, each designed to treat 1,000 cubic feet of space, placed strategically throughout a plane and automatically controlled by the pilot.

When the pilot presses a button, mouse-trap springs weak off the valve tips of the containers and release the aerosol.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I easily make some stepping stones for my yard or garden?

A. About the easiest way is to dig a series of shallow holes, pour some concrete-mix into each, and then smooth over. For concrete economy you can first throw some stones or gravel into the holes. One good concrete - mix formula consists of: One sack (one cubic foot) of cement, two cubic feet of sand; three cubic feet of gravel or crushed rock, and six gallons of water.

Q. What decorating idea will make an over-large room seem cozier?

A. Wallpaper with bold patterns or large figures tend to bring the walls of a room together and lend that homey, compact feeling to an otherwise over-sized room.

Q. How can I soften up a stiffened chamois?

A. By soaking it in warm water to which a spoonful of olive oil has been added. Your chamois will emerge as soft and clean as when new.

Spunky Due New Plea On Kidnap Charges

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ralph Marshall of Zanesville, attorney for Gordon (Spunky) Firman, says his client will be allowed to enter a new plea to charges of kidnaping four Hamilton area teen-agers after he escaped from the Coshocton County jail July 26.

Firman, 21, captured Aug. 26 in Carroll County after a month-long crime escapade through much of lower Ohio, had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to the kidnaping charges. But Lima State Hospital ruled him sane. Now in the Hamilton County Workhouse, he was scheduled Wednesday to enter a new plea in Butler County Common Pleas Court, Hamilton, but that has been postponed until after Nov. 8, his attorney said.

Electronic Computer Will Tell Age Of Person

NEW YORK (AP) — An electronic computer was shown today that will tell the age of a person who answers 10 questions.

The queries are like this: "Were you born during or before 1928?" and "Is your age an even number?" Push buttons are provided for "yes" or "no."

The device, displayed to previewers of the General Motors "Motorama" show, has been rigged to give a chivalrous answer to feminine questioners beyond their teens.

When one such comes along, the mechanical brain — after all questions have been answered — flashes an automatic "21."

Boy, 14, Wins Cherry Pie Baking Contest

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Marvin Wright, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wright of York Twp., is Sandusky County's cherry pie baking champion. He won over 99 girls who entered local contests.

In addition to cooking and baking, Marvin is active in 4-H Club work and raises Yorkshire swine.

It's Time To Tell The Truth

IT'S TIME to tell the truth about just what is going on in Columbiana County. The Republican Party is about to launch an attack on our Democratic County Chairman. In fact one of the Republican candidates leveled an attack on him while he was sitting with his mother on her death bed.

We are proud of the Columbiana County Democratic Chairman; he has done many things for a lot of people in this County, regardless of which party they may belong to. I know that he has worked with village officials in Leetonia, Ohio, to help them obtain projects for that Community—and the Mayor there is a Republican. Our Democratic County Chairman has worked and helped many business people who do not belong to his party to obtain small business loans. He has worked with the State Government to help bring better highways to Columbiana County. In fact, I do not know of one case which has come to the attention of the Democratic County Chairman that he has not tried to do something about. Sure, the Republican candidates are trying to blacken this fine young man, but I am sure they would be happy if he were the leader of their party.

Anyone who knows the Columbiana County Democratic Chairman realizes that to call him a boss is not a true statement. The opposition is even checking to see just how many times the Democratic county officials have made phone calls to the County Chairman. I imagine that they will find that some have been made. The part they will not tell you is that these calls were made to obtain cooperation of some Federal or State office to help citizens of this County. The things that voters in this County should take into consideration before voting on November 8th is that the Columbiana County Court House is clean from the rest rooms to the officeholders. The service which you receive from the Columbiana County Democratic officeholders is a matter of record, and I hope that you will make a visit to the Court House in Lisbon and see the big change in the courtesy you receive in the offices taken over by the Democrats in '58.

If you want efficient offices, support the Democratic team in Columbiana County on November 8th. WHY, THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CHAIRMAN HAS EVEN BEEN ASKED FOR HIS ASSISTANCE BY REPUBLICAN LEADERS, AND HE HAS AT ALL TIMES BEEN COOPERATIVE. IT SEEMS THAT IN THE EYES OF THIS SMALL NARROW-MINDED GROUP THAT TO BE THE CHAIRMAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS TO BE A BOSS; BUT TO BE CHAIRMAN OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IS TO BE A LEADER. IT'S TIME TO TELL THE TRUTH. IT'S TIME TO REPUDIATE THIS LOW TYPE OF POLITICS. THE FACT STILL REMAINS—THE DEMOCRATS OPERATED THIS COUNTY ON LESS MONEY IN 1959 than the Republicans did in 1958. IT'S TIME TO ELECT DEMOCRATS TO THE COURT HOUSE.

NOVEMBER 8th IS THE DAY!

It's Time to Tell the Truth Committee

"Handle stock quietly, gently and firmly and with suitable handling equipment.

"Speak to an animal before entering its stall; then stroke its neck and back, if it is not too nervous. A nervous animal behaves best when handled by someone in whom it has confidence.

"Ring the nose of a bull. Always lead him with a safety staff. Keep him in a safekeeper pen."

And it concludes this section with the advice: "Never trust any bull."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department scientists have developed an automatic insecticide sprayer designed to destroy crop and livestock pests that may be carried in planes arriving in this country from abroad.

The system consists essentially of small, aerosol sprayers, each designed to treat 1,000 cubic feet of space, placed strategically throughout a plane and automatically controlled by the pilot.

When the pilot presses a button, mouse-trap springs peak off the valve tips of the containers and release the aerosol.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I easily make some stepping stones for my yard or garden?

A. About the easiest way is to dig a series of shallow holes, pour some concrete-mix into each, and then smooth over. For concrete economy you can first throw some stones or gravel into the holes. One good concrete - mix formula consists of: One sack (one cubic foot) of cement, two cubic feet of sand; three cubic feet of gravel or crushed rock, and six gallons of water.

Q. What decorating idea will make an over-large room seem cozier?

A. Wallpaper with bold patterns or large figures tend to bring the walls of a room together and lend that homey, compact feeling to an otherwise over-sized room.

Q. How can I soften up a stiffened chamois?

A. By soaking it in warm water to which a spoonful of olive oil has been added. Your chamois will emerge as soft and clean as when new.

Spunky Due New Plea On Kidnap Charges

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ralph Marshall of Zanesville, attorney for Gordon (Spunky) Firman, says his client will be allowed to enter a new plea to charges of kidnaping four Hamilton area teen-agers after he escaped from the Coshocton County jail July 26.

Firman, 21, captured Aug. 26 in Carroll County after a month-long crime escapade through much of lower Ohio, had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to the kidnaping charges. But Lima State Hospital ruled him sane. Now in the Hamilton County Workhouse, he was scheduled Wednesday to enter a new plea in Butler County Common Pleas Court, Hamilton, but that has been postponed until after Nov. 8, his attorney said.

Electronic Computer Will Tell Age Of Person

NEW YORK (AP) — An electronic computer was shown today that will tell the age of a person who answers 10 questions.

The queries are like this: "Were you born during or before 1928?" and "Is your age an even number?" Push buttons are provided for "yes" or "no."

The device, displayed to previewers of the General Motors "Motorama" show, has been rigged to give a chivalrous answer to feminine questioners beyond their teens.

When one such comes along, the mechanical brain — after all questions have been answered — flashes an automatic "21."

Boy, 14, Wins Cherry Pie Baking Contest

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Marvin Wright, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wright of York Twp., is Sandusky County's cherry pie baking champion. He won over 99 girls who entered local contests.

In addition to cooking and baking, Marvin is active in 4-H Club work and raises Yorkshire swine.

It's Time To Tell The Truth

IT'S TIME to tell the truth about just what is going on in Columbiana County. The Republican Party is about to launch an attack on our Democratic County Chairman. In fact one of the Republican candidates leveled an attack on him while he was sitting with his mother on her death bed.

We are proud of the Columbiana County Democratic Chairman; he has done many things for a lot of people in this County, regardless of which party they may belong to. I know that he has worked with village officials in Leetonia, Ohio, to help them obtain projects for that Community—and the Mayor there is a Republican. Our Democratic County Chairman has worked and helped many business people who do not belong to his party to obtain small business loans. He has worked with the State Government to help bring better highways to Columbiana County. In fact, I do not know of one case which has come to the attention of the Democratic County Chairman that he has not tried to do something about. Sure, the Republican candidates are trying to blacken this fine young man, but I am sure they would be happy if he were the leader of their party.

Anyone who knows the Columbiana County Democratic Chairman realizes that to call him a boss is not a true statement. The opposition is even checking to see just how many times the Democratic county officials have made phone calls to the County Chairman. I imagine that they will find that some have been made. The part they will not tell you is that these calls were made to obtain cooperation of some Federal or State office to help citizens of this County. The things that voters in this County should take into consideration before voting on November 8th is that the Columbiana County Court House is clean from the rest rooms to the officeholders. The service which you receive from the Columbiana County Democratic officeholders is a matter of record, and I hope that you will make a visit to the Court House in Lisbon and see the big change in the courtesy you receive in the offices taken over by the Democrats in '58.

If you want efficient offices, support the Democratic team in Columbiana County on November 8th. WHY, THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CHAIRMAN HAS EVEN BEEN ASKED FOR HIS ASSISTANCE BY REPUBLICAN LEADERS, AND HE HAS AT ALL TIMES BEEN COOPERATIVE. IT SEEMS THAT IN THE EYES OF THIS SMALL NARROW-MINDED GROUP THAT TO BE THE CHAIRMAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS TO BE A BOSS; BUT TO BE CHAIRMAN OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IS TO BE A LEADER. IT'S TIME TO TELL THE TRUTH. IT'S TIME TO REPUDIATE THIS LOW TYPE OF POLITICS. THE FACT STILL REMAINS—THE DEMOCRATS OPERATED THIS COUNTY ON LESS MONEY IN 1959 than the Republicans did in 1958. IT'S TIME TO ELECT DEMOCRATS TO THE COURT HOUSE.

NOVEMBER 8th IS THE DAY!

It's Time to Tell the Truth Committee
Margaret Zellers, Chairman.

Avery

Montgomery Ward dispute with a CIO union.

When on April 26, 1944, government officials, backed by troops, occupied Ward property in Chicago, Avery sat defiantly in his office.

The next day two soldiers entered his office, picked him up and deposited him in the street outside.

Pictures of Avery, immaculately groomed and apparently unruffled, being carried by two GIs were among the most widely circulated news photos of the decade.

He later said he deliberately maneuvered the government into a show of force to dramatize what he called the "march of dictatorship" in the United States.

Two weeks later, the labor controversy was settled, the government relinquished Ward control and Avery was back on the job.

His last big battle was a successful defense in 1955 against financier Wolfson's campaign to wrest control of Montgomery Ward.

Wolfson, then 43, staged an eight-month proxy fight against Avery, saying Avery was no longer fit to run the huge $700-million mail order concern.

Avery, then 81, fought back and won. A few months later he resigned as board chairman and four years later, critically ill with a cancerous tumor, severed his last connection with Ward management.

Avery's first triumph in business came in 1905 when he vaulted to the presidency of United States Gylsum Co. after only four years with the firm. From 1937 to 1951 he was chairman of the board.

Davis he did not see Snider crossing the street until the pedestrian was in front of the 1953 sedan which he estimated was traveling between 15 and 20 miles an hour.

Snider, a batter-out at the pottery for the past five years, resides during the week at Carolina Ave. and Dunn St., returning to his home at Little, near Sistersville, on the weekends, Chief Davis said.

Of the two witnesses questioned, one said he only saw Snider "hurtling" through the air, while the other said only the sound of the man hitting the street was heard.

Darlington Man Dies In Beaver Accident

A 75-year-old Darlington motorist died of mass internal injuries received Monday at 11 a. m. when his car was hit broadside by that of a Youngstown motorist on Route 51 five miles north of Beaver Falls.

Grover Fosnaught, 75, was dead on arrival at Providence Hospital, Beaver Falls. Roger W. Morris, 28, of Youngstown, driver of the other auto, suffered lacerations of both legs.

The accident occurred at the Cannelton - Darlington intersection. According to the Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police, Mr. Fosnaught was traveling south on Route 481 and Morris north on Route 51.

Police do not know if Mr. Fosnaught failed to observe a stop sign or whether he may have stopped and then entered the intersection and was hit.

Damage included $400 to the Fosnaught car and $1,600 to Morris'.

Charleston Autoist Injured Near Clinton

A Charleston (W. Va.) motorist is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received early today when he wrecked his car on Route 30 about 5 miles west of Clinton.

Ronald House, 50, a horse trainer, was admitted at 4:30 a. m. with a laceration of his nose, right arm and a bruise of his left eye. He fell asleep and ran off the road and the car hit a cinder pile, the Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said.

Avery

Montgomery Ward dispute with a CIO union.

When on April 26, 1944, government officials, backed by troops, occupied Ward property in Chicago, Avery sat defiantly in his office.

The next day two soldiers entered his office, picked him up and deposited him in the street outside.

Pictures of Avery, immaculately groomed and apparently unruffled, being carried by two GIs were among the most widely circulated news photos of the decade.

He later said he deliberately maneuvered the government into a show of force to dramatize what he called the "march of dictatorship" in the United States.

Two weeks later, the labor controversy was settled, the government relinquished Ward control and Avery was back on the job.

His last big battle was a successful defense in 1955 against financier Wolfson's campaign to wrest control of Montgomery Ward.

Wolfson, then 43, staged an eight-month proxy fight against Avery, saying Avery was no longer fit to run the huge $700-million mail order concern.

Avery, then 81, fought back and won. A few months later he resigned as board chairman and four years later, critically ill with a cancerous tumor, severed his last connection with Ward management.

Avery's first triumph in business came in 1905 when he vaulted to the presidency of United States Gylsum Co. after only four years with the firm. From 1937 to 1951 he was chairman of the board.

Snider, a batter-out at the pottery for the past five years, resides during the week at Carolina Ave. and Dunn St., returning to his home at Little, near Sistersville, on the weekends, Chief Davis said.

Of the two witnesses questioned, one said he only saw Snider "hurtling" through the air, while the other said only the sound of the man hitting the street was heard.

Darlington Man Dies In Beaver Accident

A 75-year-old Darlington motorist died of mass internal injuries received Monday at 11 a. m. when his car was hit broadside by that of a Youngstown motorist on Route 51 five miles north of Beaver Falls.

Grover Fosnaught, 75, was dead on arrival at Providence Hospital, Beaver Falls. Roger W. Morris, 28, of Youngstown, driver of the other auto, suffered lacerations of both legs.

The accident occurred at the Cannelton - Darlington intersection. According to the Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police, Mr. Fosnaught was traveling south on Route 481 and Morris north on Route 51.

Police do not know if Mr. Fosnaught failed to observe a stop sign or whether he may have stopped and then entered the intersection and was hit.

Damage included $400 to the Fosnaught car and $1,600 to Morris'.

Miss Janet A. Geisse Weds Serviceman At Church Rite

MRS. WILLIAM ANDREWS
Bride Of Double Ring Ceremony.

Miss Janet Ann Geisse wore a cap of lace petals edged with seed pearls and pearl tear drops highlighting each point when she became the bride of Airman 2C William G. Andrews Oct. 22 at 7:30 o'clock in the Calvary Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Geisse, 862 Lisbon St., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Andrews of Richmond R. D. 1.

The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns, white flowers and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

William Richards presented a half-hour recital of organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor - length gown of nylon tulle appliqued with lace medallions. The basque bodice had short cap sleeves and a scalloped Sabrina neckline embroidered with iridescent equins. A bustle bow in the back was fashioned of bouquet taffeta covered with tulle and the bouffant skirt ended in a brush train. Her fingertip veil was of imported silk illusion.

She wore a pearl necklace and matching earrings, gifts of the bridegroom, and lace mitts. Observing the traditions, she borrowed a lace handkerchief from her sister, Miss Susan Rae Geisse. She carried a white lace covered Bible, topped with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers.

Miss Geisse, as maid of honor, wore a deep purple ballerina-length gown of nylon chiffon. Hr matching headband was formed of feathers and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white rosebuds.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Baker, cousin of the bride, and Miss Patricia Betteridge. They wore identically - styled, ballerina length gowns of shocking pink nylon chiffon with white headbands. They wore white gloves, gifts of the bride, and carried Colonial bouquets of white rosebuds.

Pfc. Arthur Householder of Fort Knox, Ky., was best man. Ushers were Jay Moss and Donald Snediker.

The mother of the bride chose a sheath of Loden green taffeta with allover Schiffli embroidery and a fischu of nylon organza. She wore matching green shoes and a feather hat. Beige gloves and a squirrel stole completed her attire. The bridegroom's mother wore a dark blue silk dress trimmed with black. She used black accessories and wore a corsage of yellow tea roses.

A reception for 100 was held at Travelers Hotel. A three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple and encircled with greenery, centered the buffet table. Palms and vases of white mums were used for background decorations.

Aides were Mrs. James B. Moss, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. James A. Moss and Mrs. Paul Madison, her cousins.

Out-of-town guests were from Cleveland, Richmond, Wellsville, Toronto and Louisville, Ky.

For a honeymoon trip through the Southern states, the bride wore a winter white wool sheath with pink feather hat and a brown mouton jacket, along with her bridal orchids.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School and also was graduated from Ohio Valley Business College. She is employed as teletypist at the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland.

Her husband was graduated from Wellsville High School in 1956 and has been with the Air Force 3 years. He spent two years in Japan, returning to the states in July. He is stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base in Columbus and will be discharged in June.

The bride will remain with her parents until her husband's discharge.

A rehearsal party for 20 was held the evening preceding the ceremony at the home of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Moss of Berkshire Rd. A decorated cake and lighted tapers in crystal holders formed the buffet table setting.

Miss Janet A. Geisse Weds Serviceman At Church Rite

Miss Janet Ann Geisse wore a cap of lace petals edged with seed pearls and pearl tear drops highlighting each point when she became the bride of Airman 2C William G. Andrews Oct. 22 at 7:30 o'clock in the Calvary Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Geisse, 862 Lisbon St., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Andrews of Richmond R. D. 1.

The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns, white flowers and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

William Richards presented a half-hour recital of organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor - length gown of nylon tulle appliqued with lace medallions. The basque bodice had short cap sleeves and a scalloped Sabrina neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins. A bustle bow in the back was fashioned of bouquet taffeta covered with tulle and the bouffant skirt ended in a brush train. Her fingertip veil was of imported silk illusion.

She wore a pearl necklace and matching earrings, gifts of the bridegroom, and lace mitts. Observing the traditions, she borrowed a lace handkerchief from her sister, Miss Susan Rae Geisse. She carried a white lace covered Bible, topped with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers.

Miss Geisse, as maid of honor, wore a deep purple ballerina-length gown of nylon chiffon. Hr matching headband was formed of feathers and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white rosebuds.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Baker, cousin of the bride, and Miss Patricia Betteridge. They wore identically - styled, ballerina length gowns of shocking pink nylon chiffon with white headbands. They wore white gloves, gifts of the bride, and carried Colonial bouquets of white rosebuds.

Pfc. Arthur Householder of Fort Knox, Ky., was best man. Ushers were Jay Moss and Donald Snediker.

The mother of the bride chose a sheath of Loden green taffeta with allover Schiffli embroidery and a fischu of nylon organza. She wore matching green shoes and a feather hat. Beige gloves and a squirrel stole completed her attire. The bridegroom's mother wore a dark blue silk dress trimmed with black. She used black accessories and wore a corsage of yellow tea roses.

MRS. WILLIAM ANDREWS
Bride Of Double Ring Ceremony.

A reception for 100 was held at Travelers Hotel. A three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple and encircled with greenery, centered the buffet table. Palms and vases of white mums were used for background decorations.

Aides were Mrs. James B. Moss, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. James A. Moss and Mrs. Paul Madison, her cousins.

Out-of-town guests were from Cleveland, Richmond, Wellsville, Toronto and Louisville, Ky.

For a honeymoon trip through the Southern states, the bride wore a winter white wool sheath with pink feather hat and a brown mouton jacket, along with her bridal orchids.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School and also was graduated from Ohio Valley Business College. She is employed as teletypist at the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My elderly uncle has been confined to a mental institution for several years. He's harmless, quiet and never bothers anyone.

Every Thanksgiving I have a big family dinner and I always invite this uncle, as he is released on holidays. His clothes don't fit very well and he looks out of place with his institutional-type haircut but he's mannerly and pleasant.

Sometimes he becomes a little restless when there's a lot of conversation around him and he moved from chair to chair.

My husband told me last night I should not invite my uncle this year because his "queer ways" make him uncomfortable. He says I don't owe this uncle anything, and I do owe him the courtesy of selecting Thanksgiving dinner guests. Who is right?—AUSTIN.

Dear Austin: Your uncle probably looks forward to this dinner as one of the highlights of his lonesome, wretched existence. It would be unspeakably cruel to exclude him. He's not just an ordinary guest. There are many aspects of this situation that make him a very special guest, indeed.

Keep inviting him, Honey, and tell your husband if he becomes too uncomfortable, he can take himself for a walk around the block.

Long, Long Trail

Dear Ann: I've been going with Wilfred for nine years. I bought a wedding dress when he first asked me to marry him, back in 1951. It was a size 10. Now I'm a size 14 and I can't get into the dress to save my neck. The seams can't be let out any more, eigher. I looked.

The trouble is not with us, Ann, it's our folks. I am 34 and Wilfred is 36. Whenever we set a date something happens, like his mother has had three heart attacks and my dad has had asthma troubles.

Two years ago his folks had to borrow $2,000 from him to save their home. That was the money we were going to get married on.

Last June everything was set and my mother came to me with tears in her eyes. She begged me to wait until my older sister gets a man. She is 38 and nothing is in sight. What do you suggest?—GERT.

Dear Gert: A double set of apron strings is strangling your hopes for a life together.

You and your boyfriend (36—this is a boy?) should set a date now, and get married come heart attack, asthma, mortgages or unmarried sister.

If you wait until everything is just right with both your families, someone will have to wheel you down the wedding aisle.

A One-Timer

Dear Ann: I'm a boy 16 with a big problem. I can't get a girl to go out with me twice. When I ask for a second date they always have some flimsy excuse.

I can't understand this because when we're out on the first date they seem to have a lovely time. They always thank me for the pleasant evening and say it was fun.

I do believe in holding hands and a kiss on the first date. Sometimes I get a "no" and sometimes a "yes." The girls I take out are all 15 and come from good families. Can you tell me why I'm having this problem?—WONDERING.

Dear Wondering: I'll bet you'd have better luck if you didn't try to hold hands and kiss on the first date. Some girls could get the notion you're overly aggressive—and I think they'd be right.

Ann Landers will be glad to to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DPA's Budget Increased In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP — The Department of Public Assistance has boosted its total budget request for the year to begin next July 1 from an original $63,915,603 to $75,183,413 as a result of a new medical care plan.

A recent special legislative session made possible West Virginia participation in a new federal-aid, medical assistance program for persons 65 and over not on relief, but unable to pay for medical care.

The lawmakers also dipped into anticipated general revenue fund surplus for the current year for $1,382,000 to put the program into operation for a six-months period beginning Oct. 1.

The appropriation contained $1,207,256 specifically for medical services, and that money will be matched by the federal government at a rate of $73 for each $27 in state funds.

The remainder of the $1,382,000 will go for salaries, current expenses and equipment to operate the new program, and generally will be matched by the federal government on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

An estimated 102,500 persons with net incomes of less than $1,500 a year are covered by the new plan, to be operated along the same general benefit lines as an older one covering those over 65 on public assistance rolls.

Awards Given 2 School Units

Both the 1st St. and 4th St. Parent-Teachers Associations of Midland were presented awards for outstanding achievements last year at a luncheon meeting of the Beaver County Council of PTAs Saturday at Beaver Junior High School.

Some 157 attended, representing 43 units. Beaver elementary units were hosts and Mrs. John Haggerty of Midland, president, presided.

Mrs. Haggerty awarded honor standard certificates to the 1st St. unit and a standard to 4th St. group. Mrs. George J. Suznevich was president of 1st St. and Mrs. Haggerty headed 4th St. last year.

Mrs. Homer Paul of Industry, publications chairman last year, was presented a pin Mrs. Haggerty received recently at a convention at Pittsburgh for the council selling the most PTA magazines in the state.

Attending from the Midland area were Mrs. Suznevich, president, and Mrs. Adam Hodnick, vice president, both of 1st St. School; Mrs. Julius Jacob, president, and Mrs. William White, vice president, both of 4th St. School.

Mrs. Eugene Fritz, president, and Mrs. James Vesco, vice president, both of 7th St. School; and Mrs. Otha Mosley, a Midland delegate.

Attending from Industry were Mrs. Laco Shrede, president; Mrs. Homer Gifford, vice president; Mrs. William Duck, delegate, Mrs. Amos Walker, treasurer; Mrs. Paul, Beaver County Council bylaws chairman; and George Vlaich, president, and Mrs. Glenn R. Evans, membership chairman, both of Fairview School.

Bus Drivers Slate Vote On New Contract

CLEVELAND (AP)—About 5,000 union drivers and maintenance men in the 15-state Eastern Division of Greyhound Corp. will vote Nov. 22 on an offered two-year contract with five-cent hourly raises in each year.

Negotiators for the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes agreed Monday night to continue working, pending the vote, instead of calling a previously authorized strike at midnight.

Joseph P. Fahey, chief negotiator for the union, said his committee "decided it was best that the company offer be voted on by the membership, meanwhile continuing to work."

The committee made no immediate recommendation for acceptance or rejection of the offer which affects about 500 Greyhound workers here and 4,500 others scattered from Bangor, Maine, to Indianapolis. Negotiations for three Greyhound divisions are being held at Chicago.

In addition to the two five-cent raises, the proposed contract includes other benefits, said John W. Powell, Eastern Greyhound vice president. He listed:

Health and welfare benefit increases of a dollar a month in each year, increased mileage rates, continuation of an escalator clause which has added four cents to hourly rates during the term of the present contract, and four-week vacations after 20 years service, compared with a present 25-year requirement.

Company spokesmen said average pay rate of drivers ranges from about $2.40 to $3 an hour, but sliding scales according to mileage and hours enable some drivers to earn as much as $6 hourly.

Wellsville Scout Fund Drive Reaches $400

About $400 has been collected in Wellsville's Boy Scout Fund drive, according to James Laughlin and Donald Wellington, co-chairmen.

Laughlin said there are several areas to be collected. The weather has delayed the solicitation to some extent.

Original plans had called for the drive to end last Wednesday. Laughlin said he plans to obtain a final total Wednesday.

The drive is held annually in Wellsville to raise the city's share of support for the Columbiana Boy Scout Council as the town does not have a United Fund appeal.

Catholic Archbishop Brands Vote Influence Charge 'Lie'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Catholic archbishop of Boston said Monday night that he had been accused by a Masonic official of once influencing a Senate vote by Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy. He termed it "a colossal lie."

Richard Cardinal Cushing made the statement in informal remarks preceding an address before the 30th biennial convention of the National Council of Catholic Women.

The archbishop, protesting that he had been dragged into the 1960 political picture, made no direct mention of the fact Sen. Kennedy is a Catholic.

But he said: "I am trying to find out what we have to do to convince people that a Catholic merely by the force of his faith should be and is bound to be an honorable, loyal and faithful citizen of the country."

Cardinal Cushing said, "I received this morning—and I have here in my pocket—an editorial written by a high authority in a branch of the Masonic order.

"In that editorial I am specifically blamed as the man who on one occasion obliged Sen. Kennedy to change his vote in a matter of a bill pertaining to federal aid to education. That charge is a colossal lie."

He did not identify the writer of the editorial or the publication that carried it.

Chester Woman Injured In Fall

A Chester area woman hurt in a fall and a city man injured on a car hood were among four area residents treated at City Hospital after separate mishaps Monday.

Margaret Blake, 22, of Middle Run Rd., Chester, was treated last night for a possible fracture of the left ankle suffered in a fall when she slipped.

Clyde Hunt, 33, of Locust St. received a bruised finger when a car hood closed on him.

While playing volleyball at school, Sondra Welling, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Welling, 809 W. 8th St., suffered an injury to the right wrist.

Josephine Graham, 1755 Maple Ave., Wellsville, was treated for injuries to the left arm received when caught in a washing machine wringer.

Thief Makes It Almost Too Easy For Police

CINCINNATI (AP) — A thief made it almost too easy for police after breaking into a furniture store Monday.

The burglar took 15 one-gallon cans of paint worth $48. But in his haste, three of the cans were dropped and broke open. The thief slipped and fell in the paint.

Police, called by the store supervisor who discovered the theft, followed an easy paint trail down the street to a home on another street.

Inside the house were a pair of shoes and a hat covered with the paint. But the owner of the clothes was missing and police are still looking for him.

Kennedy's Maternal Grandmother Is 95

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy's maternal grandmother, Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, was 95 Monday.

She observed the anniversary quietly at the home of a son, receiving visits from other members of the family, including her daughter Rose, mother of the Democratic presidential nominee.

The senator sent a telegram of congratulations.

Father Of 2 Crushed As Poles Fall On Truck

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Paul F. Krouse, 29-year-old Columbus father of two, was crushed to death Monday when three steel light poles fell off a truck at the State Highway Department sign shop here where he worked.

The truck, driven by G. W. Chance of Canton and owned by Oyler Motor Transit Corp. there, was in the shop lot to deliver a load of the poles, each weighting 753 pounds and 26 feet long.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Krouse tried to climb up the side of the truck to cut steel straps holding the cargo together. One of several stakes surrounding the load broke, and three poles rolled off the truck onto the victim, the patrol said.

Mansfield Firm Buys Company In California

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co. today completed purchase of the Pacific Tire & Rubber Co., of Oakland, Calif., in which it has held a half-interest for nearly 10 years.

James H. Hoffman, president, said the remaining 50 per cent of Pacific's stock has been acquired from Bay Rubber Co. for an undisclosed price. Inland Rubber Corp., a wholly owned Mansfield subsidiary, has owned 50 per cent of the California firm since January 1951. Mansfield has operated the Oakland plant's fire and tread rubber manufacturing facilities through a lease agreement since Nov. 1, 1952.

Brooke Squire To Pay $20,643 In Shortages

WELLSBURG — A lawyer for Magistrate Angelo B. Ciccolella of Follansbee today was scheduled to pay back to Brooke County all of the $20,643 shortage found in an audit of the justice's of the peace books.

Atty. Donald Donell also says he plans to ask for a review of a Tax Commission audit.

Ciccolella, father of eight, is running unopposed for re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My elderly uncle has been confined to a mental institution for several years. He's harmless, quiet and never bothers anyone.

Every Thanksgiving I have a big family dinner and I always invite this uncle, as he is released on holidays. His clothes don't fit very well and he looks out of place with his institutional-type haircut but he's mannerly and pleasant.

Sometimes he becomes a little restless when there's a lot of conversation around him and he moved from chair to chair.

My husband told me last night I should not invite my uncle this year because his "queer ways" make him uncomfortable. He says I don't owe this uncle anything, and I do owe him the courtesy of selecting Thanksgiving dinner guests. Who is right?—AUSTIN.

Dear Austin: Your uncle probably looks forward to this dinner as one of the highlights of his lonesome, wretched existence. It would be unspeakably cruel to exclude him. He's not just an ordinary guest. There are many aspects of this situation that make him a very special guest, indeed.

Keep inviting him, Honey, and tell your husband if he becomes too uncomfortable, he can take himself for a walk around the block.

Long, Long Trail

Dear Ann: I've been going with Wilfred for nine years. I bought a wedding dress when he first asked me to marry him, back in 1951. It was a size 10. Now I'm a size 14 and I can't get into the dress to save my neck. The seams can't be let out any more, eigher. I looked.

Last June everything was set and my mother came to me with tears in her eyes. She begged me to wait until my older sister gets a man. She is 38 and nothing is in sight. What do you suggest?—GERT.

Dear Gert: A double set of apron strings is strangling your hopes for a life together.

You and your boyfriend (36—this is a boy?) should set a date now, and get married come heart attack, asthma, mortgages or unmarried sister.

If you wait until everything is just right with both your families, someone will have to wheel you down the wedding aisle.

Dear Wondering: I'll bet you'd have better luck if you didn't try to hold hands and kiss on the first date. Some girls could get the notion you're overly aggressive—and I think they'd be right.

Ann Landers will be glad to to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Juvenile Delinquency Strikes Suburbs

On the air and in the newspapers you have heard or read, in recent months and years, of gangs of teen-age boys in New York or other large cities battling with one another, using knives, guns or all sorts of primitive weapons. Often there are reports of some dead and many wounded. The impression, often false, which the public gets is that all these gangs come from low-income homes and areas.

Dr. Garry Meyers

In a New York City paper recently, on two successive days, accounts appeared of outbreaks of violence between teenage boys from suburban areas. The news account of August 15th, headed Somers, N.Y., stated that 18 of these youngsters were arraigned before the Sommers Town Court.

—:—

ACCORDING TO the news item, Justice of the Peace James E. Koegel said the youths seemed courteous and well-bred; some drove expensive cars and some jalopies.

He was also quoted as saying that in 13 years in office he had never heard of such "disgraceful behavior" by boys in this quiet suburban town 40 miles from New York.

In the same paper the next day was the headline "Adults Ask Arms Against Youths".

According to this second news story from Somers, petitions were signed by 76 residents — commuters and business people — describing a recent "riot" of 100 youths wielding "crowbars, knives, ball bats, broken bottles, link chains, nuts, bolts, long screw drivers and rocks".

The petitions asked to have armed volunteers deputized for protection.

Presumably many of these youths were from so-called good and respectable families.

CONSIDER THE thousands of parents who move to areas they consider peaceful and good for their children to grow up in.

True, some hoodlums migrate to these "good places" from other places, even other "good places". But it's qute apparent that a lot of vandalism and all sorts of juvenile delinquency is being hatched and multiplied from so-called good areas and good homes.

While I sympathize with those citizens who clamor for protection in their community, I believe they could do a far greater service in the long run if they would prevail on the parents of their own social and economic levels, by precept and example, to start with their tots on the early years to teach them some inhibitions as a foundation for respect for the rights of others.

My bulletins, "How To Teach Tot Meaning of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Wheeling Parade Set

WHEELING — The fourth annual department store Christmas parade will be held Nov. 19 in downtown Wheeling, marking the opening of the holiday shopping season. Participating bands will include Weirton and Follansbee High Schools.

Rhythm Helps Teen-Age Reducing Plan

A mother took her overweight pre-teen daughter to the doctor. The doctor, upon finding the girl healthy but soft and flabby, said, "Madam, your daughter is suffering from inertia." Whereupon the young lady brightened up, saying, "See Mom, I told you I wasn't just plumb lazy!"

By Ida Jean Kain

Girls, here's the test: If you have an overabundance of fat padding where a 24-inch waist should be, and hips that measure past the 36-inch yard line. . .inertia's got you.

Exercise is the sure cure. So, strike up the band. You've got rhythm, haven't you? Try rhythm-slimming. You'll find it fun and fat-freeing.

TURN ON SOME music—music with a definite beat—and stretch, twist, turn, and swing to the rhythm. At the same time, improvise a word game. . .say magic words to emphasize this figure-fixing.

Chant, "Fat replaced with a. . . neat, sweet waist" as you move with this following exercise. Position: Standing, feet wide apart, left arm arched overhead, palm of right hand at side of thigh, ballerina-style.

Movement: B-e-n-d toward the right side, rhythmically stretching far out with the fingers of left hand as you change each word—"Fat re-placed. . .with a. . .neat sweet waist." Repeat a half-dozen times, change sides and repeat.

From the same standing position, try the whirl-away. This time, chant, "A svelte line. . .at the beltline." Try it:

Movement: Arms arched overhead, bend to the side, circle around to the front, and to the other side and up. Reverse the circle, keeping the action smack at the waistline. Hips still—this is not a rhumba!

You like rock-and-roll, so turn it to hip slimming.

Position: Sitting on the floor, leaning back to bring weight to bear on bulges. Have legs straight out, palms on floor at either side, slightly back.

MOVEMENT: R-o-l-l across the hipline. . .chanting, "Roll-off-the-bulges." That exercise is a barrel of fun. Continue through a part of one record. . .then flop over on back and stretch for streamlines.

You don't have to put up with bumps and bulges. Stop overeating. . .and get a move on!

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Halloween Dance In Midland Draws 165 At Teen's Site

Some 165 attended the Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center's fifth annual Jack O'Lantern Ball Saturday evening and several were awarded prizes for costumes.

They are Vivian LaMantia, Jim McGeehan, Vicky Mecklem, Patsy Lento, Mary Adams and Phyllis DiMaggio.

George Wilson of television station WSTV at Steubenville, master of ceremonies, brought with him Ricky Palmer and "The Kampus Kids," a recording and instrumental quartet of the Toronto area.

Bill Murtland of the Arthur Murray dancing school at Steubenville gave an exhibition of ballroom dancing with Joyce McGinnis, also of Steubenville.

The center made its annual donation to UNICEF from the evening's proceeds. A $10 check was presented by Miss Ann Barbara Baich, center queen, to Miss Jean Petrosky of the Christian Youth Fellowship.

The center will be open Friday night after the last high school home game. The next big event will be the Thanksgiving Dance Friday, Nov. 25. Mrs. William Spisak is director.

Zanesville Woman, 34, Faces Arraignment

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Audrey Mae Galla, 34, will be arraigned Friday on a second-degree murder indictment in the Sept. 3 pistol-slaying of her husband, John, 33, at their Zanesville home. Meanwhile, she's free on $10,000 bond.

Police said she admitted shooting her husband with a .22 caliber revolver, but that she claimed she acted in self-defense when he allegedly threatened her with a nine-inch butcher knife.

Salem Printing Firm Bought For $200,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 14-year-old Layden-Hammell Co. of Salem, which has an annual printing business of $250,000, has been purchased by William Feather Co. of Cleveland for $200,000. William Feather Jr., who heads the Cleveland area's largest commercial printing firm, said Monday the Layden-Hammell facilities would operate as a "completely separate and independent unit" serving an area in a triangle formed by map lines connecting Akron, Youngstown and Steubenville.

125 At Lisbon Jaycee Party For Youngsters

LISBON — Some 125 young people attended the Halloween party given Saturday night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Lincoln School. Atty. Joe Baronzzi was chairman.

Games were played and $2 prizes for costumes went to Susan Tolson, Evan Evans, Debara Williams, Bill Stanley, Bill Barton, Carol Darcey, Albert Ash, Judy Kenmuir, Sue Ann Adams, Ronda Milhoan, Becky Darcey, Richard Lewis and Loretta Hempstead.

Judges were the Rev. William L. Brown, Mrs. Vern Flora and Ray Dixon.

Cider and doughnuts were served during the party and each was given a treat and apples.

'Vegas Night' Slated

EAST PALESTINE — The Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a "Las Vegas Night" dance at the Veterans of Foregn Wars Post Saturday, Nov. 12. Jim Collila's Band will provide music. Eugene L. Clark, vice president, said area Jaycees are invited to attend.

Iran's Queen Feeds Baby Prince For First Time

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Radiant Queen Farah Diba fed Iran's day-old crown prince for the first time today. Crowds outside the hospital still cheered their joy at the heir to their monarchy.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi beamed happily at his third wife's bedside in the crowded Charity Hospital where the 8-pound 11-ounce heir he had waited so long for was born Monday. It was the ruler's third visit to see his wife and the little black-eyed prince.

"The condition of the queen and the baby is well and satisfactory," said a communique from Dr. Jahanshah Saleh, American-trained gynecologist who delivered the baby.

"Her majesty the queen fed the baby for the first time," the communique reported.

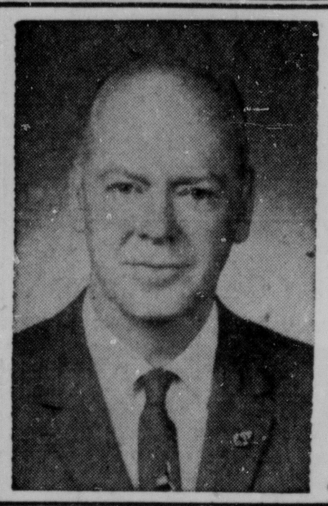

The 23-year-old queen is "very, very happy and in very good health," said Dr. Heilwig Shahgholi, Danish anesthetist who assisted at the birth.

The queen sleeps in an austere iron hospital bed, just as do the charity patients, but special food is sent by car from the palace. Wearing a rose-colored bedjacket, she ate chicken broth Monday night with the shah at her bedside.

The baby's birth on Oct. 31 was considered a particularly happy omen since it was on that date 34 years ago that the shah's father, an Iranian cossack officer, seized the throne and established the Pahlevi dynasty.

No name has been officially announced for the crown prince but it will likely be Reza after his grandfather or Cyrus (Koorosh) after the mighty king who established the Persian monarchy 2,500 years ago.

Johnson Spells Out Charge Nixon 'Dangerous Man'

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson spelled out today the basis for his charge that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is a "dangerous man."

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate used the term without elaboration in Missouri Monday.

In a speech prepared for a Democratic rally in Chicago today, he ridiculed the Republican candidate's campaign tactics.

"He (Nixon) ignores our troubles by claiming they don't exist," Johnson said.

"He covers up the sore spots with a talcum powder make-up of tranquility.

"He closes the blinds of the windows that look out upon a turbulent world. While the storm rages outside, he sits in a soundproof room listening to the status quo songs of Republican complacency.

"It is time to remind the vice president that American independence wasn't won by a philosophy of 'all's well with the world and it cannot be better.'"

Johnson said all Nixon offered was "cut down, stripped down versions of Democratic programs."

"It is dangerous to elect a man like this to be president of the United States," the Texan said.

7 Held In Cleveland In Stolen Meat Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seven persons, including two women, were arrested after a stolen truck containing 16 tons of meat was found in an East Side driveway Monday afternoon. They were held without charge.

The truck was stolen Sunday from near the home of the owner, Carl Neinke, who had parked it for the weekend. Meinke was taking the meat, valued at about $20,000, from Milwaukee to Pittsburgh.

The one '61 car built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself . . . and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend—were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built.

The new '61 Ford is worth trading for and living with. See it . . . drive it . . . and convince yourself: This is the Ford in your future!

FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $4.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

*Based on 18 minutes' service at today's national average labor costs

An honor to be proud of, this is the medal presented by the international fashion authority Centro per l'Alta Moda Italiana, for functional expression of classic beauty in the 1961 Ford.

FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $4.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

*Based on 18 minutes' service at today's national average labor costs

An honor to be proud of, this is the medal presented by the international fashion authority Centro per l'Alta Mode Italiana, for functional expression of classic beauty in the 1961 Ford.

District Has Bad Weekend . . .

If district gridders have a defeatist attitude today, it is easy to understand. Area high school teams had one of the worst weekends of football that we can remember.

No one won in the immediate area, outside competition making a clean sweep. Only five out of the 17 teams in the district came out on the winning side.

Salem continued to roll, Columbiana nudged Springfield Local, Lisbon topped Leetonia and Salineville and Fairfield-Waterford won Saturday tilts.

The big surprises were Jefferson Union's upset over Wellsville, Beaver Local's lopsided loss to West Branch and the Poland-East Palestine tie.

Along with these came East Liverpool's 34-14 defeat by Steubenville Central in a tough-luck game for the Potters.

FOUR teams wind up their 1960 grid campaigns this weekend. They include Newell, Salineville, United and Midland.

—:—

RON McLAUGHLIN, hampered by a leg injury in the West Branch game, held onto the district scoring, but Rogers Ours of Wellsville slipped into second place in the only change among the area's top five scorers.

McLaughlin still shows 110 points, while the 8 points by Ours gave the Wellsville star 76, passing East Palestine's Jerry Bush entrenched in third place with 74. Rick Bowling of Lisbon is fourth with 64 and Salem's pile-driving fullback Ron Janovec shows 58.

The top five scorers follow:

	TD's	Con.	Total
McLaughlin (BL)	16	14	110
Ours (Wellsville)	10	16	76
Bush (E. Palestine)	10	14	74
Bowling (Lisbon)	10	4	64
Janovec (Salem)	9	3	58

Two Top Games In County . . .

THE DISTRICT will have two top games on the same night this week. East Liverpool will attempt to spoil Salem's bid for an undefeated season, while Wellsville seeks revenge for an upset suffered last season at Beaver Local.

The Wellsville - Beaver Local clash is expected to draw the largest crowd of the season at Nicholson Stadium. This is the game many of the fans have been waiting for, and it should be a good one.

However, the Tigers may have to play without their fine quarterback Roger Ours, the mastermind of the Wellsville eleven.

Ours was released Monday from the Osteopathic Hospital, where he had been confined with injuries suffered at Jefferson Union Thursday.

X-rays revealed Ours suffered a cracked rib, bruises and torn ligaments. Coach Ken Woods of Wellsville says "it is very doubtful that Ours will play against Beaver Local.

THERE ARE several reasons why Salem would rate a slight edge on East Liverpool Friday night.

The schedule and the rest in between games must be considered. Salem played last Thursday night and had a tough time getting past Boardman, but the Quakers came out of the game without a scratch.

On the other hand, East Liverpool was losing to Steubenville Central and took a physical beating as well. There were no serious injuries, but the boys were near exhaustion at the game's end and several aren't over the bruises yet. Also by Friday Salem will have had an extra two days rest on the Potters, another factor in the Quakers' favor.

Quarterbacks Grow On Trees? . . .

THE REST of the country must think quarterbacks grow on trees around East Liverpool. It seems about every time you pick up a newspaper an East Liverpool quarterback is doing something.

Saturday at Purdue it was Bernie Allen scoring all the points on two touchdowns as Illinois edged the Boilermakers, 14-12.

He went in the end zone on a 3-yard run in the first quarter and scored from the one in the fourth period.

Allen's first placement was blocked, so Purdue, trailing 14-12 after its second touchdown, tried for a two-point conversion, but Jim Tiller was stopped cold.

On Purdue's last scoring drive Allen was the whole show again. He ran for 24 yards, passed to Tiller for 11, ran for anotther 13 yards and then finally passed to Tiller for 27 more to set up his quarterback sneak.

—:—

JIM POTTS had one of his best days on the college gridiron as Bowling Green ran over ill-fated California Poly, 50-6.

He batted 1.000, connecting on four passes and three were good for touchdowns. One covered 76 yards, while the other two were good for 22.

At Evanston, Ill., Bob Mackall, the Potter quarterback of last season, is performing with the Northwestern freshmen. Big 10 freshmen teams do not play regular schedules, but scrimmage the varsity and hold inter-squad drills.

Mackall is rated one of the top quarterbacks in the freshmen crop and the Northwestern coaching staff is expecting great things of the East Liverpool star next season.

And now this season, East Liverpool has come up with Cunningham, rated by opposing coaches, players and fans as one of the best passing quarterbacks they have ever seen.

From The Mailbox . . .

The following letter was written by George Connelly of 139 W. 3rd St.:

"Dear Sir: Saturday night at the Central-Potter game, Coach Venditti had added woes beside losing players through injury.

"I just want to point out an incident that happened in front of Mrs. Connelly and myself and I think the local fans should know. A heckler kept riding Lou throughout the game (the heckler sat next to us). This joker finally yelled 'Sit down, coach, you have a quarterback in there!' (meaning Venditti was calling plays from the sidelines). "Lou turned and replied, 'Yes I know and I'm proud of him.'

"Any coach who shows such unselfish interest in his group of players deserves every bit of praise and backing we can give him."

WE ALSO received another letter in the mail this week but it was signed "A Fan."

Unless the letters are signed in the writer's name we will not print them in this column.

Lima, Alliance Close In On Champs; Warren Ranked 6th, Salem 8th

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Massillon's state champions dropped their first game in 21 starts Friday night—but the Tigers cling by one shaky claw to the top rung of the state's high school football ratings.

Warren's Panthers, who defeated Massillon 6-0 in 1958 for their last loss, did it again—this time by 19-18 as the Tigers missed three conversions.

Fred Caldwell, who had missed two previous tries, booted the deciding point with 1:28 to go as the Panthers, in their first year under Coach Ben Wilson, stormed from behind three times.

But 44 sports editors voting in the Associated Press poll clung to the consensus that the Tigers are the best team in the state as they kept the Stark County powerhouse on top in the weekly rankings today.

However, the Tigers now are in the midst of the hottest fight the poll has ever experienced. A week ago Massillon led Alliance by 115 poll points and had 12 of 41 first-place votes.

Today the Tigers boast only three top-place nods, and Lima Senior has moved into the runner-up slot—only five points, or a single sixth-place vote—back of the champs. Third, another 10 points back, are Alliance's 1958 champion Aviators, last - minute losers to Massillon a few weeks ago.

Sandusky, dominating the first-place votes with 12, is a husky fourth with 244 points, only 46 back of Massillon's 290—making it a four-team race for the title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy.

Warren, which lost two and tied one of its first three games, now has a winning streak of four—and came from nowhere to take sixth place in the poll.

Massillon was not the only Top Ten team to run into a snag. Sixth - ranked Cincinnati Roger Bacon was nosed out 9-6 by unbeaten Cincinnati Purcell and fell to tenth; Dayton Chaminade was trounced 30-14 by Dayton Roosevelt and skidded from seventh to among the also-rans, and Niles McKinley, although tied 13-13 by Farrell, Pa., jumped a notch to seventh.

Springfield South, 34-19 winner over Hamilton Garfield, rose from tenth to ninth, Salem climbed from ninth to eighth with a 13-8 win over Boardman, and Marion Harding remained in fifth by blanking Toledo Scott 28-0.

Lima's 56-14 win over Portsmouth aided its elevation to second, while Alliance took a 20-6 victory over Canton McKinley in falling to third. Sandusky triumphed 26-22 over Mansfield.

From here and there: With 43 of the 44 poll votes counted, Lima was on top by a single point (one tenth-place vote) over Massillon, under the 10-9-8-etc. system. The last ballot, however — from the southern sector of the state—had Massillon third and Lima ninth for the six-point spread the Tigers needed to go out front by five.

Only Sandusky, which Warren's Ben Wilson coached last year, and Salem's Quakers are unsullied among the Top Ten. Three of the elite have been beaten twice.

With the score 0-0 in the Massillon game, Warren had the ball on the Tiger 3-yard line, third down, and elected to pass. The heave was intercepted by Massillon's Charley Brown who hustled the length of the field for the first touchdown.

It has been a long time since two teams, making only one conversion in six attempts, caused such a furor. Those misses probably will haunt Massillon's Leo Strang, whose two losses as the Tiger tutor have been to the Panthers.

Lima's 54 points against Portsmouth are the most the school has ever recorded—five of the team's players have 26 or more points. East Liverpool's classy quarterback, Kenny Cunningham, was injured on the kickoff in the 34-14 loss to Steubenville Central.

Unbeaten Butler, which halted Fredericktown's seven-game winning streak by 18-6, has a halfback named Nelson Kline. He was an end for two seasons, but as a ball carrier this year has scored 116. Shelby (7-0) and Norwalk (8-0) meet Friday for the Northern Ohio League title. Galion ended a 10-game losing streak by beating Willard 12-0.

Bucyrus has allowed 124 points in its last two games, and eight foes averaged 38.6. Mansfield's 26-22 loss to Sandusky was the fourth straight Tyger defeat by a single touchdown margin.

How time flies: Basketball practice opens today for football playing schools.

Cage Practice Opens For EL, Ohio Teams

Potter Coach Jim Harris issued the first call today for basketball candidates as practice was launched for Ohio's High School cage teams.

The candidates reported to Memorial Auditorium but missing are several of the 1960-61 prospects who are still performing with the football team, including regulars from last season—Kenny Cunningham and Mike Geon.

Cunningham, the Potters' outstanding quarterback, has been the leading scorer for ELHS the past two basketball campaigns.

Kenny Miller is the lone regular from last season which reported for drills today.

Here's How Buckeye Teams Were Ranked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's how 44 sports editors, 32 from newspapers and 12 from radio-television stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams this week in the Associated Press poll. Shown are the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the won-lost-tied and scoring records of the leaders:

Missouri Gains 2nd

Unbeaten Iowa Remains Nation's No. 1 Grid Team

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The unbeaten Iowa Hawkeyes remain the No. 1 college football team of the nation for the third straight week of the Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

With Syracuse and Baylor dropping from the ranks of the unbeaten and Mississippi being held to a 6-6 tie by Louisiana State, there was a shakeup in other top 10 rankings.

Iowa won by a landslide with 46 first-place votes from the 48-man panel which votes weekly. The only other teams to get first-place ballots were Minnesota and Washington. Each got one.

Mississippi dropped from second to sixth as the result of the tie with LSU. Missouri, a 28-0 winner over Nebraska, shouldered into second place and Minnesota, which meets Iowa in a Big Ten showdown battle Saturday in Minneapolis, took over third place.

Navy, a 14-7 winner after a rugged scramble with Notre Dame, held the No. 4 spot for another week. Ohio State's 21-10 victory over Michigan State moved the winners into fifth place and dumped the losers out of the top ten listing.

Washington took over seventh after nosing out Oregon 7-6 and Tennessee, a newcomer in the top ten, advanced to eighth after whipping North Carolina 27-14.

Syracuse, beaten by Pitt 10-0, slipped from third to ninth on the defeat.

Rice moved into the No. 10 spot by thumping Texas Tech 30-6 and Baylor, beaten for the first time by Texas Christian 14-6, dropped out.

The leaders with first-place votes, points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	Iowa (46)	476
2.	Missouri	359
3.	Minnesota (1)	350
4.	Navy	324
5.	Ohio State	279
6.	Mississippi	265
7.	Washington (1)	142
8.	Tennessee	106
9.	Syracuse	91
10.	Rice	73

Others receiving votes included: Baylor 53, Auburn 31, Duke 29, Pittsburgh 19, UCLA 18, Arkansas 10, Michigan State 9, Colorado 6, Utah State 6, New Mexico State 5, Yale 3, Alabama 2, Texas Christian 1.

OSU To Be At Full Strength Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State coach Woody Hayes expects his Buckeyes to be at full strength when they meet Indiana Saturday in an intra-conference game that doesn't count.

At his press luncheon Monday, Hayes noted that none of the Buckeyes suffered injuries of consequence in last weeks 21-10 conquest of Michigan State. And, Hayes said, guard Don Young and defensive back Bill German, hurt previously, will be in shape for the Hoosiers' invasion of Columbus.

The game doesn't count in the Big Ten standings because Indiana is under league suspension for illegal recruiting practices.

But the Hoosiers haven't beaten a Big Ten foe this year, anyway. Their lone win in six games was over four-time loser Marquette. Meanwhile the rampaging Buckeyes have won five of six and become an increasing threat for the Western Conference crown.

In scoring, Ohio State and Indiana have almost exactly opposite figures. The Bucks have a 144-48 point edge on their opponents while the Hoosiers have been outscored 49-143.

Rushing and passing, Ohio has outgained the Hoosiers 2,002 yards to 1,170.

Despite the record, Hayes built up the Hoosiers a little Monday. He said Indiana has used both the single wing and T-formation offenses this year, that its defense at times was outstanding, and warned:

"Indiana's probation status probably has hurt morale a bit, but any Big Ten team, on a given day, can beat any other Big Ten team."

Frank Kremblas, former Buckeye quarterback and now an assistant coach, spied on the Hoosiers the last three games and tagged them "a team of many moods." He said the Indianans have a fairly good line and a couple of speedy backs, but that penalties (286 yards) and fumbles (7) have hurt their offensive efficiency.

Minnesota's Big Lineman Tough On Opposing Backs

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —It's not true, as some of football's more impressionable scouts have reported, that Minnesota's Tom Brown munches enemy halfbacks for breakfast.

"I have a very stable diet," said the amiable giant. "It does not include halfbacks."

It might only happen at Minnesota, where big-shouldered linemen are the toast of the state and dashing halfbacks merely tolerated, but this 235-pound wrecker is the Gopher with the highest popularity and the biggest reputation.

Big Ten scouts, and those from the pro leagues, say he deserves all of it.

Brown and his massive playmates collide with top-ranked Iowa Saturday in one of college football's climax games of the season, a struggle of unbeaten Big Ten powers.

Brown is a fearsome sight when he charges from his middle guard position to pursue a passer. With similarly disposed linemen he has made Minnesota's defense the best offensive weapon the team has.

Brown already is under draft by the Baltimore Colts.

McCormick Posts Lowest ERA In Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—Lefty Mike McCormick posted the lowest earned run average in the National League in 1960, giving the San Francisco Giants their third consecutive ERA winner.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today that McCormick wound up with a 2.70 earned run mark. Frank Baumann of the Chicago White Sox, another southpaw pitcher, won the ERA crown in the American League with 2.68.

The Giants' Sam Jones was the National League ERA leader in 1959, and Stu Miller in 1958. Giants' pitchers have won the title seven times in the past 12 seasons.

McCormick yielded 76 earned runs in 253 innings. He had a 15-12 won - lost record and hurled four shutouts. Baumann, whose 13-6 record included a pair of shutouts, allowed 55 earned runs in 185 innings.

Ernie Broglio of St. Louis was runnerup in the National League with a 2.75 ERA. Jim Bunning of Detroit was second to Baumann with 2.79.

Here's District Grid Schedule This Week

Dies After Game

Man And Wife Team Up As Cage Tooters

LYNCH, Ky. (AP) —Joe Golden ranks among the top high school basketball officials in southeastern Kentucky. But it seems certain the first boo-boo he pulls he's going to hear about it at home.

The new basketball authority in the Golden household is Joe's pretty brunette wife, Lou — the first woman ever to get an official's license from the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

Lou and Joe will work as a team.

"In the past month she has had a cook book in one hand and a rule book in the other," said Joe.

It was Joe who first suggested his wife try her hand at officiating.

Lou, 28 and the mother of a 10-year-old boy, works her first game Dec. 1.

"The idea of it all is very fascinating and I know that I have two strikes against me when I go out on the floor but I'll give it a try," she explained.

Gridders Dismissed For Breaking Training

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Frank Anderson has dismissed about a dozen members of the Norwood High School football squad for breaking training, the Cincinnati Enquirer reported today.

Those dismissed, for the rest of the season, included four first string players on offense and four on defense.

Norwood, with a 3-4 season mark, plays Harrison Friday.

Browns To Test Giants' Touted Defense Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sunday's game here with the New York Giants should give fans a pretty fair idea of the amount of truth in talk that the 1960 Browns have the finest Cleveland offense in recent years.

With Milt Plum hitting on three of four pass attempts and Jim Brown and Bob Mitchell teaming up for the best 1-2 ground punch of any National Football League club, the Browns are leading the loop in scoring.

But Sunday they run into that redoubtable Giant defense that has held Cleveland to an average of eight points a game during a string of five victories compiled by the New Yorkers in 1958 and '59 contests with the Browns.

"They beat us 48-7 last December," said Coach Paul Brown. "We'll try to cut down on that margin."

The Browns Sunday will be up against the same defense which starred for the Giants in last December's lopsided game: Sam Huff, middle linebacker who makes fullback Brown his personal responsibility; flankers Harland Svare and Cliff Livingston; defensive halfbacks Dick Lynch and Lindon Crow; safety men Dick Nolan and Jim Patton; and the huge, tough front line of Andy Robustelli, Rosey Grier, Dick Modzelewski and Jim Katcavage.

In five games so far in 1960, the Giants' defense has allowed only 94 points—just two more than the Browns have given up. All three New York victories came on the road, while last Sunday's upset by St. Louis and a tie with Washington were in Yankee Stadium.

Pitt Still Hopeful Of Bowl Invitation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pitt Panthers still have hopes of being invited to a bowl game.

Athletic Director Frank Carver said Monday Pitt could go to a bowl despite its 3-2-2- record.

"There are seven major bowl games," Carver said. "That means 14 top teams will have to invited. If we win the next three games, who knows but that they may ask us to play in one of the post-season games."

Carver added that Pitt's 10-0 upset of Syracuse should have some influence on bowl committees. The Panthers play Notre Dame Saturday, then Army and Penn State.

AA Manager Of Year

DENVER (AP)—Marion (Bill) Adair, who managed Louisville to the junior world championship of baseball, has been voted by league baseball writers as the American Association's manager of the year.

Lady Boosters Set Coverdish Fete For ELHS Squad

Plans for a coverdish dinner for the East Liverpool High football team were discussed when the Potters Ladies Booster Club met Monday night in the YMCA.

The dinner, being planned as a post-season event, will be for the football players, coaches and their wives.

The club will serve hot meat loaf sandwiches and orange drinks to the Potter varsity following practice Thursday night.

Movies of the Potter-Steubenville Central Catholic game were screened by Coach Lou Venditti. Venditti also discussed the football program.

Mrs. Alma Hall, president, presided. The next meeting will be Monday night in the YMCA. Twenty-four attended.

FIGHT RESULTS

New York—Billy Hunter, 193¼, Detroit, knocked out Ray Lopez, 196, Cuba, 6.

Caracas — Carlos Fernandez, Venezuela, outpointed Robinson Garcia, Cuba, lightweight, 10.

OSU's Ferguson Holds Big 10 Scoring Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Ferguson, Ohio State's great fullback, maintained his Big Ten all-games football scoring lead this week with Iowa's Wilburn Hollis remaining a close second.

Ferguson has 10 touchdowns for 60 points but Hollis, Iowa's option quarterback, closed to within six points of the Buckeye star with 9 touchdowns and 54 points.

Barging into third place was Minnesota's Jim Rogers, a kicking fullback. Rogers has 44 points, 17 of them on points after touchdowns.

Bernie Allen, Purdue quarterback, is fourth with 42 points on four TDs, two field goals and 12 PAT. Tied for fifth, with six touchdowns for 36 points each, are Jim Tiller, Purdue; Dave Raimey, Michigan, and Sandy Stephens, Minnesota.

NCAA Track Meet Set

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Collegiate track and field championships will be held at the University of Pennsylvania June 16-17, officials announced today.

Davidson Retains AFL Passing Lead

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Cotton Davidson of Dallas this week retained his American Football League passing lead but Los Angeles' Jack Kemp is moving in fast.

Davidson has completed 113 of 220 for 1,509 yards and seven touchdowns. Kemp has hit on 106 of 196 for 1,307 yards and seven touchdowns.

RON McLAUGHLIN, hampered by a leg injury in the West Branch game, held onto the district scoring, but Rogers Ours of Wellsville slipped into second place in the only change among the area's top five scorers.

McLaughlin still shows 110 points, while the 8 points by Ours gave the Wellsville star 76, passing East Palestine's Jerry Bush entrenched in third place with 74. Rick Bowling of Lisbon is fourth with 64 and Salem's pile-driving fullback Ron Janovec shows 58.

The top five scorers follow:

	TD's	Con.	Total
McLaughlin (BL)	16	14	110
Ours (Wellsville)	10	16	76
Bush (E. Palestine)	10	14	74
Bowling (Lisbon)	10	4	64
Janovec (Salem)	9	3	58

Two Top Games In County . . .

THE DISTRICT will have two top games on the same night this week. East Liverpool will attempt to spoil Salem's bid for an undefeated season, while Wellsville seeks revenge for an upset suffered last season at Beaver Local.

The Wellsville - Beaver Local clash is expected to draw the largest crowd of the season at Nicholson Stadium. This is the game many of the fans have been waiting for, and it should be a good one.

However, the Tigers may have to play without their fine quarterback Roger Ours, the mastermind of the Wellsville eleven.

Ours was released Monday from the Osteopathic Hospital, where he had been confined with injuries suffered at Jefferson Union Thursday.

X-rays revealed Ours suffered a cracked rib, bruises and torn ligaments. Coach Ken Woods of Wellsville says "it is very doubtful that Ours will play against Beaver Local.

THERE ARE several reasons why Salem would rate a slight edge on East Liverpool Friday night.

The schedule and the rest in between games must be considered. Salem played last Thursday night and had a tough time getting past Boardman, but the Quakers came out of the game without a scratch.

On the other hand, East Liverpool was losing to Steubenville Central and took a physical beating as well. There were no serious injuries, but the boys were near exhaustion at the game's end and several aren't over the bruises yet. Also by Friday Salem will have had an extra two days rest on the Potters, another factor in the Quakers' favor.

Quarterbacks Grow On Trees? . . .

THE REST of the country must think quarterbacks grow on trees around East Liverpool. It seems about every time you pick up a newspaper an East Liverpool quarterback is doing something.

Saturday at Purdue it was Bernie Allen scoring all the points on two touchdowns as Illinois edged the Boilermakers, 14-12.

He went in the end zone on a 3-yard run in the first quarter and scored from the one in the fourth period.

Allen's first placement was blocked, so Purdue, trailing 14-12 after its second touchdown, tried for a two-point conversion, but Jim Tiller was stopped cold.

On Purdue's last scoring drive Allen was the whole show again. He ran for 24 yards, passed to Tiller for 11, ran for another 13 yards and then finally passed to Tiller for 27 more to set up his quarterback sneak.

—:—

JIM POTTS had one of his best days on the college gridiron as Bowling Green ran over ill-fated California Poly, 50-6.

He batted 1.000, connecting on four passes and three were good for touchdowns. One covered 76 yards, while the other two were good for 22.

At Evanston, Ill., Bob Mackall, the Potter quarterback of last season, is performing with the Northwestern freshmen. Big 10 freshmen teams do not play regular schedules, but scrimmage the varsity and hold inter-squad drills.

Mackall is rated one of the top quarterbacks in the freshmen crop and the Northwestern coaching staff is expecting great things of the East Liverpool star next season.

And now this season, East Liverpool has come up with Cunningham, rated by opposing coaches, players and fans as one of the best passing quarterbacks they have ever seen.

From The Mailbox . . .

The following letter was written by George Connelly of 139 W. 3rd St.:

"Dear Sir: Saturday night at the Central-Potter game, Coach Venditti had added woes beside losing players through injury.

"I just want to point out an incident that happened in front of Mrs. Connelly and myself and I think the local fans should know. A heckler kept riding Lou throughout the game (the heckler sat next to us). This joker finally yelled 'Sit down, coach, you have a quarterback in there!' (meaning Venditti was calling plays from the sidelines). "Lou turned and replied, 'Yes I know and I'm proud of him.'

"Any coach who shows such unselfish interest in his group of players deserves every bit of praise and backing we can give him."

Unbeaten Iowa Remains Nation's No. 1 Grid Team

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The unbeaten Iowa Hawkeyes remain the No. 1 college football team of the nation for the third straight week of the Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

With Syracuse and Baylor dropping from the ranks of the unbeaten and Mississippi being held to a 6-6 tie by Louisiana State, there was a shakeup in other top 10 rankings.

Iowa won by a landslide with 46 first-place votes from the 48-man panel which votes weekly. The only other teams to get first-place ballots were Minnesota and Washington. Each got one.

Mississippi dropped from second to sixth as the result of the tie with LSU. Missouri, a 28-0 winner over Nebraska, shouldered into second place and Minnesota, which meets Iowa in a Big Ten showdown battle Saturday in Minneapolis, took over third place.

Navy, a 14-7 winner after a rugged scramble with Notre Dame, held the No. 4 spot for another week. Ohio State's 21-10 victory over Michigan State moved the winners into fifth place and dumped the losers out of the top ten listing.

Washington took over seventh after nosing out Oregon 7-6 and Tennessee, a newcomer in the top ten, advanced to eighth after whipping North Carolina 27-14.

Syracuse, beaten by Pitt 10-0, slipped from third to ninth on the defeat.

Rice moved into the No. 10 spot by thumping Texas Tech 30-6 and Baylor, beaten for the first time by Texas Christian 14-6, dropped out.

The leaders with first-place votes, points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Iowa (46)	476
2. Missouri	359
3. Minnesota (1)	350
4. Navy	324
5. Ohio State	279
6. Mississippi	265
7. Washington (1)	142
8. Tennessee	106
9. Syracuse	91
10. Rice	73

Others receiving votes included: Baylor 33, Auburn 31, Duke 29, Pittsburgh 19, UCLA 18, Arkansas 10, Michigan State 9, Colorado 6, Utah State 6, New Mexico State 5, Yale 3, Alabama 2, Texas Christian 1.

Minnesota's Big Lineman Tough On Opposing Backs

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —It's not true, as some of football's more impressionable scouts have reported, that Minnesota's Tom Brown munches enemy halfbacks for breakfast.

"I have a very stable diet," said the amiable giant. "It does not include halfbacks."

It might only happen at Minnesota, where big-shouldered linemen are the toast of the state and dashing halfbacks merely tolerated, but this 235-pound wrecker is the Gopher with the highest popularity and the biggest reputation.

Big Ten scouts, and those from the pro leagues, say he deserves all of it.

Brown and his massive playmates collide with top-ranked Iowa Saturday in one of college football's climax games of the season, a struggle of unbeaten Big Ten powers.

Brown is a fearsome sight when he charges from his middle guard position to pursue a passer. With similarly disposed linemen he has made Minnesota's defense the best offensive weapon the team has.

Brown already is under draft by the Baltimore Colts.

Here's District Grid Schedule This Week

Friday

East Liverpool at Salem
Beaver Local at Wellsville
Cameron at Chester
Freedom at Midland
Fairfield-Waterford at Newell
Sistersville at New Cumberland
Stanton Local at Malvern
Columbiana at Lisbon
East Palestine at Louisville
Sebring at Leetonia

Saturday

United at Salineville

McCormick Posts Lowest ERA In Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—Lefty Mike McCormick posted the lowest earned run average in the National League in 1960, giving the San Francisco Giants their third consecutive ERA winner.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today that McCormick wound up with a 2.70 earned run mark. Frank Baumann of the Chicago White Sox, another southpaw pitcher, won the ERA crown in the American League with 2.68.

The Giants' Sam Jones was the National League ERA leader in 1959, and Stu Miller in 1958. Giants' pitchers have won the title seven times in the past 12 seasons.

McCormick yielded 76 earned runs in 253 innings. He had a 15-12 won-lost record and hurled four shutouts. Baumann, whose 13-6 record included a pair of shutouts, allowed 55 earned runs in 185 innings.

Ernie Broglio of St. Louis was runnerup in the National League with a 2.75 ERA. Jim Bunning of Detroit was second to Baumann with 2.79.

Dies After Game

Man And Wife Team Up As Cage Tooters

LYNCH, Ky. (AP) —Joe Golden ranks among the top high school basketball officials in southeastern Kentucky. But it seems certain the first boo-boo he pulls he's going to hear about it at home.

The new basketball authority in the Golden household is Joe's pretty brunette wife, Lou — the first woman ever to get an official's license from the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

Lou and Joe will work as a team.

"In the past month she has had a cook book in one hand and a rule book in the other," said Joe.

It was Joe who first suggested his wife try her hand at officiating.

Lou, 28 and the mother of a 10-year-old boy, works her first game Dec. 1.

"The idea of it all is very fascinating and I know that I have two strikes against me when I go out on the floor but I'll give it a try," she explained.

Gridders Dismissed For Breaking Training

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Frank Anderson has dismissed about a dozen members of the Norwood High School football squad for breaking training, the Cincinnati Enquirer reported today.

Those dismissed, for the rest of the season, included four first string players on offense and four on defense.

Norwood, with a 3-4 season mark, plays Harrison Friday.

Lima, Alliance Close In On Champs; Warren Ranked 6th, Salem 8th

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Massillon's state champions dropped their first game in 21 starts Friday night—but the Tigers cling by one shaky claw to the top rung of the state's high school football ratings.

Warren's Panthers, who defeated Massillon 6-0 in 1958 for their last loss, did it again—this time by 19-18 as the Tigers missed three conversions.

Fred Caldwell, who had missed two previous tries, booted the deciding point with 1:28 to go as the Panthers, in their first year under Coach Ben Wilson, stormed from behind three times.

But 44 sports editors voting in the Associated Press poll clung to the consensus that the Tigers are the best team in the state as they kept the Stark County powerhouse on top in the weekly rankings today.

However, the Tigers now are in the midst of the hottest fight the poll has ever experienced. A week ago Massillon led Alliance by 115 poll points and had 12 of 41 first-place votes.

Today the Tigers boast only three top-place nods, and Lima Senior has moved into the runner-up slot—only five points, or a single sixth-place vote—back of the champs. Third, another 10 points back, are Alliance's 1958 champion Aviators, last - minute losers to Massillon a few weeks ago.

Sandusky, dominating the first-place votes with 12, is a husky fourth with 244 points, only 46 back of Massillon's 290—making it a four-team race for the title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy.

Warren, which lost two and tied one of its first three games, now has a winning streak of four—and came from nowhere to take sixth place in the poll.

Massillon was not the only Top Ten team to run into a snag. Sixth - ranked Cincinnati Roger Bacon was nosed out 9-6 by unbeaten Cincinnati Purcell and fell to tenth; Dayton Chaminade was trounced 30-14 by Dayton Roosevelt and skidded from seventh to among the also-rans, and Niles McKinley, although tied 13-13 by Farrell, Pa., jumped a notch to seventh.

Springfield South, 34-19 winner over Hamilton Garfield, rose from tenth to ninth, Salem climbed from ninth to eighth with a 13-8 win over Boardman, and Marion Harding remained in fifth by blanking Toledo Scott 28-0.

Lima's 56-14 win over Portsmouth aided its elevation to second, while Alliance took a 20-6 victory over Canton McKinley in falling to third. Sandusky triumphed 26-22 over Mansfield.

From here and there: With 43 of the 44 poll votes counted, Lima was on top by a single point (one tenth-place vote) over Massillon, under the 10-9-8-etc. system. The last ballot, however — from the southern sector of the state—had Massillon third and Lima ninth for the six-point spread the Tigers needed to go out front by five.

Only Sandusky, which Warren's Ben Wilson coached last year, and Salem's Quakers are unsullied among the Top Ten. Three of the elite have been beaten twice.

With the score 0-0 in the Massillon game, Warren had the ball on the Tiger 3-yard line, third down, and elected to pass. The heave was intercepted by Massillon's Charley Brown who hustled the length of the field for the first touchdown.

It has been a long time since two teams, making only one conversion in six attempts, caused such a furor. Those misses probably will haunt Massillon's Leo Strang, whose two losses as the Tiger tutor have been to the Panthers.

Lima's 54 points against Portsmouth are the most the school has ever recorded—five of the team's players have 26 or more points. East Liverpool's classy quarterback, Kenny Cunningham, was injured on the kickoff in the 34-14 loss to Steubenville Central.

Unbeaten Butler, which halted Fredericktown's seven-game winning streak by 18-6, has a halfback named Nelson Kline. He was an end for two seasons, but as a ball carrier this year has scored 116. Shelby (7-0) and Norwalk (8-0) meet Friday for the Northern Ohio League title. Galion ended a 10-game losing streak by beating Willard 12-0.

Bucyrus has allowed 124 points in its last two games, and eight foes averaged 38.6. Mansfield's 26-22 loss to Sandusky was the fourth straight Tyger defeat by a single touchdown margin.

How time flies: Basketball practice opens today for football playing schools.

Cage Practice Opens For EL, Ohio Teams

Potter Coach Jim Harris issued the first call today for basketball candidates as practice was launched for Ohio's High School cage teams.

The candidates reported to Memorial Auditorium but missing are several of the 1960-61 prospects who are still performing with the football team, including regulars from last season—Kenny Cunningham and Mike Geon.

Cunningham, the Potters' outstanding quarterback, has been the leading scorer for ELHS the past two basketball campaigns.

Kenny Miller is the lone regular from last season which reported for drills today.

Here's How Buckeye Teams Were Ranked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's how 44 sports editors, 32 from newspapers and 12 from radio-television stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams this week in the Associated Press poll. Shown are the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the won-lost-tied and scoring records of the leaders:

THE TOP TEN

Teams	Pts.	W-L-T	Scoring

OSU To Be At Full Strength Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State coach Woody Hayes expects his Buckeyes to be at full strength when they meet Indiana Saturday in an intra-conference game that doesn't count.

At his press luncheon Monday, Hayes noted that none of the Buckeyes suffered injuries of consequence in last weeks 21-10 conquest of Michigan State. And, Hayes said, guard Don Young and defensive back Bill German, hurt previously, will be in shape for the Hoosiers' invasion of Columbus.

The game doesn't count in the Big Ten standings because Indiana is under league suspension for illegal recruiting practices.

But the Hoosiers haven't beaten a Big Ten foe this year, anyway. Their lone win in six games was over four-time loser Marquette. Meanwhile the rampaging Buckeyes have won five of six and become an increasing threat for the Western Conference crown.

In scoring, Ohio State and Indiana have almost exactly opposite figures. The Bucks have a 144-48 point edge on their opponents while the Hoosiers have been outscored 49-143.

Rushing and passing, Ohio has outgained the Hoosiers 2,002 yards to 1,170.

Despite the record, Hayes built up the Hoosiers a little Monday. He said Indiana has used both the single wing and T-formation offenses this year, that its defense at times was outstanding, and warned:

"Indiana's probation status probably has hurt morale a bit, but any Big Ten team, on a given day, can beat any other Big Ten team."

Frank Kremblas, former Buckeye quarterback and now an assistant coach, spied on the Hoosiers the last three games and tagged them "a team of many moods." He said the Indianans have a fairly good line and a couple of speedy backs, but that penalties (286 yards) and fumbles (7) have hurt their offensive efficiency.

Browns To Test Giants' Touted Defense Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sunday's game here with the New York Giants should give fans a pretty fair idea of the amount of truth in talk that the 1960 Browns have the finest Cleveland offense in recent years.

With Milt Plum hitting on three of four pass attempts and Jim Brown and Bob Mitchell teaming up for the best 1-2 ground punch of any National Football League club, the Browns are leading the loop in scoring.

But Sunday they run into that redoubtable Giant defense that has held Cleveland to an average of eight points a game during a string of five victories compiled by the New Yorkers in 1958 and '59 contests with the Browns.

"They beat us 48-7 last December," said Coach Paul Brown. "We'll try to cut down on that margin."

The Browns Sunday will be up against the same defense which starred for the Giants in last December's lopsided game: Sam Huff, middle linebacker who makes fullback Brown his personal responsibility; flankers Harland Svare and Cliff Livingston; defensive halfbacks Dick Lynch and Lindon Crow; safety men Dick Nolan and Jim Patton; and the huge, tough front line of Andy Robustelli, Rosey Grier, Dick Modzelewski and Jim Katcavage.

In five games so far in 1960 the Giants' defense has allowed only 94 points—just two more than the Browns have given up. All three New York victories came on the road, while last Sunday's upset by St. Louis and a tie with Washington were in Yankee Stadium.

Pitt Still Hopeful Of Bowl Invitation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pitt Panthers still have hopes of being invited to a bowl game.

Athletic Director Frank Carver said Monday Pitt could go to a bowl despite its 3-2-2- record.

"There are seven major bowl games," Carver said. "That means 14 top teams will have to invited. If we win the next three games, who knows but that they may ask us to play in one of the post-season games."

Carver added that Pitt's 10-0 upset of Syracuse should have some influence on bowl committees. The Panthers play Notre Dame Saturday, then Army and Penn State.

Lady Boosters Set Coverdish Fete For ELHS Squad

Plans for a coverdish dinner for the East Liverpool High football team were discussed when the Potters Ladies Booster Club met Monday night in the YMCA.

The dinner, being planned as a post-season event, will be for the football players, coaches and their wives.

The club will serve hot meat loaf sandwiches and orange drinks to the Potter varsity following practice Thursday night.

Movies of the Potter-Steubenville Central Catholic game were screened by Coach Lou Venditti. Venditti also discussed the football program.

Mrs. Alma Hall, president, presided. The next meeting will be Monday night in the YMCA. Twenty-four attended.

OSU's Ferguson Holds Big 10 Scoring Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Ferguson, Ohio State's great fullback, maintained his Big Ten all-games football scoring lead this week with Iowa's Wilburn Hollis remaining a close second.

Ferguson has 10 touchdowns for 60 points but Hollis, Iowa's option quarterback, closed to within six points of the Buckeye star with 9 touchdowns and 54 points.

Barging into third place was Minnesota's Jim Rogers, a kicking fullback. Rogers has 44 points, 17 of them on points after touchdowns.

Bernie Allen, Purdue quarterback, is fourth with 42 points on four TDs, two field goals and 12 PAT. Tied for fifth, with six touchdowns for 36 points each, are Jim Tiller, Purdue; Dave Raimey, Michigan, and Sandy Stephens, Minnesota.

Hank Greenberg Will Acquire AL Franchise In Los Angeles

Stengel Is Choice For Manager's Job

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hank Greenberg today confirmed reports that he will acquire the new Los Angeles franchise of the American League and indicated he'd like to have Casey Stengel manage the club.

The 70-year-old Casey, let out two weeks ago after 12 years with the New York Yankees, told reporters he has talked to four major league clubs "but I haven't had a definite offer from any of them."

"Why, I just had a call from Detroit advising me I was gonna manage the Tigers," confided Stengel, "but it wasn't official. I'm gonna take a few weeks to make up my mind on what I want to do."

The Associated Press learned Monday that Stengel might become both field manager and general manager of the new Los Angeles club if Greenberg acquired the franchise.

Greenberg promptly acknowledged his intent regarding the franchise when he arrive here for meetings with officials and presumably other members of his syndicate, but he refrained from a definite statement on Stengel.

Said Greenberg: "I'm a great admirer of Casey, but I honestly don't know if he's available."

Greenberg heads a syndicate that is acquiring the Los Angeles franchise. As a vice president of the Chicago White Sox, he owns approximately 20 per cent of that club's stock, which he will dispose of shortly after the American League's next meeting Nov. 17.

Greenberg said that his associate in the White Sox operation, Bill Veeck, isn't involved in the acquisition of the Los Angeles franchise, "and I doubt if Bill will leave Chicago." Veeck also denied, in Chicago, any plan to come here.

Stengel's Top Prospect For Detroit Post

DETROIT (AP) — Casey Stengel is a top prospect for manager of the Detroit Tigers, the Tiger front office said Monday night.

Detroit has been without a manager since early last month when Joe Gordon resigned.

A statement quoted Rick Ferrell, assistant to President John F. Fetzer as saying that "Casey Stengel's name had come up several times and that he was seriously considering him as a recommendation to be made to" Fetzer.

Assigned the task of screening some 15 applicants for Tiger manager, Ferrell indicated last week he had pared the list to five or six and that he probably would make his recommendation within 10 days.

Dark Named New Manager Of Giants

ALVIN DARK (right), 37-year-old veteran major league infielder, is interviewed by newsmen at Candlestick Park in San Francisco after he was named the Giant's manager by Vice President Charles Feeney (center). Dark signed a two-year contract. (UPI Telephoto)

Ex-Giant Star Will Replace Tom Sheehan

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Alvin Dark takes command of the San Francisco Giants with an admonition that the Candlestick Park winds should be forgotten, the quicker the better.

The take-charge guy of the Giants infield during their championship years of 1951 and 1954 drew a two-year contract to manage and instill hustle into their field operation. Terms weren't announced but are believed $25,000 annually.

"Alvin was the man we wanted all along," said Giants Vice President Charles (Chub) Fenney. To get the 14-year National League veteran player, the Giants traded utility shortstop Andre Rodgers to the Milwaukee Braves.

Speaking softly, Dark, 38, gave a solid indication he would brook no excuses and wanted the right to full authority in operating the club on the field.

Last year as the Giants were tabbed for the pennant in preseason forecasts and flopped, players complained about the tricky winds at the new Candlestick Park.

"The climate here is wonderful," commented Dark. "That wind is just like the Louisiana heat. The more you talk about it the worse it gets."

He noted the Giants won 45 and lost 32 in Candlestick and said, "They won more than they lost there. I'm for that."

Dark replaces Tom (Clancy) Sheehan, named as interim manager when Bill Rigney was fired last June 18. Although only four games off Pittsburgh's pace when the switch was made, the Giants sagged further to fifth place and a 79-75 over-all record.

President Horace Stoneham declared in June that failure to instill hustle was a chief reason Rigney was fired.

Asked about possible trades, Dark said he had none in mind immediately and added, "I don't think a trade should be made just to get rid of a ball player."

The Newell Boosters Club will meet tonight at 7:30 at Wells High School, Ted Ulbright, president, announced today.

Bellino And Gang Eye Navy Records At Duke

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Joe Bellino and his shipmates have a chance to write Naval Academy football history this weekend if they can defeat a tough Duke University football team at Durham, N.C.

The Midshipmen will be gunning for two academy records as well as hoping to preserve a winning streak which started with the last three games last season and included a 43-12 romp over Army.

In defeating Notre Dame 14-7 Saturday they became the first Navy team since the 1910-11 seasons to win 10 in a row, a Navy record. They also became the first team since 1934 to win the first seven games of a season, tying another academy mark.

Bellino, a dazzling halfback who is the academy's best since Buzz Borries of the 1934 team, has played a major role in every one of those 10 victories stretching back into last season. He has scored 13 touchdowns this season.

And Navy has come up with a lot more playing talent around him than anyone expected it would have before the season opened.

Duke has lost only one game, a 31-6 defeat by Michigan, and won five.

The Chicago White Sox will have a working agreement with Houston in 1961.

Iowa Has Unsung Hero, Makes Hawkeyes Tick

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — A little halfback who has carried the ball only twice this season is one of the most valuable players on Iowa's high scoring football team.

He is Bernie Wyatt, a defensive specialist Iowa coaches count on to contain opposing runners and pass receivers.

Wyatt calls defensive plays for the undefeated Hawks in addition to patrolling one flank. He has participated in nearly every defensive play so far this season.

His performance has helped limit six opponents to 69 points and keep Iowa in first place in the Associated Press national football poll. Iowa is averaging 27 points a game.

Says defensive coach Jerry Burns: "He's always the first player we send in there on the wild card rule when we lose the ball."

Wyatt, 5-foot, 10-inch 165-pounder senior, was outstanding on offense in high school at Amityville, N.Y. He couldn't break into the Iowa offensive lineup which has featured standout halfbacks in recent years. But he took to defensive play like a duck takes to water.

"He has good judgment when he sees a pass thrown and even if it is completed he's sure to tackle the receiver," Burns says.

Wyatt gained 13 yards on the two times he carried the ball.

The committee has been instructed to submit its recommendations to the new administration—if Kennedy is elected—early next year. Lincoln is president of Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co.

2 Teams Click For Unbeaten Fresno State

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Two good lines plus two good backfields equal two good football teams.

That's the formula used by Coach Cecil Coleman at Fresno State. His Bulldogs are undefeated and untied in six games this year and nine games over a two-year span.

Coleman has formed two good forward walls, each averaging about 215 pounds and plenty fast. His two backfields are fast, powerful and tricky.

Coleman alternates the two teams through each quarter, giving the opposition a chance to let up.

"This alternate unit system makes a closer knit team," the 36-year-old Coleman says. "There is a lot of pride and competition among the outfits."

The offensive power of the system speaks from statistics. Rushing, Fresno State has 1,338 yards and has 1,219 yards by passing.

The Bulldogs have scored 198 points while holding their opponents to 54.

Ex-SMU Star Kyle Rote May Make This Last Pro Season

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Regardless of whether the New York Giants retain their Eastern Division title in the National Football League this could be a sad season. It definitely is the final campaign for Jim Lee Howell as head coach. And planning to retire with him is Kyle Rote, one of the great offensive ends in professional football.

"This is my tenth season and it could be my last," Rote told this writer recently. "Ten seasons is a lot of football. I'd like to devote more time to my work as a radio sportscaster. Would I consider coaching? I might, if it could be worked in with my radio job."

Rote has been regarded as a top drawer football player ever since he played in the shadow of All-America Doak Walker at Southern Methodist. He is best remembered for his 1949 game against Notre Dame. Walker was injured, and Rote, switching from wingback to tailback, scored three touchdowns. He almost beat the Irish single handed but SMU went down to a 27-20 setback.

When Rote grabbed an 11 - yard George Shaw pass in a stirring 24-24 mid-October tie against Washington, it put Kyle second in the history of Giant touchdown scoring with 38. Frank Gifford began the year with 52 td's, but he's made most of his running.

When Howell viewed the movies of Rote's touchdown against the Redskins he mentioned to his staff the value of Rote, who plays end only on offense because of a trick knee.

"The moves that Rote makes going downfield on his pass patterns are beautiful to behold," said Howell. "I say this even after we see our game films every day."

On this particular play, Rote's defender — Washington defensive halfback Ben Scotti — crossed his legs twice while trying to offset Rote's faking maneuvers.

Rote has made the All-Pro game four times and began the current campaign with 206 passes caught and 3-253 yards gained on receptions. The latter figure is tops in Giant history.

After the Giant's fourth game this season, Rote led the NFL pass receptions with 23, two more than Baltimore's Ray berry who had 66 catches in 1959.

In one of his most memorable games — against the Philadelphia Eagles in 1953 — Rote caught three touchdown passes. He never scored any other way. Yet, despite his knee trouble he was lightning going down field and cutting.

KYLE ROTE
About Ready To Retire.

"I hurt the knee my first year with the Giants in 1951," says Rote. "We were practicing somewhere in Arkansas for an exhibition game. Nobody touched me. As I planted my left foot my knee went out. I've had cartilage trouble ever since."

Football won out over baseball with Rote. Thomas Jefferson high school in San Antonio had no baseball team. But at SMU he put in two seasons as a catcher. The football Giants made him their No. 1 bonus pick in 1951 but he went into pro baseball first.

While waiting for football, he played outfield for the Corpus Christi Aces in the Class B Gulf Coast League. His second day as a full time performer he hit three successive home runs.

It's not bad enough that Casey Stengel was forced into retirement by the baseball Yankees. Now we have the end of Jim Lee Howell who spent 23 years with the Giants, seven as head coach. Al Sherman and Vince Lombardi, now with Green Bay, have been mentioned as Howell's possible successor.

But losing Rote, now 32 and a resident of Scarsdale, N. Y., is another matter. It may be some time before the Giants can come up with a pass catcher who hits pay dirt as often as the handsome Texan.

Ohio Man, 45, Killed In Collision Of Trucks

FAIRVIEW, Pa. (AP)—The collision of two tractor-trailers on the Erie Thruway killed an Ohio man Monday night. He was Brooks R. Wilson, 45, of Akron. State police said Wilson's tractor-trailer smashed into the rear of one driven by Benjamin Pollo, 28, of Youngstown, Ohio. Pollo was unhurt.

The accident occurred about three miles west of this Erie County community. It was the first fatality on the thruway, which was opened last Friday.

Hank Greenberg Will Acquire AL Franchise In Los Angeles

Stengel Is Choice For Manager's Job

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hank Greenberg today confirmed reports that he will acquire the new Los Angeles franchise of the American League and indicated he'd like to have Casey Stengel manage the club.

The 70-year-old Casey, let out two weeks ago after 12 years with the New York Yankees, told reporters he has talked to four major league clubs "but I haven't had a definite offer from any of them."

"Why, I just had a call from Detroit advising me I was gonna manage the Tigers," confided Stengel, "but it wasn't official. I'm gonna take a few weeks to make up my mind on what I want to do."

The Associated Press learned Monday that Stengel might become both field manager and general manager of the new Los Angeles club if Greenberg acquired the franchise.

Greenberg promptly acknowledged his intent regarding the franchise when he arrive here for meetings with officials and presumably other members of his syndicate, but he refrained from a definite statement on Stengel.

Said Greenberg: "I'm a great admirer of Casey, but I honestly don't know if he's available."

Greenberg heads a syndicate that is acquiring the Los Angeles franchise. As a vice president of the Chicago White Sox, he owns approximately 20 per cent of that club's stock, which he will dispose of shortly after the American League's next meeting Nov. 17.

Greenberg said that his associate in the White Sox operation, Bill Veeck, isn't involved in the acquisition of the Los Angeles franchise, "and I doubt if Bill will leave Chicago." Veeck also denied, in Chicago, any plan to come here.

Stengel's Top Prospect For Detroit Post

DETROIT (AP) — Casey Stengel is a top prospect for manager of the Detroit Tigers, the Tiger front office said Monday night.

Detroit has been without a manager since early last month when Joe Gordon resigned.

A statement quoted Rick Ferrell, assistant to President John F. Fetzer as saying that "Casey Stengel's name had come up several times and that he was seriously considering him as a recommendation to be made to" Fetzer.

Assigned the task of screening some 15 applicants for Tiger manager, Ferrell indicated last week he had pared the list to five or six and that he probably would make his recommendation within 10 days.

Dark Named New Manager Of Giants

ALVIN DARK (right), 37-year-old veteran major league infielder, is interviewed by newsmen at Candlestick Park in San Francisco after he was named the Giant's manager by Vice President Charles Feeney (center). Dark signed a two-year contract. (UPI Telephoto)

Ex-Giant Star Will Replace Tom Sheehan

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Alvin Dark takes command of the San Francisco Giants with an admonition that the Candlestick Park winds should be forgotten, the quicker the better.

The take-charge guy of the Giants infield during their championship years of 1951 and 1954 drew a two-year contract to manage and instill hustle into their field operation. Terms weren't announced but are believed $25,000 annually.

"Alvin was the man we wanted all along," said Giants Vice President Charles (Chub) Fenney. To get the 14-year National League veteran player the Giants traded utility shortstop Andre Rodgers to the Milwaukee Braves.

Speaking softly, Dark, 38, gave a solid indication he would brook no excuses and wanted the right to full authority in operating the club on the field.

Last year as the Giants were tabbed for the pennant in preseason forecasts and flopped, players complained about the tricky winds at the new Candlestick Park.

"The climate here is wonderful," commented Dark. "That wind is just like the Louisiana heat. The more you talk about it the worse it gets."

He noted the Giants won 45 and lost 32 in Candlestick and said, "They won more than they lost there. I'm for that."

Dark replaces Tom (Clancy) Sheehan, named as interim manager when Bill Rigney was fired last June 18. Although only four games off Pittsburgh's pace when the switch was made, the Giants sagged further to fifth place and a 79-75 over-all record.

President Horace Stoneham declared in June that failure to instill hustle was a chief reason Rigney was fired.

Asked about possible trades, Dark said he had none in mind immediately and added, "I don't think a trade should be made just to get rid of a ball player."

Bellino And Gang Eye Navy Records At Duke

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Joe Bellino and his shipmates have a chance to write Naval Academy football history this weekend if they can defeat a tough Duke University football team at Durham, N.C.

The Midshipmen will be gunning for two academy records as well as hoping to preserve a winning streak which started with the last three games last season and included a 43-12 romp over Army.

In defeating Notre Dame 14-7 Saturday they became the first Navy team since the 1910-11 seasons to win 10 in a row, a Navy record. They also became the first team since 1934 to win the first seven games of a season, tying another academy mark.

Bellino, a dazzling halfback who is the academy's best since Buzz Borries of the 1934 team, has played a major role in every one of those 10 victories stretching back into last season. He has scored 13 touchdowns this season.

And Navy has come up with a lot more playing talent around him than anyone expected it would have before the season opened.

Duke has lost only one game, a 31-6 defeat by Michigan, and won five.

The Chicago White Sox will have a working agreement with Houston in 1961.

Iowa Has Unsung Hero, Makes Hawkeyes Tick

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — A little halfback who has carried the ball only twice this season is one of the most valuable players on Iowa's high scoring football team.

He is Bernie Wyatt, a defensive specialist Iowa coaches count on to contain opposing runners and pass receivers.

Wyatt calls defensive plays for the undefeated Hawks in addition to patrolling one flank. He has participated in nearly every defensive play so far this season.

His performance has helped limit six opponents to 69 points and keep Iowa in first place in the Associated Press national football poll. Iowa is averaging 27 points a game.

Says defensive coach Jerry Burns: "He's always the first player we send in there on the wild card rule when we lose the ball."

Wyatt, 5-foot, 10-inch 165-pounder senior, was outstanding on offense in high school at Amityville, N.Y. He couldn't break into the Iowa offensive lineup which has featured standout halfbacks in recent years. But he took to defensive play like a duck takes to water.

"He has good judgment when he sees a pass thrown and even if it is completed he's sure to tackle the receiver," Burns says.

Wyatt gained 13 yards on the two times he carried the ball.

2 Teams Click For Unbeaten Fresno State

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Two good lines plus two good backfields equal two good football teams.

That's the formula used by Coach Cecil Coleman at Fresno State. His Bulldogs are undefeated and untied in six games this year and nine games over a two-year span.

Coleman has formed two good forward walls, each averaging about 215 pounds and plenty fast. His two backfields are fast, powerful and tricky.

Coleman alternates the two teams through each quarter, giving the opposition a chance to let up.

The offensive power of the system speaks from statistics. Rushing, Fresno State has 1,338 yards and has 1,219 yards by passing.

The Bulldogs have scored 198 points while holding their opponents to 54.

To Ask Waiver Of Suspension

Airline Seeks OK To Fly Crash Victims To Homes

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The head of Arctic Pacific, Inc., says he will try to get a waiver of the suspension of the firm's flying certificate so it can fly the bodies of 22 victims of a plane crash here to their homes.

James Springer, president of the airline which operated the crashed plane, said Monday night he had not been given a specific reason for the government's suspension order.

The Oakland, Calif., firm operates three aircraft in addition to the one that crashed, including a C46 parked at Toledo Express Airport.

Nineteen of the dead lived in California. Two were from Elkton, Md., and one lived in Chicago.

They were killed Saturday night when a charter flight, attempting a takeoff at the Toledo airport in a heavy fog, crashed and burned. The aircraft carried 48 persons, including the California Polytechnic College (San Luis Obispo) football team. Sixteen of the dead were members of the team.

In announcing the suspension order in Washington Monday, E. R. Quesada, federal aviation administrator, said that circumstances of the crash "indicate a gross disregard for public safety and the regulations of the Federal Aviation Agency."

Springer, here to arrange transportation for the victims' bodies, countered that "the facts brought out by the investigation will not indicate anything of that severe a nature."

A spokesman for Quesada in Washington declined Monday night to explain the nature of Arctic Pacific's actions that might constitute "gross disregard" of public safety or warrant immediate suspension of the airline's flying certificate.

Several hours after the FAA issued its suspension order it was learned in Washington that the agency last week had ordered the owners of C46s to have their planes inspected to determine whether certain wing bolts need replacement.

The inspection order was issued at the recommendation of the Civil Aeronautics Board on the basis of the board's investigation of a C46 crash near Plain City, Utah, Oct. 15 in which two men were killed. CAB investigators said a wing came off in the Utah crash, apparently from failure of a bolt in the outer wing attachment.

Springer said he hoped to get a waiver of the suspension order so the C46 waiting here could transport the victims' bodies.

Survivors of the crash said the plane wobbled on takeoff and that one engine failed. Springer said the 15-year - old plane had been completely overhauled about 18 months ago. The aircraft underwent a routine FAA check before it left Oakland last week, he added.

Capt. Donald G. Chesser of San Leandro, Calif., the pilot, talked to the control tower before attempting a takeoff after the plane had waited on the runway about 45 minutes. Details of the conversation were turned over to investigators who declined to make it public.

Landings at the airport had been restricted for about two hours before the disaster and commercial airlines had cancelled flights to and from Toledo because of the fog.

John M. Cyrocki of the Civil Aeronautics Board said preparation of a report on the crash may take several weeks. The CAB is "not in a position to guess" what caused the crash, he said.

Dr. Harry F. Mignerey, deputy coroner of Lucas County, said 16 of the 22 victims died in the fire that followed the crash. Each of the 16 suffered some injuries, but none fatal, he explained.

It was learned, however, that the pilot died of crash injuries. His body was not burned, indicating he was thrown clear of the wreckage.

The co-pilot, Howard Perovich of Oakland, Calif., suffered minor injuries in the crash and died in the flames.

LYLE G. EULER
Succeeds Elmon H. Roy.

Adventists' New Minister Came From Cincinnati

Lyle G. Euler, formerly of Cincinnati, has assumed his duties as pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, succeeding Pastor Elmon H. Roy, who is now serving at Coudersport, Pa.

He was pastor of the Hamlet church and associate pastor of the Cincinnati District. He previously served as associate pastor of the Bucyrus-Marion-Galion Upper Sandusky District and also of the Warren - Youngstown - Fowler District. He also was principal of the Seventh-day Adventist Junior Academies, 10-grade church schools, at Dayton and Kalamazoo, Mich. He was graduated from the Emmanuel Missionary College at Berrien Springs, Mich., with a B.A. degree.

Pastor Euler was born at Portage, near Bowling Green. His wife is the former Yvonne Wolfe of Toledo. They have a son, Gary, 9, and a daughter, Brenda Sue, 7.

Pastor Euler will join Ohio clergymen and Bible instructors of the denomination for a one-day planning session Thursday at Mt. Vernon.

The stewardess, Mrs. Richard Miller, 34, of Seattle, Wash., was the only surviving member of the plane crew.

Operations At Hospital Are Delayed By Vandals

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—Operations at Brown Memorial Hospital were delayed Monday by vandals who turned on fire hydrants in several sections of the city. Mrs. Dorcas Martin, hospital administrator, said surgery was delayed because there was no water for sterilization. She said there was no water pressure on the first two floors of the hospital.

The water department said some areas were flooded when six hydrants were turned on. Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars. Police Chief Jack Sanford speculated it was the work of vandals 16 or older because a car was needed to cover such a wide area.

Unidentified Backer Bets House On Kennedy

Archbishop Of Canterbury To Visit Pope Next Month

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP)—An archbishop of Canterbury will meet a Roman Catholic Pope next month for the first time since Henry VIII broke with the papacy in the 16th century and set up the Church of England.

Archbishop Geoffrey Fisher, spiritual leader of the Church of England, announced today that he will pay a courtesy visit to Pope John XXIII at the Vatican during a Dec. 1-3 stopover on his way home from a Middle Eastern tour.

While in the Middle East, Dr. Fisher will meet with prelates of the Eastern Orthodox Church in Jerusalem and Istanbul.

Vatican sources hailed the visit as a step toward unity but warned against expecting any immediate or dramatic developments. "It is an example of reciprocal goodwill and a new stone on the road to getting closer together," one source said.

The archbishop's decision apparently stemmed from this year's conference of the Protestant World Council of Churches in Scotland, which two Catholic monsignors attended as observers. Word was passed then that Pope John XXIII would be glad to receive Dr. Fisher.

Both Dr. Fisher and Pope John have shown keen interest in closer church unity.

Of all the Protestant churches whose creation ended the unity of faith in Europe, the Church of England has remained closest to Roman Catholicism in ritual and belief.

Leaders of the British Presbyterian, Congregationalist and Baptist churches welcomed Dr. Fisher's plan to meet Pope John. Initial British press comment also was favorable, with the Daily Sketch headlining "a holy summit" and the Daily Herald calling the meeting a "Vatican summit."

Tentative Accord Heads Off Strike At New York's Papers

NEW YORK (AP) — A city newspaper blackout was averted today when negotiators worked past a midnight strike deadline and pounded out a tentative agreement on a new two-year $7 package increase.

The proposed contract still needs approval by the memberships of New York Newspaper Guild units.

Involved are 6,000 Guild editorial, business and maintenance department employes.

The picture was far from clear at two of the city's seven major dailies.

No agreement has been reached at the Post. The Guild's unit council at the Times says it will present the proposal to its membership "without recommendation."

Guild unit councils at the Journal-American, the Daily News, the Mirror, the World-Telegram & Sun, and the Herald Tribune said they would recommend acceptance.

The contract calls for a $4 average package increase the first year, with $3.50 in wage hikes and 50 cents for pension or welfare purposes. In the second year, there would be a $2.50 pay increase and 50 cents for pension or welfare.

The proposed agreement also provides for a fourth week of vacation after 10 years' service, instead of 12 under the old two-year pact which expired last midnight. The Guild also received a $7 package raise in the old contract.

Other provisions were not immediately announced.

Guild top minimums under the old contract ranged from $58 a week for office boys to $160.50 for reporters and photographers.

Professional Men Finding It Tough To Leave Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government is making flight from Cuba difficult for the Cuban professional men and technicians needed to keep the economy running.

The list of those who must get special permits to go abroad has been lengthened. It reportedly now includes all government employes, executives of newly nationalized businesses, engineers, physicians, petroleum specialists and bank officers.

Trained men have been leaving Cuba in large numbers as the economy has been subjected to more and more government control.

Technicians from the seized Shell, Esso Standard and Texaco oil refineries, now operated by the government petroleum monopoly, are among those who got away.

"It's beginning to pinch," one Cuban professional man said. "That's why Castro is imposing new restrictions on travel for many classes of people."

Six persons, apparently all Cubans, were taken off a Cubana Airlines plane Monday before it was allowed to leave for Miami.

The word "Mosaic" when capitalized, pertains to Moses, the Biblical leader of the Israelites, or the writings and institutions attributed to him. The uncapitalized "mosaic" is a picture or decoration made of small pieces of colored glass, stone, etc., inlaid to form a design.

New Procedure Slated To Obtain Licenses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 50,000 real estate brokers and salesmen will go through a new procedure to obtain licenses. Department of Commerce Director John Bush said real estate men applying for their annual licenses will fill out a single form which will be transferred to date processing cards. All licenses will be issued through the central data computing system under an arrangement with the Department of Finance.

Bush said it will take approximately one week to obtain new licenses, compared with four or five months under the present system. The number of forms to be completed will decrease from seven to one.

Man Arrested In Bid To Kill With Spear Gun

SECAUCUS, N.J. (AP)—A man was arrested Monday night after allegedly trying to destroy a love rival with a spear gun.

Henry C. Von Hassel, 26, was charged with attempted murder. Police said he fired a spear gun commonly used for underwater fishing at Robert Muller, also 26, but that it hit the fender of Muller's car.

Von Hassel allegedly accused Muller of dating Von Hassel's wife. Muller is also married.

Students In Mock Election Vote In Favor Of Nixon

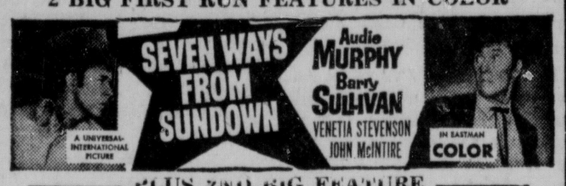

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Students participating in a mock election in 35 high schools in various sections of Ohio gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate, 12,317 votes to 10,795 for Sen. John F. Kennedy, his Democratic opponent.

Results of the balloting last Tuesday were announced Monday by Bob Pressman, student council president at Ashtabula Harbor High School who served as chairman of "Operation Democracy," the election project believed to be the first of its kind in the country.

The Ashtabula school served as state headquarters for the mock election in which 120 schools were invited to participate.

Voters in southern Ohio schools gave Nixon 70 per cent of the vote while Kennedy received 51 per cent of the vote in northern schools.

To Ask Waiver Of Suspension

Airline Seeks OK To Fly Crash Victims To Homes

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The head of Arctic Pacific, Inc., says he will try to get a waiver of the suspension of the firm's flying certificate so it can fly the bodies of 22 victims of a plane crash here to their homes.

James Springer, president of the airline which operated the crashed plane, said Monday night he had not been given a specific reason for the government's suspension order.

The Oakland, Calif., firm operates three aircraft in addition to the one that crashed, including a C46 parked at Toledo Express Airport.

Nineteen of the dead lived in California. Two were from Elkton, Md., and one lived in Chicago.

They were killed Saturday night when a charter flight, attempting a takeoff at the Toledo airport in a heavy fog, crashed and burned. The aircraft carried 48 persons, including the California Polytechnic College (San Luis Obispo) football team. Sixteen of the dead were members of the team.

In announcing the suspension order in Washington Monday, E. R. Quesada, federal aviation administrator, said that circumstances of the crash "indicate a gross disregard for public safety and the regulations of the Federal Aviation Agency."

Springer, here to arrange transportation for the victims' bodies, countered that "the facts brought out by the investigation will not indicate anything of that severe a nature."

A spokesman for Quesada in Washington declined Monday night to explain the nature of Arctic Pacific's actions that might constitute "gross disregard" of public safety or warrant immediate suspension of the airline's flying certificate.

Several hours after the FAA issued its suspension order it was learned in Washington that the agency last week had ordered the owners of C46s to have their planes inspected to determine whether certain wing bolts need replacement.

The inspection order was issued at the recommendation of the Civil Aeronautics Board on the basis of the board's investigation of a C46 crash near Plain City, Utah, Oct. 15 in which two men were killed. CAB investigators said a wing came off in the Utah crash, apparently from failure of a bolt in the outer wing attachment.

Springer said he hoped to get a waiver of the suspension order so the C46 waiting here could transport the victims' bodies.

Survivors of the crash said the plane wobbled on takeoff and that one engine failed. Springer said the 15-year - old plane had been completely overhauled about 18 months ago. The aircraft underwent a routine FAA check before it left Oakland last week, he added.

Capt. Donald G. Chesser of San Leandro, Calif., the pilot, talked to the control tower before attempting a takeoff after the plane had waited on the runway about 45 minutes. Details of the conversation were turned over to investigators who declined to make it public.

Landings at the airport had been restricted for about two hours before the disaster and commercial airlines had cancelled flights to and from Toledo because of the fog.

John M. Cyrocki of the Civil Aeronautics Board said preparation of a report on the crash may take several weeks. The CAB is "not in a position to guess" what caused the crash, he said.

Dr. Harry F. Mignerey, deputy coroner of Lucas County, said 16 of the 22 victims died in the fire that followed the crash. Each of the 16 suffered some injuries, but none fatal, he explained.

It was learned, however, that the pilot died of crash injuries. His body was not burned, indicating he was thrown clear of the wreckage.

The co-pilot, Howard Perovich of Oakland, Calif., suffered minor injuries in the crash and died in the flames.

The stewardess, Mrs. Richard Miller, 34, of Seattle, Wash., was the only surviving member of the plane crew.

Adventists' New Minister Came From Cincinnati

Lyle G. Euler, formerly of Cincinnati, has assumed his duties as pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, succeeding Pastor Elmon H. Roy, who is now serving at Coudersport, Pa.

He was pastor of the Hamlet church and associate pastor of the Cincinnati District. He previously served as associate pastor of the Bucyrus-Marion-Galion Upper Sandusky District and also of the Warren - Youngstown - Fowler District. He also was principal of the Seventh-day Adventist Junior Academies, 10-grade church schools, at Dayton and Kalamazoo, Mich. He was graduated from the Emmanuel Missionary College at Berrien Springs, Mich., with a B.A. degree.

Pastor Euler was born at Portage, near Bowling Green. His wife is the former Yvonne Wolfe of Toledo. They have a son, Gary, 9, and a daughter, Brenda Sue, 7.

Pastor Euler will join Ohio clergymen and Bible instructors of the denomination for a one-day planning session Thursday at Mt. Vernon.

Operations At Hospital Are Delayed By Vandals

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—Operations at Brown Memorial Hospital were delayed Monday by vandals who turned on fire hydrants in several sections of the city. Mrs. Dorcas Martin, hospital administrator, said surgery was delayed because there was no water for sterilization. She said there was no water pressure on the first two floors of the hospital.

The water department said some areas were flooded when six hydrants were turned on. Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars. Police Chief Jack Sanford speculated it was the work of vandals 16 or older because a car was needed to cover such a wide area.

Television Election Counters

The electronic seers will take over from the poll takers on election night, next Tuesday. Their names are Ramac 305, IBM 7090, RCA 501 and Univac, and they're wiser than Solomon, or Walter Cronkite, Chet Huntley and John Daly put together. As a matter of fact, any of these electronic brains would have made Einstein look like a member of the Jukes family, and if they don't blow any of their countless tubes (as Univac did once), they'll be telling viewers the name of the next president of the United States reasonably early Tuesday night.

Marie Torre

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE to give more than an approximate time, not because the networks are unaware of each machine's ability to spew forth the accurate answer, but because of the top-level secrecy that hovers over each of the giant computers.

As a CBS man said about IBM 7090, "we can't let out any more information about the machine because it could be duplicated by a competitor in time for the election."

There's no muzzle, however, on network braggadocio anent the capabilities of the machine.

At RCA, for example, they say that the 501 will offer, scant hours after the first returns are in, not a "prediction," but a "projection."

-:-

"A 'PREDICTION,'" explains 501's manager, Arthur A. Katz, "implies the intangible; sort of a blending together of facts, guesswork, and, too often, partiality.

"A 'projection,' in this case is literally just that. We intend to project, by way of the world's most modern electronic data processing system, something which will certainly be happening, and therefore can be projected quickly and accurately."

As Mr. Katz further notes, there's nothing about the RCA 501 that is "emotional." (Thank heavens, we say! There is at least one thing we humans can call our own.)

-:-

"WE HAVE FED into 501 a vast and unprecedented number of cold facts concerning virtually every aspect of the electorate and its voting habits.

"In other words, before the election, the machine will have in its 'memory' facts on the voting behavior and other essential data with which to project what can be expected to happen in the Middle West and Far West on a basis of how Eastern rural and urban sections are voting.

"The early returns, no matter how early, will represent the only ingredient needed to begin projecting the result."

CBS will rely on both Ramac 305 and IBM 7090 for its computer coverage on election night, while ABC will go along with Univac and Total Board.

And, oh yes, there will be some humans, too, on network platforms that night—notably Walter Cronkite for CBS, Chet Huntley and Dave Brinkley for NBC, and John Daly for ABC!

POLLY BERGEN, who lives in a showplace apartment on 5th Ave., received "Person to Person" cameras Saturday for a taped program to be shown on Dec. 8. . . .

The five CBS-owned television stations in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia and St. Louis are distributing (free of charge) excellent election guides, containing information on local political races and congressional district. The guides are being made available to some 672 institutions, including schools, Republican and Democratic headquarters, congressmen, the League of Women Voters, the American Heritage Foundation, and community leaders. . . .

Seeing Brendan Behan, the enfant terrible of the Irish literary set, on "The Jack Paar Show," reminded us that as recently as Sept. 7 Behan was quoted as saying to this reporter: "Before I left Ireland, I was invited by letter to appear on 'The Jack Paar Show,' for a fee of $321. Well, I didn't want to break Mr. Paar, so I said no. My standard of living is higher than Mr. Paar's." It's assumed either that Mr. Behan changed his mind, or that Paar has increased the fee.

Election Planned By Ceramic Unit

The Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society will elect officers for 1961 at a meeting Nov. 8 at 8:15 p. m. at Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh.

The nominees are: James B. Allardice, for chairman-elect; J. Thomas Markham, vice chairman; E. D. Miller, secretary, and W. B. Midgette, treasurer. Present officers are: Edwin Ruh, chairman; F. H. McRitchie, chairman-elect; Allardice, vice chairman; J. T. Markham, secretary, and Midgette, treasurer.

The nominating committee was comprised of Ralph Gibson, chairman, Keith Koppmeyer, George Reuning and Ruh.

The meeting will follow dinner at 6:30 at Stouffer's Restaurant in Oakland. Principal speaker will be J. J. Krochmal, senior project engineer of the ceramics and graphite branch of the metals and ceramics laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

Judge Asks Outside Jurist In Bribery Trial

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Judge Harry Britten wants a judge from some other county on the common pleas bench when Con Ison, Clermont County commissioner, goes on trial on a bribery charge.

Judge Britten wrote Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court Monday, saying:

"The case here is of public interest in the extent that an outside judge should be appointed. . . ."

Ison, a Democrat who seeks reelection Nov. 8, was indicted on four counts charging he accepted bribes totaling $1,950 from county builders.

He is due to go on trial Nov. 28. Judge Darrell Hittle of common pleas court in adjoining Highland County, has presided in all actions in the Ison case heretofore.

Midland Drive Raises $87 To Assist UNICEF

Some $87.50 was collected for UNICEF in a door-to-door canvass of Midland residents Sunday by the Christian Youth Fellowship of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches. Mrs. Jack Haggerty, an advisor, said.

The Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center gave a $10 check from dance proceeds Saturday night as a donation to UNICEF.

The fellowship is made up of two groups of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches and the annual drive is one of its projects. Sponsors or advisors of the group are Allen Haggerty, Mrs. Haggerty, Mrs. John McNeillie and Mrs. Robert Fetterman.

Cincinnati Police Cite Halloween Vandalism

CINCINNATI (AP) — Halloween pranks are turning to vandalism increasingly in Greater Cincinnati, police report. A dozen more car owners reported the vehicles smeared with paint Monday and police arrested four teen-agers they said took part in similar vandalism.

In Kenton County, Ky., four bridges were set afire, highway signs were torn down and at least one big tree was felled across a road, blocking it to traffic. Cincinnati police reported parked cars damaged in other ways than paint smears, a half dozen false fire usual soap daubings on plate glass windows.

The four largest countries of the world, in order, are U. S. S. R., China, Canada, and Brazil.

On Calm All Saints Day

Ambushes Six Years Ago Launched Algerian Revolt

ALGIERS (AP)—It was a calm, sunny All Saints' Day six years ago today, and a young French teacher in the east Algerian village of Tiefelfel decided to take his pretty wife on a holiday trip to the neighboring town of Arris.

Guy Monnerot, 26, and his wife, 21, had been in Algeria only a few weeks. Shortly after 9 a.m. they boarded a wheezing bus crowded with Moslems for the bumpy ride.

As the bus topped a rise, an armed band of 15 Moslems stopped it and made Monneront and his wife get out.

A Moslem jumped from the bus and shouted, "I am an officer in the French Army." A burst of submachinegun fire cut him down. The band then swung its guns toward the French couple.

Mrs. Monnerot, though wounded, lived. But her husband and Ben Hadj Sadok, the Moslem officer in the French army, were the first victims of the Algerian rebellion.

Others died that day in raids on isolated farms and ambushes on lonely roads. Such hit-and-run attacks became a part of the pattern of life in Algeria.

This rebellion is not a war where territories can be neatly outlined on a map. It swirls in secret eddies across the sun-scorched land, a grenade thrown into a packed cafe, a French patrol attack against a nationalist hideout in the mountains.

In a land of nine million Moslems dominated by one million European settlers, it is a slow struggle, hardened by naked hatred, marked by brief, fierce combat.

The French maintain an army of 500,000 men in Algeria but seldom does it enter battle at greater than company strength.

The army of nationalist rebels, is estimated by the French at 35,000. Supplied and trained at bases in Tunisia, just across the border, small bands harrass the French over a territory as large as Texas and Alaska combined.

More than 150,000 persons have lost their lives. Neither side seems able to win a permanent victory. The French hold the cities and most of the countryside in daytime. But despite a vast military operation that costs the French $2 million a day, it is not safe to wander in the countryside after dusk.

The echoes go far beyond Africa. In May 1958, the army and French settlers, fed up with a government that could not crush the rebellion, revolted in Algiers and toppled the Fourth French Republic.

Now, because he has not been able to halt the bloodletting, opposition is growing against the man that upheaval brought to power, Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

De Gaulle has promised to allow the Algerians to choose their own future once peace is restored. But he has been unable to negotiate a cease-fire with the suspicious rebel leadership.

On the other hand he is beset by frustrated countrymen—ranging from rightwingers determined to keep Algeria French at all cost, to moderates and leftwingers anxious to see an end to the war even if the Algerians choose freedom.

24 Clergymen Rap Assertion Catholic Shouldn't Be Chief

BOSTON (AP)—A group of 24 Unitarian and Universalist clergymen said in a statement today "the assertion that no Roman Catholic should be president of the United States, irrespective of his record and views, is an affront to all true Americans and to the Constitution."

The statement bore the names of its signers in alphabetical order, headed by that of Dr. James Luther Adams, professor of Christian ethics, Harvard Divinity School.

It bore the names of clergymen in Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and Wisconsin, including the Rev. Melvin C. Van de Workeen, assistant to the general superintendent, Universalist Church of America.

Discussion of the issues and their implications "is an obligation for all citizens in a Democracy and it may not properly be dismissed or discouraged by the claim that it bespeaks bigotry," the statement said. "The charge of bigotry is all too often simply an attempt to suppress free discussion of the issues bearing upon the relations between church and state.

"We are committed to the principle of separation of church and state and to the religious pluralism of the American tradition of freedom. We therefore reject every attempt on the part of the clergy or of churches to instruct their members as to how they should cast their ballots for candidates in a political election. We believe that, in accordance with the American ideal, each candidate should be judged on the merits of his own actions, past and present, and his public statements."

Among the signers were:

The Rev. Benjamin H. Clark, Marietta, Ohio; The Rev. John Evans, Columbus, Ohio; the Rev. Angus MacLean, Cleveland, Ohio; the Rev. David C. Pohl, Cleveland, Ohio; the Rev. Frank Schulman, Youngstown, Ohio, and the Rev. Emerson Schwenk, Unitarian Society, Cleveland, Ohio.

Trucker Cleared In Traffic Case, Insurance Fraud

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati trucker has won annulment of a traffic conviction in which he was apparently victim of an insurance racket.

Judge Clarence Denning in Traffic Court Monday ordered refund of a $15 fine against the driver, Joseph Haus, 48, and set aside the conviction on a charge of changing lanes improperly.

Haus had been charged last Oct. 11 after the tractor-trailer he was driving collided with a passenger car.

Jesse Loveless, 25, driver of the car, and five other men have been arrested since the incident and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Police said they used old autos to maneuver deliberately into collision with big trucks and buses, to collect on accident insurance claims.

Police said Monday officers have already dug up about 75 cases where names of the six arrested men appear either as claimants to insurance or witnesses to accidents.

Trial of the six is planned Nov. 10.

Judge Denning said other persons convicted in cases involving the six can seek new trials and having their driving records cleared.

The typical American league bowler's average score is 154, according to the American Bowling Congress.

Television Election Counters

The electronic seers will take over from the poll takers on election night, next Tuesday. Their names are Ramac 305, IBM 7090, RCA 501 and Univac, and they're wiser than Solomon, or Walter Cronkite, Chet Huntley and John Daly put together. As a matter of fact, any of these electronic brains would have made Einstein look like a member of the Jukes family, and if they don't blow any of their countless tubes (as Univac did once), they'll be telling viewers the name of the next president of the United States reasonably early Tuesday night.

Marie Torre

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE to give more than an approximate time, not because the networks are unaware of each machine's ability to spew forth the accurate answer, but because of the top-level secrecy that hovers over each of the giant computers.

As a CBS man said about IBM 7090, "we can't let out any more information about the machine because it could be duplicated by a competitor in time for the election."

There's no muzzle, however, on network braggadocio anent the capabilities of the machine.

At RCA, for example, they say that the 501 will offer, scant hours after the first returns are in, not a "prediction," but a "projection."

-:-

"A 'PREDICTION,'" explains 501's manager, Arthur A. Katz, "implies the intangible; sort of a blending together of facts, guesswork, and, too often, partiality.

"A 'projection,' in this case is literally just that. We intend to project, by way of the world's most modern electronic data processing system, something which will certainly be happening, and therefore can be projected quickly and accurately."

As Mr. Katz further notes, there's nothing about the RCA 501 that is "emotional." (Thank heavens, we say! There is at least one thing we humans can call our own.)

-:-

"WE HAVE FED into 501 a vast and unprecedented number of cold facts concerning virtually every aspect of the electorate and its voting habits.

"In other words, before the election, the machine will have in its 'memory' facts on the voting behavior and other essential data with which to project what can be expected to happen in the Middle West and Far West on a basis of how Eastern rural and urban sections are voting.

"The early returns, no matter how early, will represent the only ingredient needed to begin projecting the result."

CBS will rely on both Ramac 305 and IBM 7090 for its computer coverage on election night, while ABC will go along with Univac and Total Board.

And, oh yes, there will be some humans, too, on network platforms that night—notably Walter Cronkite for CBS, Chet Huntley and Dave Brinkley for NBC, and John Daly for ABC!

POLLY BERGEN, who lives in a showplace apartment on 5th Ave., received "Person to Person" cameras Saturday for a taped program to be shown on Dec. 8. . . .

The five CBS-owned television stations in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia and St. Louis are distributing (free of charge) excellent election guides, containing information on local political races and congressional district. The guides are being made available to some 672 institutions, including schools, Republican and Democratic headquarters, congressmen, the League of Women Voters, the American Heritage Foundation, and community leaders. . . .

Seeing Brendan Behan, the enfant terrible of the Irish literary set, on "The Jack Paar Show," reminded us that as recently as Sept. 7 Behan was quoted as saying to this reporter: "Before I left Ireland, I was invited by letter to appear on 'The Jack Paar Show,' for a fee of $321. Well, I didn't want to break Mr. Paar, so I said no. My standard of living is higher than Mr. Paar's." It's assumed either that Mr. Behan changed his mind, or that Paar has increased the fee.

Election Planned By Ceramic Unit

The Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society will elect officers for 1961 at a meeting Nov. 8 at 8:15 p. m. at Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh.

The nominees are: James B. Allardice, for chairman-elect; J. Thomas Markham, vice chairman; E. D. Miller, secretary, and W. B. Midgette, treasurer. Present officers are: Edwin Ruh, chairman; F. H. McRitchie, chairman-elect; Allardice, vice chairman; J. T. Markham, secretary, and Midgette, treasurer.

The nominating committee was comprised of Ralph Gibson, chairman, Keith Koppmeyer, George Reuning and Ruh.

The meeting will follow dinner at 6:30 at Stouffer's Restaurant in Oakland. Principal speaker will be J. J. Krochmal, senior project engineer of the ceramics and graphite branch of the metals and ceramics laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

Judge Asks Outside Jurist In Bribery Trial

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Judge Harry Britten wants a judge from some other county on the common pleas bench when Con Ison, Clermont County commissioner, goes on trial on a bribery charge.

Judge Britten wrote Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court Monday, saying:

"The case here is of public interest in the extent that an outside judge should be appointed. . . ."

Ison, a Democrat who seeks reelection Nov. 8, was indicted on four counts charging he accepted bribes totaling $1,950 from county builders.

He is due to go on trial Nov. 28.

Judge Darrell Hittle of common pleas court in adjoining Highland County, has presided in all actions in the Ison case heretofore.

Midland Drive Raises $87 To Assist UNICEF

Some $87.50 was collected for UNICEF in a door-to-door canvass of Midland residents Sunday by the Christian Youth Fellowship of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches. Mrs. Jack Haggerty, an advisor, said.

The Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center gave a $10 check from dance proceeds Saturday night as a donation to UNICEF.

The fellowship is made up of two groups of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches and the annual drive is one of its projects. Sponsors or advisors of the group are Allen Haggerty, Mrs. Haggerty, Mrs. John McNellie and Mrs. Robert Fetterman.

Cincinnati Police Cite Halloween Vandalism

CINCINNATI (AP) — Halloween pranks are turning to vandalism increasingly in Greater Cincinnati, police report. A dozen more car owners reported the vehicles smeared with paint Monday and police arrested four teen-agers they said took part in similar vandalism.

In Kenton County, Ky., four bridges were set afire, highway signs were torn down and at least one big tree was felled across a road, blocking it to traffic. Cincinnati police reported parked cars damaged in other ways than paint smears, a half dozen false fire usual soap daubings on plate glass windows.

The four largest countries of the world, in order, are U. S. S. R., China, Canada, and Brazil.

On Calm All Saints Day

Ambushes Six Years Ago Launched Algerian Revolt

ALGIERS (AP)—It was a calm, sunny All Saints' Day six years ago today, and a young French teacher in the east Algerian village of Tiefelfel decided to take his pretty wife on a holiday trip to the neighboring town of Arris.

Guy Monnerot, 26, and his wife, 21, had been in Algeria only a few weeks. Shortly after 9 a.m. they boarded a wheezing bus crowded with Moslems for the bumpy ride.

As the bus topped a rise, an armed band of 15 Moslems stopped it and made Monneront and his wife get out.

A Moslem jumped from the bus and shouted, "I am an officer in the French Army." A burst of submachinegun fire cut him down. The band then swung its guns toward the French couple.

Mrs. Monnerot, though wounded, lived. But her husband and Ben Hadj Sadok, the Moslem officer in the French army, were the first victims of the Algerian rebellion.

Others died that day in raids on isolated farms and ambushes on lonely roads. Such hit-and-run attacks became a part of the pattern of life in Algeria.

This rebellion is not a war where territories can be neatly outlined on a map. It swirls in secret eddies across the sun-scorched land, a grenade thrown into a packed cafe, a French patrol attack against a nationalist hideout in the mountains.

In a land of nine million Moslems dominated by one million European settlers, it is a slow struggle, hardened by naked hatred, marked by brief, fierce combat.

The French maintain an army of 500,000 men in Algeria but seldom does it enter battle at greater than company strength.

The army of nationalist rebels, is estimated by the French at 35,000. Supplied and trained at bases in Tunisia, just across the border, small bands harrass the French over a territory as large as Texas and Alaska combined.

More than 150,000 persons have lost their lives. Neither side seems able to win a permanent victory. The French hold the cities and most of the countryside in daytime. But despite a vast military operation that costs the French $2 million a day, it is not safe to wander in the countryside after dusk.

The echoes go far beyond Africa. In May 1958, the army and French settlers, fed up with a government that could not crush the rebellion, revolted in Algiers and toppled the Fourth French Republic.

Now, because he has not been able to halt the bloodletting, opposition is growing against the man that upheaval brought to power, Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

De Gaulle has promised to allow the Algerians to choose their own future once peace is restored. But he has been unable to negotiate a cease-fire with the suspicious rebel leadership.

On the other hand he is beset by frustrated countrymen—ranging from rightwingers determined to keep Algeria French at all cost, to moderates and leftwingers anxious to see an end to the war even if the Algerians choose freedom.

24 Clergymen Rap Assertion Catholic Shouldn't Be Chief

BOSTON (AP)—A group of 24 Unitarian and Universalist clergymen said in a statement today "the assertion that no Roman Catholic should be president of the United States, irrespective of his record and views, is an affront to all true Americans and to the Constitution."

The statement bore the names of its signers in alphabetical order, headed by that of Dr. James Luther Adams, professor of Christian ethics, Harvard Divinity School.

It bore the names of clergymen in Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and Wisconsin, including the Rev. Melvin C. Van de Workeen, assistant to the general superintendent, Universalist Church of America.

Discussion of the issues and their implications "is an obligation for all citizens in a Democracy and it may not properly be dismissed or discouraged by the claim that it bespeaks bigotry," the statement said. "The charge of bigotry is all too often simply an attempt to suppress free discussion of the issues bearing upon the relations between church and state.

"We are committed to the principle of separation of church and state and to the religious pluralism of the American tradition of freedom. We therefore reject every attempt on the part of the clergy or of churches to instruct their members as to how they should cast their ballots for candidates in a political election. We believe that, in accordance with the American ideal, each candidate should be judged on the merits of his own actions, past and present, and his public statements."

Among the signers were:

Trucker Cleared In Traffic Case, Insurance Fraud

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati trucker has won annulment of a traffic conviction in which he was apparently victim of an insurance racket.

Judge Clarence Denning in Traffic Court Monday ordered refund of a $15 fine against the driver, Joseph Haus, 48, and set aside the conviction on a charge of changing lanes improperly.

Haus had been charged last Oct. 11 after the tractor-trailer he was driving collided with a passenger car.

Jesse Loveless, 25, driver of the car, and five other men have been arrested since the incident and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Police said they used old autos to maneuver deliberately into collision with big trucks and buses, to collect on accident insurance claims.

Police said Monday officers have already dug up about 75 cases where names of the six arrested men appear either as claimants to insurance or witnesses to accidents.

Trial of the six is planned Nov. 10.

Judge Denning said other persons convicted in cases involving the six can seek new trials and having their driving records cleared.

The typical American league bowler's average score is 154, according to the American Bowling Congress.
